

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, }
 OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE. } ss.

I, Daniel E. Soper, Secretary of State of the State of Michigan, do hereby certify that I have compared the annexed and foregoing list of all the members elect of the House of Representatives of the State of Michigan, for the years 1890 and 1891, with the original returns as transmitted to me by the clerks of the various counties of the State, and that it is a true and correct list.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the great seal of the State of Michigan, at Lansing, this 2d day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand, eight hundred and ninety-one.

[L. S.]

DANIEL E. SOPER,
Secretary of State.

All of whom were found present except Rowland Connor of Saginaw county.

During the calling of the roll when the name of Devere Hall, member-elect from the Ogemaw representative district was reached, Mr. Cook, of the first district of Muskegon county, arose in his place and presented the protest of Eugene Kiely against the administration of the oath to Mr. Hall.

The following is the protest:

To the Honorable Daniel L. Crossman, Clerk of the House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

SIR—I protest against the administration of the oath of office to Devere Hall as a Representative in the State Legislature and against his admission to a seat in the House of Representatives for the following reasons, to wit:

First, That the registration of electors in the township of Comins in Oscoda county was illegal and void.

Second, For the reason that such influence was exercised on election day at said election held in the township of Comins that the electors were unable to reap the full benefit and advantage of Act No. 263 of the Session Laws of 1889 entitled, "An Act to prescribe the manner of and to prevent fraud and deception at general elections."

Third, For the reason that electors were allowed to vote who were not registered in compliance with the law at said election held Nov. 4, 1890.

Fourth, For the reason that ballots cast at said election held in said township of Comins, and other townships hereinafter mentioned, were not counted and filed in the manner provided by law.

Fifth, For the reason that the tickets and slips for pasters, which were hung up in strict compliance with the provisions of Section 21 of said Act No. 263 of the Session Laws of 1889, were taken from the place where they were so hung, and carried away, with the full knowledge of the board of inspectors, in violation of section eleven of said Act No. 263, and that said board of inspectors did not cause a new supply of tickets and slips for pasters to be replaced, so that tickets and slips for pasters were on deposit and hung up during the entire time that the polls were open, in compliance with Section twenty-one (21) of said Act No. 263.

Sixth, For the reason that in violation of the provisions of said act more than one elector was allowed at one and the same time inside of the inclosure and booths erected at said election in said township, thereby defeating the purposes of said Act No. 263 of the Session Laws of 1889.

Seventh, For the further reason that the enclosure and booths erected at the polling place where said election was held in said township of Comins were not erected and built in strict compliance with the provisions of section twenty (20) of said act aforesaid, there being no fence or railing built through and across the center of the room as required by said section and act aforesaid.

Eighth, And for the reason that fraud and deception was generally practiced at said election in said township.

Ninth, For the further reason that persons of foreign birth who had never declared their intention to become citizens of the United States were permitted to register their names as voters in said township of Comins, and that such persons after being so registered were permitted to vote at said election, and that persons voted at said election who were not legal residents of said township of Comins.

Tenth, For the reason that there was no legal registration in the township of Maple Forest, in Crawford County (the same being in the Ogemaw representative district).

Eleventh, For the further reason that in said township of Maple Forest electors were allowed to vote who were not legally registered.

Twelfth, For the reason that in said township of Maple Forest aforesaid at said election held Nov. 4, 1890, in violation of the provisions of Sec. number twenty (20) of Act No. 263, Session Laws of 1889, more than one elector was allowed at one and the same time inside of the inclosure and booths erected at said polling place.

Thirteenth, For the reason that the inspectors of election, to wit: the supervisor left his place on the board on several occasions and entered the booth when electors were preparing their ballots, and upon several occasions said supervisor advised and tried to persuade electors to change their tickets and vote for persons whom he, said supervisor, was desirous of having elected.

Fourteenth, For the reason that the supervisor, one of the inspectors of election so held as aforesaid, was intoxicated and incompetent to perform the duty of an inspector of election upon said occasion and that other members of the board of inspectors at said election were under the influence of liquor while pretending to discharge the duty of inspectors of election at said election.

Fifteenth, And for the further reason that tickets and slips for posters were not kept on deposit and hung up after a supply had been exhausted and carried away with full knowledge of the board of inspectors.

Sixteenth, And for the further reason that in the township of Grove in said county of Crawford (being in said Ogemaw representative district) there was no meeting of the board of registration on the Saturday preceding the day of election and that electors were permitted to register on election day without taking the oath required by law.

Seventeenth, For the reason that the election held in the township of Grove aforesaid, was illegal and void for the reason that there was no legally constituted board of inspectors at said election. The person who was appointed to act as clerk of said Board did not take the oath prescribed by Sec. 3 of said Act No. 263.

Eighteenth, And that the ballot box at said election so held in Grove township aforesaid was not sealed as provided by Sec. 15 of said Act aforesaid when said board of inspectors adjourned at noon, and the poll-lists used were not deposited in the ballot box at said adjournment.

Nineteenth, For the reason that persons were permitted to vote at said election so held as aforesaid who were not residents of the township or State.

Twentieth, For the reason that persons were permitted to vote at said election whose names did not appear upon the registration roll of said township of Grove.

The total vote as reported for Mr. Hall was fourteen hundred and twenty and for your contestant thirteen hundred and eighty-six, so that by the rejection of illegal votes your contestant has a large majority and he therefore is entitled to the seat. He therefore prays for an investigation of the aforesaid and that he may be declared elected.

Respectfully yours,

EUGENE KIELY,

Protestant.

The clerk announced that the protest would be received and referred to the committee on elections, when appointed.

The oath of office having been duly administered to the members elect present, by the clerk of the last House,

On motion of Mr. Lowden the House took a recess until 2:30 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

2:30 o'clock P. M.

The House met and was called to order by the Clerk.

Mr. Marion moved that indefinite leave of absence be granted to Mr. Henze on account of sickness.

The Clerk announced that the next business in order was the election of a Speaker.

The Clerk announced that Philip B. Wachtel, having received a majority of all the votes cast for the office of Speaker, was duly elected Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Mr. A. F. Furguson moved that a committee of three be appointed to wait on the Speaker elect and conduct him to the chair.

The Clerk announced as such committee Messrs. A. F. Furguson, Richardson, and Diekema.

The committee then performed the duty assigned them, and the Speaker elect on assuming the chair, addressed the House as follows:

Gentlemen of the House:

For the honor which you have conferred upon me in electing me to this high position among you, I desire to return my heartfelt thanks. To be worthy of the confidence you have shown, to use the power conferred with strictest impartiality; to discharge the duties imposed with wisdom, and to direct your sessions with a proper dignity, shall be, I assure you, my constant effort. Nor is it trite for me to beg your patience and kindly aid and bespeak mutual sympathy and helpfulness in the discharge of the business that is to come before us.

The work we have to do is of the most serious and important nature. We may well summon to our aid the very best powers with which we are endowed. It is no mean thing nor any trifling task to undertake the legislation of this great State. Countless interests are at stake. Large trust is placed within our keeping and grave issues shall result from our administration.

Perhaps no state in the Union presents more varied resources to be developed, more far-reaching interests to be protected, from its treasures of copper, iron and gold in the north to its pastures and orchards in the south, from its salt and saw-dust to its commerce and husbandry. Here is a State most highly favored, most richly blessed, peopled with happy and prosperous communities; and in all this surely we shall find inspiration for faithful service.

Allow me a single word of warning. Questions of greatest importance demanding impartial and unprejudiced hearing will come before us. We will find ourselves subjected to great pressure from outside influences. Such influence is right and good when confined to proper channels. In the various committee rooms will be afforded fullest opportunity for the presentation of all facts and opinions bearing on any measure. Therefore let no private or personal lobbying warp our judgment or commit us to any actions that we might afterwards regret. But on the contrary preserve inviolate that freedom of position and strict impartiality of judgment which our constituency have a right to expect and which shall secure wise and just legislation from our hands. It has unfortunately become of late years the fashion to ridicule all legislation and to so insinuate regarding it that it has seemed hardly desirable or a fortunate thing to be a Representative.

Now, however merited or unmerited such criticism has been in the past, let me emphasize for this session the real honor, dignity and importance of this legislative government of which we are a part. Let us prove that what I have said is not mere sentiment and let us make it our business to remove all stigma by our own faithfulness and dignity. Let us see to it that not only does our office honor us, but that we honor the offices to which we have been called by the suffrages of the people. Those who have criticised so bitterly the long sessions should be reminded of the constantly increasing interests that arise for consideration owing to the rapid growth and development of our beautiful State. It must of necessity take longer each year to compass the business of this body, and that this is true is one of the hopeful signs of progress and prosperity among us. Our fathers dispatched the business of such legislation more quickly, simply because there was less business to dispatch.

So let us make haste slowly. Still let us make haste, for the people have spoken. Political parties have publicly declared for shorter sessions. In justice to this voice of the people let there be no obstructive policy or useless delay. The influence of the chair will continually be toward a prompt, vigorous and businesslike dispatch of all matters coming before us. Finally, let me urge you to that wise, broad and far-seeing legislation which is true statesmanship, avoiding all that might be blinded by prejudice or narrowed by sectionalism. Let us be faithful at once to our constituency and to our State, so shall the session of 1891 be made historic because of the dignity, honor and worth of its work.

The Speaker announced that the election of a Chief Clerk was the next business in order, and the roll being called the members voted as follows:

The Speaker announced that Lyman A. Brant, having received a majority of all the votes cast for Chief Clerk, he was duly elected Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

In response to a demand from the House,
Mr. Brant remarked as follows:

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen:

It is not the first time I have stood in this House clothed with official duties. A member of the House of 1883 and 1885, the few of my colleagues who are here today will bear me witness that I never made a speech of ten minutes during those sessions. It may be that what esteem I secured was due to this. I shall say but little today, but to thank my friends for the liberal support they have given me, and to assure the members of the House that it will be my endeavor to so conduct the duties of my position as to secure the approval of all you gentlemen. Under the administration of my predecessor, a high standard of excellence was established. I will endeavor with all my might to assist in the expedition of the business of the session, which the people of our great and glorious State I believe expect.

The President announced that the two houses had met in joint convention to receive any communication which the retiring and incoming Governors might be pleased to make.

Retiring Governor Luce then read his message as follows:

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:

Although no longer discharging the duties or assuming the responsibilities of the Executive Office, I am, by the provisions of the Constitution, required to give to you information by message of the condition of the State, and to recommend such measures as are deemed expedient; and in discharging this duty I shall confine myself more particularly to giving to you such information as four years of close and intimate relations with the affairs of State and its institutions have enabled me to obtain, leaving the recommendations largely to my successor, who is for the next constitutional term to share with you the responsibilities of the laws enacted, and to discharge Executive duties.

You assemble under pleasant and favorable auspices. A kind Providence has smiled upon the efforts of all, during the last year. As a rule our people have enjoyed that choicest of earthly blessings—good, robust health. The fields have yielded bounteously to the touch of the husbandman. Gold, copper and iron mines have given forth bountifully of their buried treasures, and there is a constant increase in the product of the salt wells.

For all of these, and many other blessings, we are devoutly thankful to an all-wise, ever kind, overruling Providence.

INDEBTEDNESS.

For some years ample provision has been made for liquidating the bonded debt, but as all of the bonds had not matured, they were not paid up until within the last year. And now for the first time in our history, we can with pride declare that the last dollar of this class of indebtedness has been paid; the last bond issued by authority of the Legislature has been cancelled. It is true that the State is indebted to the trust funds, consisting of primary school, Normal school, University and Agricultural college. This has been accumulating since the year 1845. Previous to that time the Superintendent of Public Instruction was authorized to loan the money upon real estate security, but through these loans losses were incurred and the Legislature at that early period provided that the money should remain in the treasury and the State become a debtor to these various funds. That policy has been continued from that time until this, and every year through sales of lands and payments for lands previously sold, the fund has increased until now it is over $5,000,000, most of which is drawing interest to the fund at the rate of 7 per cent.

Sufficient amount received from specific taxes was early set apart for the purpose of paying the interest on these funds, and it has always been sacredly devoted to that purpose. The balance of the receipts from specific taxes was devoted to the payment of interest and principal upon the bonded debt, and when the bonds were paid the remainder of the specific taxes, after paying the interest upon the trust funds, is distributed to the several school districts of the State, towards defraying the expenses of the common schools. There is now paid into the treasuries of these school districts about $900,000, per annum, derived from specific taxes.

Of course the money derived from the sale of lands will not increase as rapidly in the future as in the past, because the greater portion of the lands have already been sold.

The present system having been the established policy, for so many years, it is not now thought best to change it, although as an original proposition it might be wise to do so.

ELECTIONS.

All patriotic citizens desire to protect the absolute purity of elections. They desire every opportunity given for each voter to cast his ballot without fear, favor, or other improper means being used to influence him in the discharge of this important duty. Every safeguard should be thrown around the voter to enable him to cast his vote in accordance with his conscience and judgment. To aid in accomplishing this purpose the Legislature of 1889 passed an act prescribing the manner of conducting elections in this State. It is believed that this law has been of value to the voter. The Supreme Court has passed upon and confirmed its constitutionality. It is believed that the main features of the law meet with the approval of the people. It has certainly rendered the use of money at the polls more difficult and hazardous. Some slight amendments should be made to the act. The voter should be required to remain in the booth at least one minute. Some provisions should be made for more rapidly canvassing the ballots. In some states provisions are made for counting as fast as the votes are placed in the box by changing boxes once an hour, so that when the polls are closed the ballots are all counted. It is believed that this would prevent a plan some times adopted, of holding back election returns in some localities until the results in other places are known.

And again, the circulation of tickets at the polls outside the booths should be absolutely prohibited. In many election precincts these measures are not required, but the citizens of such localities will willingly incur some trouble and expense in order to insure the purity of election in places where they are needed.

All of these precautionary measures are recommended in the interest of honest elections, and are submitted to your candid, deliberate judgment for consideration.

TEMPERANCE LEGISLATION.

The Legislature of 1889 passed two very important bills relating to the manufacture, taxation, regulation and prohibition of the business of manufacturing, selling or keeping for sale intoxicating, spirituous or brewed liquors. What is known as the Local Option law has been declared by the Supreme Court, constitutional. No amendments to this act are required. It furnishes counties, who so desire, an opportunity to prohibit the manufacture and sale within their jurisdiction. Van Buren county is the only one that has thus far availed itself of the rights given by this law. There, by a vote of the people, its provisions were adopted and the traffic is now prohibited in that county.

The decision of the Supreme Court was rendered but recently, and it is believed that in this is found the reason why other counties have not called elections under the provisions of the Local Option law.

Another law was passed increasing the tax upon the sale of malt or brewed liquors, from $300 to $500, making the tax the same as upon spirituous liquors. One of the reasons for this increase was found in the belief that the law was evaded and spirituous liquors sold under the malt or brewed liquor tax. A mistake was made in enrolling the bill, and certain provisions were omitted from the enrolled bill, and for this reason the entire act was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court; and I urge upon your attention the propriety of re-enacting the provisions that should have been enrolled in the law of 1889. The same reasons exist now that existed two years ago why this should be done. The evils of intemperance are such that I doubt not this Legislature will, like its predecessor, desire to enact such laws, and adopt such measures as shall reduce these to the minimum.

DISCIPLINE IN STATE PRISONS.

Not only the law but the necessities of the case require the wardens of the State prisons to enforce discipline. Were it otherwise the prisoners might control the prisons and the wardens be subject to their will. Convicts are sentenced to hard labor, and the wardens are directed to enforce the sentences of the courts, and both the legislature and the people require them to do this in the most humane manner possible; and for the purpose of enacting this humane sentiment into the laws of the State, the Legislature in 1875 prohibited punishment by showering with cold water, or whipping with a lash on the bare body. This proviso was enacted because the lash frequently left scars upon the back, and I believe it has been faithfully observed by all our wardens since its enactment. But it has been construed by wardens, legislative committees, and by all the Governors since the enactment of the law, that this did not prohibit, on extreme occasions, the use of the flat strap. The instructions given have been to enforce discipline with the least possible severity. But a case has arisen in the United States Court for the Western District of Michigan, that renders it necessary for the Legislature to more clearly define its meaning in declaring that the lash should not be used.

A very turbulent, fighting convict was strapped in the Ionia House of Correction, for gross and violent conduct, and he claims to have suffered material injury, not directly through the punishment, but by an accident that occurred during the punishment. Upon his release at the expiration of his term, he went to Indiana and commenced suit against the State of Michigan, through the warden of the Ionia House of Correction, for damages. Believing that much importance attached to this decision, in the general discipline of the prisons, the case was defended, but a verdict was rendered against the warden for something over $1,300. The punishment was not inflicted by the Warden himself, but by a subordinate, and it is believed that under no circumstances could the Warden be held personally liable or responsible, and the expenses of the suit were audited and paid by the board, as the suit was virtually against the State.

This is referred to in order to impress upon your minds the importance of defining the meaning of the statute referred to.

CITY AND VILLAGE CHARTERS.

Much valuable time is given by the Legislature to the granting and amending of city and village charters. In 1887 there were 98 bills passed for these purposes; in 1889, 71 bills were passed. I desire to urge upon your attention the propriety and possibility of passing a general law for the incorporation of cities and villages and for amending their charters. If they were classified and certain authority given to cities of the first class embracing a population of a given number, and then for cities of the second class with a population of a given number, and for the third class in the same way; then again for villages of the first, second and third class, it would certainly be in the interest of economy and save much of the time of legislators.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

These have been in active operation in many States of the Union, for years. They have proved of great benefit to the wage earners in different states in our own, as well as in foreign countries. They are of more recent origin in Michigan. In 1887 the Legislature passed an act authorizing their incorporation in this State. Through the encouragement extended by the act, many associations have been formed. Through these, homes have been secured for a large number of our toiling population.

In 1889, for the purpose of further encouraging these associations, and for the purpose of avoiding in this case double taxation, an act was passed exempting from taxation, certificates of stock and all mortgage or other securities held by such associations. This was intended to apply solely and alone to the corporations that were established for the benefit of those referred to. But perhaps because of this exemption associations have been organized and are maintained for the purpose of investment by capitalists, believing that here was a good field where they could safely invest their funds. The question as to whether this is authorized by the act has never been passed upon by competent authority; but if it can be done, the law ought to be amended so as not to exempt this class of investment from taxation.

They are doing something in the nature of a banking business with paid up stock; that is, sufficient amount is paid in at one time to earn the face value of the stock within a given period, and the law should certainly provide for taxing this class of securities, and no complaint is likely to be made because of this amendment.

The same rule of taxation ought to prevail in such cases as is provided for the taxation of bank stock. The reasons for exempting the stock of those who have but a small fraction of it paid for, do not exist where paid up stock is issued.

Then again building and loan associations of all kinds ought to be placed under official examination, so that not only the stockholders but the public may know their exact condition the same as they do the condition of State and national banks. And I recommend that the law be so amended as to tax the investments in these associations where the purpose is for investment only, and that all of them be placed under the examination of the Bank Commissioner of the State. It is believed that there is a general desire on the part of the officers of the several associations to have this done.

There are a large number of building and loan associations organized in other states who are operating in this, and I commend to your careful consideration the subject of providing some security for stockholders here. We do in case of insurance companies and the magnitude of the business being transacted justifies your consideration.

COLLECTION OF DELINQUENT TAXES.

A change in the method of collecting taxes on lands returned to the county treasurer, is commended to your very careful consideration. It is a question that has been much discussed for years, and there seems to be a growing demand for the change.

I can conceive of no good reason for the return of these lands by the County Treasurer to the Auditor General, and by the Auditor General returned to the County Treasurer for sale. I cannot believe that more errors would be committed by having the sale made directly by the County Treasurer, as it is in most of the other states, than under our present system. More errors are made in the return to the supervisor and in the assessment than in any other way, and their going to the Auditor General does not correct these errors. The present system adds largely to the expense. Now the taxes may be paid to the Auditor General or the County Treasurer. Under the change they must necessarily be paid to the latter alone, but this need not embarrass.

If the method is changed, great care should be taken in adjusting the collection of taxes in the newer counties, where so large a per cent is returned delinquent.

SWAMP LANDS.

The questions in controversy to the title to some of these lands between the general and State governments, have not, as yet, been adjusted. The bill is still pending in the House of Representatives which provides for refunding to the State $1.25 per acre for all the lands that were withheld from patent by the general government that the courts have so generally decided belonged to the State.

Two years ago I called the attention of the Legislature to the fact that suits were pending in the Ingham county circuit, to maintain the title of the State to something more than one hundred thousand acres of these disputed lands that were granted to railroad companies and still held by them; and also to a suit that had been brought in the same court to set aside certain patents that I believed were mistakenly issued. One of the suits against the Flint & Pere Marquette Railroad, and the suit brought to set aside the patents referred to, have been decided by the court in favor of the State, and I think both of them have now gone to the Supreme Court for decision.

I repeat what I said in relation to the importance of adjusting these claims, and I very respectfully refer you to the more complete statement then made of the questions involved, and still urge the prosecution of these cases for the same reasons that were then assigned.

FORFEITED RAILROAD LANDS.

In 1856 Congress granted large tracts of lands to aid in the construction of certain railroads in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. Some of these roads have not been constructed. And March 2, 1889, Congress passed an act forfeiting the unearned lands. June 15, 1889, a joint resolution was passed by the Legislature authorizing and empowering the Governor to relinquish the claim of the State to such forfeited lands. The duty was at once entered upon and prosecuted with diligence. But much difficulty was met in identifying the lands.

The Land Office and the office of Secretary of State are the only custodians of the records, plats, maps, etc., of State lands. These offices hastened the work as rapidly as possible, and on the 26th day of September, 1889, a quit-claim was executed to each individual description as furnished me by the Land Office. With some few exceptions I believe the quit-claim embraces all the lands forfeited, and no others.

GETTYSBURG MONUMENTS.

In 1887 the Legislature appropriated $20,000 for the erection of monuments on the Gettysburg Battlefield to the memory of the several Michigan regiments and companies who participated in that historic conflict. In 1889, $8,000 was appropriated for the proper dedication of the monuments. The monuments were completed by the Commission appointed, turned over to the Governor and by him transferred to the Gettysburg Monument Association on the 12th day of June, 1889. The monuments erected compare favorably with those erected by any other state. They mark the location where our cavalry, infantry and artillery were located. They were completed, dedicated and a record of the erection, deeds of the soldiers who fought on that memorable field, as well as descriptive of the monuments themselves, was published from the appropriation.

The Commission, in the discharge of their trust have done it with such fidelity that they have erected a monument to their own honor. A full report is on file in the executive office.

INDETERMINATE SENTENCES.

The Legislature in 1889 enacted a law known as the Indeterminate Sentence act. It provided for the sentencing of violators of the law to prison, without fixing the term of confinement; but provides that no one should be discharged until serving the minimum provided by law, nor be kept beyond the maximum. Several have been sentenced under the provisions of this act, but I think very few have been discharged on parole, so that we cannot as yet determine what its results may be. I believe that no amendment to the law is desirable.

APPEALS TO THE SUPREME AND CIRCUIT COURTS.

Through commendable diligence, the Supreme Court has thus far been able to keep up with the cases presented to it for adjustment, but the rapid increase from term to term admonishes us that the time is not far distant when relief for this court must be sought.

It is difficult even now to give some of the important cases all the attention that the interests involved require. There are many cases of trivial importance coming to that court where even the winning party is a loser by bringing his case to the Supreme Court for decision. These are sometimes carried up out of spite or malice; sometimes possibly for the purpose of securing delay. There is also an increase in the number of cases that are brought up on a mandamus or other writs, to compel officers to discharge frequently their most direct and simple duty. I believe in the interests of litigants and the public the court appreciates the great importance of clearing its calendar every term, and it has worked with great industry to accomplish this purpose.

In the interest of the people, as well as the court, I earnestly recommend an amendment to the law of appeals; so that no case where constitutional rights and personal liberty are not involved, shall be appealed to the Supreme Court from the circuit court when the judgment in the court below shall not be more than $200. The propriety of this recommendation must be apparent when it is known that cases involving $5 are brought to the attention of the Supreme Court, and I sincerely hope that this relief may be afforded that high tribunal.

And right along this line I desire to recommend an amendment to the law of appeal from justices' courts in certain cases; and I am encouraged to make this recommendation with a greater confidence because the late lamented Judge James V. Campbell in an address delivered a few years before his death, after nearly 30 years' service on the bench of the Supreme Court, commended the same idea in his clear, strong, vigorous language. In speaking of the appeals from justices' courts, he says:

"Where from the nature of things the cost of controversy will go beyond any possible gain from it, there is much harm done by continued litigation. If small cases, involving no important principal, have once been fairly tried, any further pursuit tends only to injure the public tranquility and burden the public treasury as well as the means of the litigants. Persons of small means are often injured and some times ruined by prolonged legal action and whether right or wrong they can do but very little against the wealthier opponent who will not be seriously hurt, though defeated on appeal. There are small cases which represent important principals that should be settled by courts of last resort. Such cases can be easily provided for by requiring leave to appeal, which is always done in cases of certiorari."

These suggestions made by one so thoroughly competent to treat the question, ought certainly to carry weight with legislators. And now when efforts will be made to create new judicial districts, the question of relief by prohibiting appeals where sums involved do not exceed $50, is worth considering.

is to be held in Chicago in 1893. It will be a marked event in the progress of American civilization. As a financial investment alone our State ought to be well represented at Chicago; and for the purpose of insuring such representation it will be necessary for the Legislature to make ample provisions therefor at the present session.

I suggest that the Governor be authorized to appoint four commissioners to take charge of the several exhibits in their special lines. One commissioner should be appointed to represent agriculture, another the manufacturing, another the mining, and another the educational interests of the State; and in doing this it will be well to follow the method adopted by the act of Congress providing for national commissioners. That provided that they should be appointed in equal numbers from the two leading political parties of the country; and this policy has been universally acquiesced in.

In providing for the appointment of commissioners an ample appropriation of money must be made to enable them to make creditable exhibits in their several departments.

THE GRAND ARMY ENCAMPMENT.

Through a great effort on the part of many leading citizens of the State, the next encampment will be held in Detroit, in August, 1891. There is no other association that brings together so large a number of veterans of the war, as well as citizens generally, as this encampment. It has been held in a dozen or more different states. A large amount of money is expended in making preparations for entertaining the delegates. You will be asked to appropriate $50,000 from the State treasury as a contribution to the expenses which are estimated to amount to $105,000. The subject will be presented to you by a committee appointed for that purpose, who will make known the reasons for action on your part.

GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS.

Congress has appropriated $100,000 for the erection of a public building in Lansing. It has been located on the corner in front of the capitol. Before proceeding further it will be necessary for the State to cede jurisdiction over this grant to the United States, and I commend early action upon this subject. And, inasmuch as Congress is frequently making appropriations for public buildings and improvements in the State, I recommend a passage of a general law ceding jurisdiction whenever and wherever Congress shall provide for the erection of buildings or for making improvements. As our sessions are only biennially held delays are often made necessary because no step will be taken in the construction until jurisdiction is ceded.

THE UNIVERSITY.

The many excellencies and world wide reputation of this institution have brought to its halls a rapidly increasing number of students. Four years ago it numbered 1,580, and it was then believed, by those most familiar with its workings, that it might possibly in the course of years secure to itself 2,000 students. But now to the surprise of its warmest friends it has under instructions 2,400; an increase of 50 per cent in four years. This condition requires thoughtful care and wise action on the part of the Legislature, as well as the Board of Regents.

We can discover no reason why, if the present policy is continued, this increase in the number of students may not continue. And if this shall be the case, provisions must be made for their accommodation, if the University maintains its well established reputation.

The Regents are under the circumstances entitled to great credit for the exercise of economy in their estimates for the ensuing biennial period. They ask for 1891, $100,325; for 1892, $97,200, making a total of $197,525. This is $9,264 less than the appropriations two years ago.

It is not easy to see how they can take care of the number of students they now have with anything less than the amount asked for.

An appropriation was made two years ago of $50,000, upon condition that the city of Ann Arbor would raise $25,000, for the purpose of erecting a hospital. The building has not been completed, as plans were not agreed upon until some time during last summer. It was very difficult to find an architect who could submit plans for the building that would meet the demands, within the appropriation.

Not only the medical department of the University and the students are interested in this hospital, but many afflicted and unfortunate citizens of the State. In the University hospital they receive the best of medical and surgical treatment without charge. Counties find it to their interest to send those to the University hospital for treatment who are thrown upon them for support by reason of disease. When the hospital is completed it is expected that the dental department will take possession of the present buildings used for the hospital. In this, a wise economy, humanity, and the education of medical students, all unite in requiring an early completion of the hospital.

There is a limit to the number of students that can properly be educated in a single institution like our University. What that limit is, I know not, but I modestly suggest that some change in the policy may possibly be wise. About one-half of the students come from other States; and it certainly seems to me that an increase in the tuition charged these foreign students will inflict wrong upon no one, although it may possibly, to some extent, check the increased attendance. I cannot believe that it would work harm to the Michigan University.

NORMAL SCHOOL.

This institution is in excellent condition. It will require no special appropriation except for current expenses and repairs. An appropriation of $90,920 is asked for the biennial period. Your attention may, however, be called to the necessity of drainage because it certainly exists.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

[Early last spring the Botanical laboratory connected with this institution, was destroyed by fire, with nearly all of its contents. The loss of the latter was keenly felt by Professor Beale who had accumulated a large amount of valuable material which could not be removed from the laboratory. The Board of Agriculture ask for an appropriation of $10,000 to rebuild the laboratory. Including this they ask a total appropriation of $52,620 for 1891 and 1892. The detailed estimate will be furnished by the board.

MINING SCHOOL.

This is the youngest of all our State institutions. It was established in 1885, but the appropriation for the erection of buildings was not made until 1887. They have constructed the best of all our State buildings, but with the increased number of students they require more room, and ask for an appropriation of $98,900 for 1891, and $37,700 for 1892, making a total of $136,600, for construction, equipment and current expenses. The Mining School is one of our important educational institutions. I believe it to be located in the right place. Construction, teaching and other expenses are all higher at Houghton than they are on this side of the Straits. They have now students, and it will be seen the estimated requirements, per capita, is very large, and I doubt not they will receive careful attention at your hands.

SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND.

That there is no material increase in this institution is a source of gratification. It indicates that one class of unfortunates is not on the increase. Great progress is made by most of the pupils who follow the course of study. No appropriations are asked for except current expenses, including repairs; and for these they ask for $46,340 for the biennial period. It is almost exactly the same as was expended for the years 1889 and 1890, and I have no doubt that it will be required to meet the demands.

MICHIGAN SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF.

This institution is in excellent condition. Its accommodations are ample; its percentage of increase in pupils, small. The progress made by them in education and handicraft is very gratifying. It asks appropriations for only current expenses and repairs, including a large amount of painting, which ought to be done: For 1891, $58,000; for 1892, $56,859, making a total of $114,859 for the two years. This is $14,400 less than appropriated two years ago.

THE SOLDIERS' HOME.

In 1889 Congress passed a bill appropriating $100 per annum for each veteran maintained in Soldiers' Homes provided by states; but just before the adjournment the law was amended, providing for the payment of one-half of the current expenses incurred by states in caring for the soldiers in homes provided for them. When the appropriation was made for the support of the Home by the Legislature in 1889, the estimates were based upon the expected receipt of one-half of expenses from the government, according to the law of Congress. But as there was not sufficient amount of money appropriated to meet the expenses incurred of all the homes, under the bill, only $70, some $15 per capita less than one-half of the expenses, was paid to the Home. But even if this reduced amount had been promptly paid by the government our Home could have been maintained without a deficiency; but based upon this reduced sum there is a balance due our Home of $9,969.77, that ought to have been paid to us the first of July, 1890.

Largely on account of this a debt was incurred. The inmates must be fed, clothed and receive medical treatment, and it was necessary to borrow a sum of money to meet the emergency. This was done and individuals placed their names to a note to bridge over the chasm. Another deficiency was occasioned because of difficulty in finding a solid foundation for the construction of the hospital, for which an appropriation was made two years ago, and I very respectfully ask this Legislature to appropriate, as early as possible, the sum of $10,000, in order to pay off this individual indebtedness. I have written Gen. Franklin, who has charge of the payment of this appropriation, urging him to balance the account due last July, and have recently received a letter from him saying that he cannot do it until an appropriation is made by Congress to meet the deficiency.

If thought desirable in making the appropriation now asked for, provisions may be made for paying that sum when received into the State Treasury to reimburse the State for the money that should be appropriated.

The Soldiers' Home Board ask for an appropriation of $177,000 for the biennial period. Nearly all of this is for current expenses, with an added amount for still further fitting the grounds. Under the present law we are now receiving at the rate of $100 for each soldier supported, but this is of doubtful continuance as the last two years has taught us; and it is thought better to appropriate the entire estimate required to defray the expenses and then provide that any amount received from the general government shall be placed in the treasury to balance so far as it will the amount appropriated. The Home must have money monthly to defray its expenses. The State can better afford to wait upon government than the Home can, and I trust that this plan will be adopted.

STATE PUBLIC SCHOOL.

This institution asks for $35,000 for 1891, and $34,608 for 1892. A detail of which will be found in the report. No new buildings are required. The sums asked for are for current expenses and repairs. No amendment to the law is suggested. The school is doing a noble work in passing children from no homes and bad homes, into good ones.

THE REFORM SCHOOL.

This institution is in splendid condition. An appropriation was made two years ago for the purpose of rebuilding and enlarging the capacity of the school. This has been constructed and is now nearly completed. It is one of the best in its construction and most commodious of our public buildings, and will be finished and equipped within the appropriation. There are, each year, more and more boys sent to the Reform School. Each year more and more are placed out in homes and discharged, but still there is a gradual increase.

The law of 1889 which provides that boys may be sent to the Reform school and girls to Adrian for non-attendance at school, has sent within the last two years, 18 boys to the Reform School. I cannot believe that for neglecting to attend school a boy ought to be sent to the Reform School, if that is his only fault, and I very respectfully suggest an amendment to the act of 1889, by striking out the first subdivision of section 3, act 218.

The true policy is to keep all the boys out of the Reform School that we can, and it is believed that most of the agents of the Board of Corrections and Charities make a sincere effort to do this.

They ask for an appropriation of $56,000 annually for current expenses, and $7,000 for repairs. There has been an increase as stated, of boys in the school and the estimates for current expenses are based upon larger numbers than have been maintained for the last two years, and the appropriation asked for will doubtless be required to meet the demands.

INDUSTRIAL HOME FOR GIRLS.

The Board ask for an appropriation of $73,624 for current expenses for the next two years. They ask for $2,000 to purchase an adjoining piece of land, and $12,000 for the erection of a school house. The estimates for current expenses will doubtless be required; economy requires the purchase of the land. While their school accommodations are not all that could be desired, it is more than possible a system of ventilation for the four school rooms in the basement may be adopted; and it is certain that they may be warmed and obviate the present difficulty of receiving the heat over their heads. I think this might be done for a small sum and add to the comfort of the school room. Two of the classes are taught in the rooms above, and are conveniently and comfortably located. The business of the Home is well conducted and economy exercised.

I think some amendments to the law ought to be made. Under the present law mischievous, roguish or lawless girls may be sent to that institution between the ages of 10 and 17 years; and they are to be sentenced until they are 21 years of age.

I do most earnestly recommend that the law be amended so that no girl be kept in the Home after nineteen years of age. Nor ought any girl to be sentenced there for a longer period than six years. If a girl cannot be reformed before she is nineteen years of age, by instructions in that institution, the case is almost a hopeless one; and if six years of instruction does not fit a girl for freedom, I do not believe that eleven years will. And think of the hopeless outlook for a girl of ten or twelve years of age to be sent to the institution for nine or eleven years. It is really appalling to the young heart. And while I know that many of them are placed out long before they have been there six years, yet I think it would afford a ray of hope if they knew they could not be detained longer than that. It will be remembered that we have gradually reduced the age at which boys must be discharged from the Reform School until it is now only seventeen.

The institution is doing a good work and many girls have been taken out of bad associations and through proper influences have become excellent girls and model women.

THE MARQUETTE PRISON.

This was finished in the spring of 1889 and was opened early in the summer. With our present prison population, three or four hundred less than five years ago, we had ample provision for all of them. But the prison having been constructed, it seemed wiser to open and occupy, than to let it stand, and the Warden was appointed and the prison opened; and chiefly with the labor of the prisoners great improvement has been made upon the grounds and a wall constructed around them.

Provision is now made for working the men by the use of knitting machines. While the earnings are not large yet as they must work it seemed the best thing that could be done under the circumstances. But the number that can be worked in this manner is limited, and the question of other employment must be considered.

THE IONIA HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

One of the difficult problems to solve at this institution is to know how to work the men so as to net the best results to the State. That prisoners must work, is a settled fact; and the convicts at Ionia are mostly short time men, and this precludes the possibility of letting them on contract, to good advantage, if we desired to do so. A portion of the men have been working on the cigar contract, but that expires next spring and neither the managers or the contractors desire to renew it. A portion of them work at manufacturing furniture. This is sold by contract and delivered at the shop, and it seems to have been the best arrangement that could have been made. There is more difficulty occurs at working men at manufacturing cigars than anything else. The plan of enlarging the plant and working all of the men that can be spared from discharging duties at the prison, at manufacturing furniture, seems to be the most feasible. It is work that educates men. An appropriation to provide for this is at least suggested for your consideration.

THE STATE PRISON

Is in good condition. The discipline is of a high order, and the educational opportunities afforded to the men are bearing excellent fruit, and through the influence of these agencies, many go out to become good citizens—upright, honest men; and with great confidence, I commend a continuation of this system in all our prisons.

THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

Of these the State now has four. In them is found an insane population of 2,840; about twice as many as were in the Asylums ten years ago. The institutions are full and the joint boards have, after careful consideration of the situation, decided that room must be provided for from 450 to 500, during the next biennial period. Various plans for meeting the emergency have from time to time been submitted. Upon the assembling of the Legislature four years ago there was a demand for increased accommodations for the insane, and what is known as the cottage or colony system was adopted. Asylum accommodation previous to that time had cost about a thousand dollars per patient. It was estimated that cottages, comfortable and convenient, could be constructed for $300 per patient; and under appropriations made in 1887 and 1889, eight cottages, with sufficient room to accommodate 50 patients each, have been constructed, for the estimated sum, per patient. They are located near the principal institutions, and are under the same general management.

A large per cent of the present inmates of the Asylum are harmless and incurable. We have ample room in the three main buildings to treat and care for all the acute and violent insane, and those whose malady can be aided by medical treatment. And whatever course is pursued, another expensive Asylum should not be constructed for many years to come. And the joint boards, together with the medical superintendents of the institutions, have concluded to recommend a continuation of the cottage system. I commended it in 1887 and 1889, and again join with the boards in recommending this method, to meet the increasing demand.

What I have said applies more especially to the Asylums at Kalamazoo, Pontiac and Traverse City,

The Asylum at Ionia for the treatment of the violent, and those of homicidal tendencies, deserves, and doubtless will receive, especial attention. Its location, in connection with the House of Correction, was extremely unfortunate, if not barbarous. Two years ago the Legislature appreciated this fact and made an appropriation to construct a cottage disconnected from the prison, with the expectation that the entire institution would be removed from its present location. As soon as may be, another building should be erected where the new one is located, and take the insane away from any connection with prison walls. In this case the present Asylum may be used to advantage as a women's prison.

The removal of the disorderly and violent from the main asylums has added greatly to the comfort of the patients in these institutions; besides it was necessary to provide some place for those who become insane in the State prisons.

It has been the policy of the State to provide room for this unfortunate class of our population for more than 30 years. Previous to 1879 the well established policy was for the friends of patients, or when they were not able for counties, to pay the expenses in the asylums.

In 1879 a law was passed, requiring counties to pay the expenses of indigent patients for two years after their admission into the asylum, and then for the State to assume the responsibility. I have no doubt that this change in the law has somewhat added to our asylum population. Not by unnecessarily sending the insane, but by sending some of the feeble with impaired bodily strength and mental faculties, yet not insane.

The universal policy, except so far as it relates to the insane, is for the counties to take care of their poor. Bills providing for the repeal of the law of 1879 have from time to time been introduced in the Legislature; but the change has not met the approval of the majority of the members; and chiefly because of the defeat of this measure two years ago a bill was passed which provided that counties might make provisions for the care of their insane, and that under certain provisions the State should pay the expenses. This measure provided for so radical a change in the plan and policy, and as it seemed to me without the full consideration which so important a change should receive, that I felt impelled to withhold my signature, and hence it did not become a law. The policy of permitting the counties to incur expense and draw at will from the State Treasury, seems to me to be preposterous. One argument in favor of the measure was based upon the claim that some counties pay for the support of the insane very much more than the expense incurred for patients sent from the same counties.

If the principal of the bill to which I have referred is to be enacted into a law, it should receive very careful consideration, because it will necessarily involve the State in great expense. If one county is to receive compensation for the care of its indigent insane, another has the same right. If the law of 1879 was repealed it would remove the strong argument in favor of the plan referred to. The State paid out of the general purpose fund for the years 1889 and 1890, $689,790 for care and treatment of the indigent insane sent from the several counties.

THE FEEBLE MINDED.

Michigan has ever been foremost in making provisions for the education of its children, and caring for the unfortunate. In one respect, it has not practiced the wise, humane policy adopted in many other States, and that is in making provisions for the education of the feeble minded. The same humane law that requires the State to educate the mutes and the blind, applies with equal force to the care and education of the feeble minded. The lives of many of these may be brightened and they be made useful, through education, instead of a burden upon their friends and society.

No large or expensive buildings should be erected. Plain substantial cottages will answer all required purposes.

The subject is commended to your candid deliberation.

THE HOME FOR DISCHARGED PRISONERS,

In Detroit, for which an annual appropriation of $1,200 is made, is doing much for the men who go out from our prisons, during the most critical hours of their lives. I repeat what was said two years ago, that it should never be made a State institution, but a little aid is of great benefit.

THE SIGNAL SERVICE, which is a partnership institution between the general and State governments, has been placed under the Agricultural Department, and its sphere of operation enlarged and improved.

FISH COMMISSION.

I have not received the biennial report of the Fish Commissioners, but their full operations will be laid before you and their wants in regard to appropriations made known. They have done a large amount of work during the last two years, with much advantage to the fish interest.

FISH AND GAME WARDEN.

In order to protect the result of the work of the Fish Commissioners, and game in the Northern part of the State, the law provides for the appointment of a Fish and Game Warden. He and his deputies have used great diligence, but as is usual in such cases have met with many obstacles; still fish and game have been quite largely protected.

RAILROADS.

In 1889 what is known as the graded fare bill passed the Legislature. The railroads to which it applied refused to comply with its provisions and a case was brought in the Supreme Court to test the constitutionality of the law, and its constitutionality sustained.

Our railroads are fairly prosperous; their earnings, as reported by the Commissioner or Railroads, are increasing every year. It is with great satisfaction that we are enabled to point to the fact that during the last four years there has not been a collision between passenger trains on any of the roads in the State. Nor has a culvert or railroad bridge gone down under a passing train during the same period. While valuable individual lives have been lost our people have been spared the shock caused by a wholesale slaughter of passengers by falling bridges, burning cars or collisions of trains.

STATE TROOPS.

Our people are properly opposed to maintaining a large standing army in this country. But the nucleus of a military force and military education has been found necessary in all civilized countries; and in obedience to this demand Michigan, in common with other States, maintains a military force. For its maintenance three and one-half cents per capita of our population is appropriated. And it is with especial pride and satisfaction that I call your attention to the fact that our State troops are in splendid condition. Each State encampment has been an improvement upon its predecessor. Discipline, with a few rare exceptions, has been maintained. Soldierly conduct has been observed. We have held annual encampments for four years and the troops are better equipped and better clothed than ever before; for which I am indebted to the Military Board, the Adjutant and Quartermaster Generals, as well as to the officers and men generally.

ORCHARD LAKE MILITARY ACADEMY.

While this is in no way supported by the State, it is, to some extent, a Michigan institution of which we are justly proud. It is doing a good work in its line, and deserves and receives the confidence of all.

TAXATION.

This involves questions that come home to all of our citizens. Universal education, the humane features of our present civilization, and possibly an ambition for something like luxury, makes upon the taxpayers constantly increasing demands.

No new State institutions have been established during the last four years. But the legislature of 1885 established three, and two of these have been paid for, and almost entirely during that time; and large additions have been made to nearly all of the State institutions. And while for four years there has been no increase in State taxation, yet for the term of ten years there has been a tendency in that direction, not only in this State, but in others.

I noticed in a message recently delivered by the Governor of Vermont, he furnishes tables that show that State taxation in the Green Mountain State has been nearly doubled in ten years, with no increase in population; and this holds true in some of the other States. And while the State tax forms but a small part of the aggregate, yet when taken altogether taxation is a burden in town and country, and sound economy should be practiced all along the line. But the burden of taxation inevitably suggests new, and some of them strange methods, to meet the demands. In the State of New York, and some others perhaps, a tax is levied upon bequests except where they are made to members of the family, and from this source alone New York receives $750,000 per annum. And again, nearly all of the business achievements of the age are wrought out through corporations. Articles of incorporations are daily filed with our Secretary of State. The labor, cares and responsibility is performed without expense to the corporation. Many of the States collect a fee or impose a tax at the time incorporations are formed. Quite large sums are in this way collected that operate to some extent as a relief to other property.

Since the adoption of the free school system and the construction of costly school houses and the employment of higher priced teachers, the aggregate of school taxes is very large, amounting to nearly or quite 50 per cent of the total taxation. And while no one will desire to impair the usefulness or efficiency of the school in city or country, it has seemed not improper to refer here to the large revenue required to defray the expenses. But no amendments to the school law should be made that will add to the expenses without strong assurance that improved methods will be secured thereby.

A graded income tax is advocated by some who seek to relieve property from the burdens of taxation. The suggestion is worthy of consideration. The law, as well as its execution, should require all property to contribute its just share towards the support of government and its own protection. And no greater amount should be collected from the people than is required for the humane and economical administration of public affairs.

CONCLUSION.

These closing words terminate my labors as Governor of the commonwealth. And while I cannot sever the ties that have bound me to so many people and institutions, without a pang at the parting, yet I cheerfully, and gladly, pass over to another the cares, duties, responsibilities and anxieties connected with this important position.

Michigan is a noble State; it stands in the front rank of the sisterhood of States. It has a sturdy, intelligent, patriotic population. Its school system is unsurpassed; and it is I trust with pardonable pride that I here and now refer to the fact that in competition with the educational systems of the whole world submitted to a commission in Melbourne, Australia, Michigan bore away the laurels and received the first award of merit. And this fact, and others, should admonish us to be very careful about making a radical change in a system that stands so high.

And will you pardon me for saying here and now that, with a heart full of gratitude, I desire to thank all of our people, without regard to political affiliation, for the many acts of kindness and the evidences of confidences received. I now go out into private life with love for my adopted State unimpaired, with my faith in her future grandeur and glory, confirmed.

Gentlemen, you represent a proud, intelligent and patriotic State. Her destiny is to some extent for the time being placed in your hands.

I know that you are actuated by an earnest, honest desire to serve well her interests and institutions, and I trust that the laws that will emanate from you and that receive the approval of my successor, will aid her people in holding high the banner they so proudly carry.

CYRUS G. LUCE.

RELATIVE TO PARDONS.

ALEXANDER DINGMAN.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Tuscola of assault with intent to commit murder, and sentenced for ten years from May 8, 1882. Pardoned January 11, 1889.

CONDITIONS.

That said Dingman henceforth and forever wholly abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors of all kinds and from frequenting places where liquors are sold.

REASONS.

Dingman was a barber by trade, and when sober was a respectable citizen of Vassar, Tuscola county. On a mad drunk he stabbed a man by the name of Allen, who had been a life long friend and companion. He was in such a maudlin, stupid condition at the time he stabbed Allen that he had no knowledge of what he was doing. Allen has recovered from the injury received.

It is a case that I have given very much attention, and it has been brought to my notice by many of the best citizens of Vassar. His domestic relations had been very unfortunate, with perhaps a full share of the blame attributable to his wife. He has at the present time two boys, one fourteen and the other nine years of age. For these he entertains a genuine affection. I believe that he has overcome his taste for strong drink, and that he will be able to resist all temptations in this direction. He has signed an ironclad pledge that requires him to forever abstain from the use of intoxicating drinks and from visiting places where liquors are sold. And for the purpose of giving him an opportunity to care for his boys I have thought best to give him his liberty.

JOHN FARRELL.

Ionia Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Ingham of robbery, and sentenced for six years from January 6, 1886. Pardoned February 1, 1889.

REASONS.

John Farrell was born and brought up in the city of Lansing, where he remained until he was about 20 years old; was an industrious, hard-working boy, and commanded the confidence of employers and acquaintances, and I am led to believe that whatever of faults he committed was due, not to the criminal nature of the boy, but to bad and corrupting associations for a day and a night.

A man by the name of Burgess, living in a neighboring county, met young Farrell on the streets and induced him to visit saloons and houses of ill-fame, through the afternoon and nearly the entire night. He had become intoxicated, and Burgess claims that he had brought with him a twenty dollar gold piece which was found in Farrell's pocket. How it came there neither Farrell, nor any one else, seems to know. But in view of his previous good habits and character, and the bad character of the man who led him into the trouble and claims to have been robbed, and also of the youth of Farrell at the time, and with a strong conviction that he was more sinned against than sinning, I am induced to believe that the ends of justice will be better served by giving him his liberty.

He was sent on the 6th day of January, 1886, to Ionia for six years. He has served a little more than half of his time, and it is now believed that he will again be industrious and a peaceable, law-abiding man.

OSCAR BURNS.

Ionia Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Kent of burglary, and sentenced for ten years from the 5th day of January, 1882. Pardoned February 15, 1889.

REASONS.

There is no question of the guilt of this man, but it is believed that he has reformed in his ideas and habits. He is a man of strong mental force and of determination; has been a trusted prisoner at Ionia for those months, and he has betrayed no confidence placed in him. His time would expire within a few months, and the reasons for his pardon are found (besides those mentioned above) in the fact that his friends have provided a small truck farm for his use, and he has an anxious desire to commence gardening this coming spring. In order to do this profitable, it is necessary that he should commence preparing the hot beds and other facilities at once. If he remains until the termination of his sentence it would deprive him of the opportunity to prosecute this enterprise the present year, and as employment is essential to every one who comes out from the prison, it seems to me that this opportunity should be afforded him, and upon the application of many of the leading citizens of Grand Rapids, and with a desire to assist him in his effort to reform, have concluded to set him at liberty five months before the expiration of his sentence.

BARNEY ROSSEAU.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Alpena of manslaughter, and sentenced for seven years from May 17, 1884. Pardoned March 29, 1889.

REASONS.

Rosseau was an industrious laboring man who had resided in Alpena for a good many years. He had accumulated sufficient property to secure a home, and kept something of a boarding house. Had a wife and three children; worked in the mills during the summer, and in the lumber camps during the winter. In the fall of 1883 he went into the woods as usual, expecting to stay during the winter, but came home sometime in the month of February. He found a boarder at his house, by the name of Savage. Circumstances led him to believe that this man was unduly intimate with his wife. He ordered him away from his premises the night of his return, but Savage claimed that he was paying for his board and had as good a right to remain there as Rosseau had. In an effort to put the man out of doors, he was beaten and seriously bruised about the head. He applied to the mayor of the city for protection, but the authorities neglected to follow up the complaint and he was left to his own resources to get rid of the objectionable boarder. After making several efforts to induce the police authorities to remove him, he went to his own house, took a knife from the dining-room table and again sought Savage and ordered him away. As the result of a war of words, a fight ensued, and during the conflict Rosseau used this knife, wounding Savage so that he died within a day or two from the time of receiving the wound. The nature of the difficulties certainly furnished strong mitigating circumstances. The best citizens of Alpena have interested themselves in securing Rosseau's release from prison, believing that he was to some extent at least, justified by the negligence of the police and by the continued provocation given him.

The Board of Pardons have considered this case at great length and unanimously advise his release from State prison, believing, if not fully justified in the course pursued, that he has endured sufficient punishment to meet the ends of justice. His term would expire in seven months from now, but considering the good character of the man before conviction and the provocation, I do not feel justified in permitting him to serve out the balance of his term.

WILLIAM ROGERS.

Ionia Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Ionia of burglary, and sentenced for 12 years from February 12, 1882. Pardoned April 15, 1889.

REASONS.

Wm. Rogers was convicted of burglary committed in the village of Lyons in May, 1880. The evidence adduced on the trial was entirely circumstantial and upon a careful perusal of it I am somewhat surprised that he was convicted for an alibi was pretty well established. But other circumstantial evidence convinced the jury that Rogers was the guilty man. Evidence has been submitted to the Executive and the Board of Pardons that renders it reasonably certain that the crime was committed by one Rambo, who was afterwards convicted of robbery and sentenced to prison in Illinois for 20 years and there died. It is certain that if the testimony now submitted to secure his pardon had been presented in court at the time of the trial Rogers would never have been convicted. No application for pardon within the last two years has received so much and careful attention as this one, and if any lingering doubt still exists I regard it my duty to give him the benefit of the doubt and let him go free.

CALVIN W. GIBBS.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Kent, of seduction, and sentenced for two years from June 11, 1888. Pardoned May 29, 1889.

REASONS.

Mr. Gibbs was a respectable citizen of mature years living at Byron, Kent county. He became involved in difficulty with a prominent citizen of that place. Evidence was submitted that convinced me that the complainant was actuated by a spirit of revenge. Gibbs was convicted upon a second trial, the jury failing to agree on the first. In reading the testimony I am filled with surprise that he was convicted at all, for there must have existed in the minds of the court and jury grave doubts of his guilt. Evidence was submitted that went far towards convincing me of his innocence. I believe it to be the common judgment of the citizens of Byron that he ought not to have been convicted, and it is my own that he ought not longer to be incarcerated.

CHARLES BOYLE.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Lenawee of murder second degree, and sentenced for 20 years from November 29, 1877. Pardoned July 3, 1889.

REASONS.

Everything tends to show that Mr. Boyle did not in any sense belong to the criminal class of our population. The crime was committed under great excitement caused, as he thought, by the unjustifiable conduct and accusations of the man he assaulted.

His conduct in prison has been beyond reproach or criticism. He has been of material aid to the warden and other officers, and for these reasons he has been restored to his liberty.

LEWIS DUBRY.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Monroe of adultery, and sentenced for three years from May 26, 1887. Pardoned July 3, 1889.

CONDITIONS.

This pardon is on condition that said Lewis Dubry henceforth and forever wholly abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors of all kinds and from frequenting places where liquors are sold.

REASONS.

Mr. Dubry was addicted to the use of strong drink. This vice had nearly destroyed his manhood and self control.

GEORGE W. BARNHART.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of St. Joseph, of rape, and sentenced for life from June 5, 1874. Pardoned August 6, 1889.

REASONS.

George W. Barnhart was convicted in the St. Joseph county circuit court, for rape, June 5, 1874, and sentenced to the State prison at Jackson for life. The rape was said to have been committed upon a girl eleven or twelve years of age, but from the time of his conviction until the present many of those conversant with the circumstances have doubted whether the verdict of the jury was a just one. Large numbers of reputable citizens, including the jury and officers of the court by whom he was convicted, have petitioned for his release from prison, with the firm conviction that he was innocent of the offense charged. From the facts submitted, I am in doubt, and give to the prisoner the benefit of that doubt. But if guilty he has now been incarcerated in prison for fifteen years. It is seldom that convicts have been sentenced for a longer period than this for the very grave offense of which he was convicted. He had borne a very fair reputation in the community where he resided; he was an industrious man and honorable in his relations with those with whom he was brought in contact. He was convicted, partly at least, under the influences of a good deal of excitement existing the time. The Board of Pardons have considered this case from time to time for the last four years, and their final investigations have led them to unanimously recommend his unconditional pardon and in compliance with my own convictions, enforced by the recommendation of the Board, I now direct his release from prison.

E. J. MULLIGAN.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Mason of assault with intent to kill, and sentenced for four years from May 17, 1888. Pardoned Sept. 3, 1889.

REASONS.

Joseph Mulligan was convicted of an assault with intent to kill, in the Mason county circuit court, and sent to the State prison at Jackson for four years. Previous to this assault he had borne a good reputation as a peaceable and industrious citizen. He was not addicted to the use of strong drink; had an excellent wife and three small children; his evenings were spent at home with his family, as also his other leisure time, and he was, so far as I can learn, an upright citizen. Had never been involved in quarrels or conflicts of any kind previous to the assault. Investigation has led to the conclusion that he had brooded over real or imaginary wrongs until his mind had become morbid, if not unbalanced. In this condition he committed the assault. The reasons for his pardon, are, first, because of his previous good character; second, because of doubt that he was in the full possession of his faculties at the time he committed the assault; third, because his wife is sick and has been in nearly a helpless condition for three months or more, and during all the time of her husband's imprisonment she has struggled against sickness and poverty to keep her children together until the return of their father; fourth, because the prosecuting attorney of the county at the time of conviction and the present prosecuting attorney and also the judge by whom he was sentenced, have all asked for his release, besides many other good citizens.

JOHN DRISCOLL.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Saginaw of robbery, and sentenced for fifteen years from July 14, 1880. Pardoned October 24, 1889.

CONDITIONS.

To abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors and frequenting places where sold. And that employment by a leading Saginaw lumberman, in the form of a contract for one year, be furnished.

REASONS.

Driscoll was convicted of robbery in forcibly taking from one William Algram, the sum of $3, and sentenced to the State prison at Jackson for a term of fifteen years.

He has now served out nine years and three months of the sentence. No application for pardon has been pressed with greater vigor than has this one in behalf of Driscoll. I have given a careful consideration to the reasons assigned by the applicant and his friends. Driscoll was a lumberman, engaged a good portion of each year in the woods. He had fallen into the habit of drinking when he came out of the woods to visit his friends in Saginaw; he was intoxicated at the time the robbery was alleged to have been committed. He and Algram had been tramping the streets of Saginaw during the evening until about 10 o'clock, when Algram claimed that Driscoll had taken $3 in money out of his hands.

The sentence was a very severe one for the offense committed under the circumstances which surrounded the affair, and for this reason, perhaps, a large number of the leading citizens of Saginaw have interested themselves in Driscoll's behalf. He was industrious, peaceable and quiet, when sober. Under the changed conditions which will surround him it is confidently believed by his friends that he will live a reformed life. One of the leading lumbermen of the Saginaw valley has entered into a contract to give him steady employment at current wages for a year. This was made one of the conditions in granting the pardon of Driscoll. He has certainly served long and faithfully for the comparative trifling offense committed, and under all the circumstances I have concluded to rely upon his promise and those of his friends, and give him his liberty. He is still young, active and strong.

GEORGE A. CAVANAUGH.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Ingham of burglary, and sentenced for 20 years from Dec. 9, 1879. Pardoned Nov. 4, 1889.

CONDITIONS.

That he abstain from intoxicating liquors and frequenting places where they are sold.

REASONS.

He was pardoned first, because the sentence he received was under the circumstances excessive. Second. It is believed from the best evidence I have been able to secure, that the prisoner has reformed in his moral nature.

He is a man of fine natural ability and capable of becoming a useful citizen. He has been a faithful student at the prison school, and for the past three years has been most exemplary in his conduct, and everything indicates he is a reformed man. Another reason is found in the fact that steady and profitable employment has been secured for him. The Advisory Board of Pardons have given careful attention to his case and arrived at the unanimous conclusion he should be pardoned, and so recommend. One of the members of the present Board of Pardons was prosecuting attorney at the time of his conviction and from his statement of the facts connected with the offense, some mitigating circumstances are found.

JACOB SCHEMANSKY.

Detroit House of Correction—Convicted in recorder's court for the county of Wayne, of assault with attempt to rape, and sentenced for two years from August 18, 1889. Pardoned Nov. 4, 1889.

REASONS.

The prisoner has but about five months to serve and the prison physician is fearful that incarceration is affecting his mind, and for this reason the Advisory Board of Pardons recommended his release, and upon mature reflection I have concluded to comply with their recommendation.

VERNIE CREGO.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Lenawee, of rape, and sentenced for five years from Sept. 22, 1887. Pardoned January 6, 1890.

CONDITIONS.

That his father will take him at the prison directly to the farm, where he will not be brought in contact with associates inclined to lead him to a downward course.

REASONS.

He was the son of respectable parents but his mother died when he was but two years of age, and he afterwards lived with several different Adrian families, attending school.

At the age of fourteen he, with a companion, was charged with committing a crime upon a young girl of about the same age, when going home from a party and when within six or eight rods of the girl's home. It does not appear that any outcry was made, nor did the girl immediately inform her mother of what had occurred. His companion was arrested but never tried in the courts. Crego is a bright, active and well appearing boy; he has been carefully trained and educated in the prison since his incarceration. His father has lately remarried, and is now living on a farm.

WILLIAM RINEHART.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Houghton, of Bigamy, and sentenced for three years from June, 1888. Pardoned February 3, 1890.

REASONS.

Mitigating circumstances. The previous good reputation and high character of the convict, the prostration of his mother, the earnest solicitation of his first wife, who has condoned the offense, and on account of the bad health of the convict, who has but a few months to serve.

JOHN DICK, ALIAS FRANK BROWN.

Detroit House of Correction—Convicted in recorder's court for the city of Detroit, of obtaining money under false pretenses, and sentenced for five years from January 9, 1888. Pardoned February 13, 1890.

REASONS.

Near approach of death, and to allow his mother to convey him to Cleveland before the event.

DANIEL SULLIVAN.

□ Jackson Prison.—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Lake, of assault with intent to kill, and sentenced for nine years from January 8, 1885. Pardoned March 4, 1890.

CONDITIONS.

That he wholly abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors and frequenting places where sold.

REASONS.

Recommended by the Board of Pardons. Of his youth when the crime was committed, his exemplary conduct in prison, the belief that farther punishment will not benefit, and that if he is now liberated he will become a useful citizen.

EDWARD BEATTIE.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the recorder's court for the city of Detroit of larceny, and sentenced for five years from December 29, 1888. Pardoned March 8, 1890.

REASONS.

His evident approach of death; the last stages of consumption.

DAVID E. WRIGHT.

State House of Correction and Reformatory—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Jackson of larceny, and sentenced for two years from Feb. 3, 1889. Pardoned April 11, 1890.

REASONS.

He pleaded guilty of stealing two dressed turkeys from a dwelling house the night before Thanksgiving in 1888.

He is pardoned, First, Because it is believed that the sentence was severe for the amount of property stolen. Second, Because of his excellent deportment in prison. Third, Because there are evident symptoms of his mind giving away, or becoming impaired by reason of grief and sorrow over the condition of his wife and children, and it seems better to let him go out, with a hope that his mental condition will be improved thereby, and that he may thus escape the affliction of insanity.

JOHN MAYNARD.

State House of Correction and Reformatory—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Branch of assault with intent to commit rape, and sentenced for five and one-half years at Ionia from Dec. 23, 1887. Sentence commuted to three years, May 27, 1890, sentence expiring June 23, 1890.

REASONS.

The commutation is granted in this case because of some mitigating circumstances that have been brought to the attention of the Governor that do not seem to have been considered or known by the court. The woman who complained did not enjoy a good reputation in the community where she resided. Maynard was young and had become badly demoralized by the use of intoxicating drinks, and in this respect there is evidence of a reform, and one of the conditions upon which the commutation is issued is a pledge from him that he will forever abstain from the use of intoxicating drinks and from visiting places where they are sold. Another reason for commutation is found in the condition of his parents. His father and mother are most estimable people; his father a veteran soldier of the war, broken in health. John is their only child. He is a young man of good ability, strong and active, and it is hoped and believed that he will contribute to the support and comfort of his parents when at liberty.

DARWIN J. MCKAY.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Barry, of murder in the first degree, and sentenced for life from November 19, 1885. Pardoned May 29, 1890.

REASONS.

He was convicted on his second trial in the Barry county circuit court, of murder in the first degree, on the 19th day of November, 1885, and sentenced to the State prison at Jackson, for life.

That a cold blooded murder was committed is beyond question. The murdered man, Thomas Searles, was a cooper, who worked and lived in a little old log house about 100 rods from the home of McKay. He was knocked down with an ax in the house where he lived on the threshold of his bed room door, as he was coming out evidently with a lamp in his hand.

McKay and Searles were, and had been through their acquaintance, on friendly terms, the former working for the latter from time to time; and while McKay was from home, Searles had left word with Mrs. McKay that he wanted her husband to come and work for him again. At that time McKay was away from home painting. He visited Searles' residence upon his return, between sundown and dark, but, as he claims, received no response to his knock for admission, and did not enter. Having been warned to work on the road he went up on the next morning early to notify Searles that he could not work Saturday, and also for the purpose of getting some flour for family use. He knocked but received no response; he went into the house, and found the dead body of Searles. Suspicion rested upon him, and a chain of circumstantial evidence was woven around him, and so ably presented, the jury were convinced of his guilt.

This case received more attention than any other application of which I have any record. The Board of Pardons have separately examined the testimony of nearly 500 pages of typewriting. In company with the Board I have visited the locality and the house where the murder was committed; and while there we examined the testimony and compared it with the situation as we saw it. Each member of the Board, including the retiring member, reached an independent conclusion, that the testimony did not prove McKay guilty. And while his innocence is not positively established, still in my mind there is a large preponderance of testimony in favor of it. I have hesitated over the case because of the enormity of the crime. A murder was committed, an old man of seventy-eight years was stricken down cowardly, and his head beaten with an ax until he was dead. The murderer ought to be punished to the extent of the law, and, if guilty, the convict ought not to be discharged. But, believing that he is innocent, and that he did not commit the murder, I cannot, in a discharge of the important duty imposed upon the Governor, detain him longer.

The Board of Pardons have filed a voluminous report that I think would go far toward convincing the unprejudiced it is but a simple act of justice.

HENRY BELGARD.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Manistee, of seduction, and sentenced for three and one half years from November 16, 1888. Pardoned June 25, 1890.

REASONS.

He was pardoned because subsequent developments indicate that both he and the girl seduced were victims of a designing woman; and for the further reason that he has agreed to marry the girl he wronged. She has been very earnest in her efforts to secure his release from prison, and entertains for him a genuine, honest affection. His previous good character and splendid deportment in prison have aided him in securing this pardon.

JAY BRADY.

Genesee County Jail—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Genesee, of being the father of the child of May Cassidy and sentenced to be confined in jail until he furnished a bond with sureties for the payment of certain sums for the maintenance of said child. Sentence commuted June 27, 1890.

CONDITIONS.

That he execute a personal bond to the Superintendent of the Poor of Genesee county for the monthly payment to May Cassidy of the amounts stipulated in the sentence of said court.

REASONS.

That he is wholly unable to comply with the said sentence in so far as it requires him to furnish sureties upon a bond for the payment of the sums stipulated for the support of the child of which he is the reputed and established parent, and no good result would be accomplished by detaining him longer, and in the height of the working season it seems sound policy to relieve him and give opportunity to earn the amounts.

ALBERT C. CRELL.

State House of Correction and Reformatory—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Clinton, of forgery, and sentenced for four years from October 17, 1887. Pardoned July 18, 1890.

REASONS.

He had previous to his arrest for this offense borne a good reputation. His term of imprisonment would have expired in six months. He is pardoned because of mitigating circumstances connected with the commission of the offense that did not appear at the time of the trial; and further because of his very correct deportment while in prison, and because of the belief that he will conduct himself properly as a good citizen, should he again become a citizen.

JOHN CASEY.

Jackson Prison.—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Marquette, of assault with intent to do great bodily harm, and sentenced for ten years from July 7, 1885. Pardoned Aug. 16, 1890.

REASONS.

The crime was committed by reason of the use of strong drink. Several young men, when intoxicated, made an assault upon a helpless old man. Casey, with the other boys, had been in the habit of getting intoxicated and carousing. He is represented to have been an industrious and fairly good citizen when sober.

The Board of Pardons have investigated the case, consulting the trial judge, and have recommended his discharge from prison, believing that the five years of life in prison has worked a reformation and changed his tastes so that he will hereafter refrain from the use of strong drink, and upon this recommendation, and with the belief that his conduct in the future will be exemplary, he is released from prison.

WILLIAM MURRAY.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Saginaw, of murder in the second degree, and sentenced for fifteen years from Nov. 4, 1881. Pardoned Sept. 22, 1890.

REASONS.

Murray was traveling with a circus company which had exhibited at Chesaning the day that the trouble arose that resulted in the death of the village Marshal. A quarrel had arisen between some of the citizens and circus attachés at an evening dance. Who struck the fatal blow was never fully established. Ten or twelve men were engaged in the fracas and Murray is now the only one undergoing punishment.

His deportment in prison has been excellent; he is, and has been for some time, a "trusty," and with some doubts in regard to his individual guilt, I have, in consideration of this and his good conduct, felt justified in discharging him two years before the expiration of his sentence.

JAMES MAHER.

Ionia Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Houghton, of assault with intent to do great bodily harm, and sentenced for six years from Nov. 18, 1886. Pardoned Sept. 5, 1890.

REASONS.

At the time of his conviction he was seventeen years of age; had borne a fair reputation, but at the time the offense was committed was with others visiting saloons at Houghton. An altercation arose and a free fight was indulged in. The testimony does not positively implicate Maher in the commission of the offense, but he was with the crowd and hence convicted. A large number of the leading citizens of Houghton have asked for his release. The board of pardons have given the case careful consideration, and have asked me to pardon him because of his extreme youth at the time the offense was committed and of the doubts in relation to his participation in the crime and especially because of his very excellent deportment and character in the prison, and he is pardoned because it is confidently believed that henceforth his conduct will be exemplary.

HORACE BECKER.

State House of Correction and Branch of the State Prison at Marquette—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Saginaw, of robbery, and sentenced for fifteen years from February 18, 1881. Pardoned Oct. 13, 1890.

REASONS.

Becker had been a man of some prominence in Bay county; he had been deputy sheriff and Deputy United States Marshal, and was said to have been an efficient officer; but strong drink and bad associates had brought him to a low moral level, and he was sentenced, I apprehend for a longer term than he would have been, because of his general character at that time.

But strong evidence has been furnished me that he will now be able to stand firmly against these temptations. He is advanced in years, and his wife who is in very feeble health has urged his pardon very strongly so that he can come home before she dies. He was transferred to Marquette more than a year ago and has been a faithful "trusty" in that prison since.

And with the belief that he will refrain from the use of strong drink, I have thought best to grant the prayer of his family and let him go free.

ALFRED KAUFMAN.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Schoolcraft, of manslaughter, and sentenced for 11 years from January 26, 1885, Pardoned November 6, 1890.

REASONS.

He had been a respectable citizen, was esteemed by those who knew him as a worthy veteran of the war; but he had become addicted to the use of strong drink, and in a fit of intoxication killed his wife, as he claimed, and many think, accidentally.

Many of the good citizens of Houghton have interested themselves in his behalf, and he is pardoned from the State prison after a solemn pledge that he will refrain from the use of strong drink, or from visiting places where it is sold. He is well advanced in years with health somewhat impaired, and through the representations made by officials and others acquainted with him, it is confidently believed that he will for the balance of his life be a worthy citizen.

LEWIS C. PURDY.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of St. Clair, of manslaughter, and sentenced for 12 years from Sept. 28, 1885. Commuted to seven years Nov. 19, 1890.

CONDITIONS.

Signs a pledge to refrain from use of strong drink and visiting places where sold.

REASONS.

The offense was committed, like many others, in a saloon.

Purdy, with two other men had been drinking and throwing dice. A quarrel ensued and Purdy knocked one of them down with his fist. In falling he struck his head against the sharp corner of a chimney, and this caused his death. It is not believed that he intended to take life. The prosecuting attorney, jurymen and leading citizens of Port Huron have strongly urged his release from prison. His conduct has been exemplary, and the commutation to seven years imprisonment is issued upon the condition that he refrain from strong drink.

JEFFERSON L. WATERS.

Ionia Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Muskegon, of burglary and sentenced for four years from June 16, 1888. Pardoned Dec. 1, 1890.

REASONS.

He is pardoned because of his extreme youth at the time he fell into criminal ways, and because it is believed that with the experience of the past three years, he has become wiser and stronger, and will now resist temptations. It is confidently believed that liberating him from prison before the expiration of his term will be followed by good results.

MINNIE E. BELLAMY.

Detroit House of Correction—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Kalamazoo, of bigamy, and sentenced for ten months from October 27, 1890. Pardoned Dec. 10, 1890.

REASONS.

Because it is believed that through a combination of circumstances she is more "sinned against than sinning."

WILLIAM H. LOSSING.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Kalamazoo, of uttering and passing counterfeit money, and sentenced for six years from June 27, 1887. Pardoned Dec. 11, 1890.

REASONS.

He is pardoned because of the belief that the sentence was somewhat severe, the old age and feeble health of the convict, and the short time remaining for him to serve. By releasing him at this time he can be provided with a comfortable and permanent home.

WILLIAM SHAFFER.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Kalamazoo, for assault upon a female child under ten years, and sentenced for life from November 13, 1886. Commuted to nine years, with all good time, December 20, 1890.

REASONS.

Shaffer was brought up amid the most depraved and unfortunate surroundings. He was 16 years years of age at the time the assault was committed. He has studied diligently in the prison and is fitting himself for citizenship.

Very many influential people in Kalamazoo have interested themselves in his behalf. The judge who sentenced him, some members of the jury and the prosecuting attorney, have all united in asking for the commutation in his behalf, and in view of his youth and the extreme severity of the sentence, his commutation is granted.

GRANT CHALLENGER.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Eaton, of murder in the second degree, and sentenced for 12 years from November 14, 1887. Pardoned December 20, 1898.

REASONS.

Challender had been a quiet, honest, hardworking farmer boy. He was especially noted for his peaceable, quiet disposition. When the offense was committed the man who lost his life was the aggressor.

And while his guilt, so far as a violation of the law is concerned, is not questioned, yet there are mitigating circumstances connected with the commission of the offense that convinces me that a pardon in his case is justified, and with a full confidence that he will hereafter be, as he had been before this sad event, an exemplary young man, this pardon is issued.

The Board of Pardons has unanimously recommended his release from prison.

HAROLD KENNEDY.

Detroit House of Correction—Convicted in recorder's court, for the city of Detroit, of robbery, and sentenced for five years, from January 29, 1889. Pardoned December 23, 1890.

CONDITIONS.

That he forever abstain from the use of strong drink, and that a leading citizen of Detroit promised in writing to give him permanent employment.

REASONS.

When drunk he robbed a companion of a watch. He is pardoned because of his previous good behavior, and the conditions above named.

JOSEPH MOSSETTE.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Newaygo, of rape, and sentenced for 25 years from May 28, 1882. Pardoned Dec. 26, 1890.

REASONS.

The application is based upon the bad reputation of the house where the offense was said to have been committed. The jury who convicted, the judge who sentenced, and the prosecuting attorney, as well as many other influential citizens, have all united in a request for his pardon.

He is pardoned under a pledge that he will forever abstain from the use of strong drink and from visiting places where it is sold, now at the expiration of one-half of the term for which he was sentenced. His deportment has been good in the prison; his education, morally and intellectually, improved.

BARTHOLOMEW TEAHAN.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Marquette, of an assault with intent to do great bodily harm, and sentenced for ten years from July 7, 1885. Pardoned Dec. 27, 1890.

REASONS.

He, with others, committed the assault, in a house of doubtful repute, upon an old man, inflicting serious injuries from which he soon recovered, however. He had been in the habit of drinking and was in a state of intoxication. He was sentenced by Judge Grant, who had previously told him and his companions that if they appeared before him again for violating the law, the sentence would be severe. And because of good deportment in the prison and assurances of correct conduct in the future, the court who sentenced has united with others in asking his release. The Board of Pardons submitted a report recommending it some months ago; and after several interviews with the prisoner, I at length comply with the recommendation of the board and a pardon is this day granted.

THOMAS J. NAVIN.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Lenawee, of forgery, and sentenced for ten years from Nov. 13, 1885. Pardoned Dec. 30, 1890.

REASONS.

He is pardoned because, while the parties wronged do not ask for his release, they express an entire willingness that he shall receive Executive clemency, and further because a large number of representative men from Lenawee county have asked me to pardon him; and further because within a short time his father and a dearly loved and only sister have passed away, and the mother who is left so lonely, in impaired health, longs with anxious heart, for the return of her son; and because he has excellent business opportunities opened to him where he will be surrounded by strong, warm friends; and because his deportment in prison has been always correct; and because I believe that in the future he will be an honest, upright citizen.

LEWIS E. SAWDY.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Ottawa of rape, and sentenced for 30 years from Nov. 11, 1880. Pardoned Dec. 30, 1890.

CONDITIONS.

That he forever abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors and from frequenting places where sold.

REASONS.

Sawdy, like so many others, had fallen a victim to strong drink and when drunk made the assault for which he received so severe a sentence. He is one of the men who has, judging from the closest tests that can be applied, reformed in prison. He has been a model worker and helper, and because of the unusual severity of the sentence and because of his reformed character and the belief in his future good conduct, he is this day pardoned.

ARTHUR STEINHOFF.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Shiawassee of murder in the second degree, and sentenced for 30 years from September 22, 1883. Pardoned December 30, 1890.

REASONS.

Steinhoff's surroundings had been of the worst character from his infancy up. He drank intoxicating liquors to excess and associated with the vile and corrupt, and in a drunken brawl was involved in a quarrel that ended in the death of one of the men. Steinhoff did not strike the blow that caused the man's death. His sentence was the more severe because of his general character.

In the prison he has secured an education, and I believe him to be a reformed man, and that he will be a good and useful citizen upon his release.

He is pardoned because of the unusual severity of the sentence, because of his excellent deportment in the prison, and because of great confidence in his future manhood, and upon condition that he signs a contract to forever abstain from the use of strong drink and visiting places where it is sold.

HARRY McDOWELL.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the Circuit Court for the county of Kent, of manslaughter, and sentenced for 15 years from April 1, 1886. Committed to six years with benefit of good time, Dec. 30, 1890.

REASONS.

I know of no mitigating circumstances connected with the commission of the offense. His sentence is commuted to six years with the benefit of good time through the more than heroic efforts made by his sister. She pleaded for his pardon, or for a commutation. I looked up the case and refused to do either. Still in agony she pleaded. Thinking that work in his behalf might be a relief to her overcharged feelings, I gave her a difficult task to perform, with a promise to reconsider the case if she performed it. The task was accomplished and again she returned to the attack, armed with new influence and information. But all of these did not convince. And I placed what seemed to me to be insurmountable obstacles in her way. In less than a year she overcame them all and returned with such an array of official and business names as seldom if ever appear on an application for executive clemency. And this is the reason why the commutation was issued.

And all of this leads me again and again to wonder why a being with a human soul, who has a sister, can ever be induced to offend the laws of God and man.

W. J. SCHICK.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Mason of forgery, and sentenced for one year from March 12, 1890. Pardoned Dec. 31, 1890.

REASONS.

Those who are familiar with the case express great doubts in relation to his real guilt. He has but 12 days to serve and upon the recommendation of many of the best citizens of Ludington the pardon is granted.

THOMAS CONKLIN.

Jackson Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for Delta county of murder in the second degree, and sentenced for 20 years from the 14th day of January 1879. Pardoned Dec. 31, 1890.

REASONS.

He is pardoned chiefly because the prison physician says that confinement to the close of his term will leave him insane. Conklin was not charged with being personally engaged in the murder but that he had guilty knowledge of the crime.

WILBERT A. WEIRS.

Ionia Prison—Convicted in the circuit court for the county of Ionia of larceny and sentenced for two years and six months from February 21, 1889. Pardoned Dec. 31, 1890.

REASONS.

There has always existed very grave doubts in regard to his identification and if certain testimony in the trial is true it is an impossibility that he could have committed the crime.

CYRUS G. LUCE.

Governor Winans then read his message as follows:

Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives:

The people of Michigan have entrusted to you the legislative control of public affairs for the next two years.

I cannot doubt that you feel the great responsibility which comes to you with the power to make laws affecting the varied interests of two million people, and that you will strive to exercise this power in a spirit of equality and fairness to all. Coming, as you do, direct from the people, a part and parcel of those whom you represent, with like experience and aspirations and material interests, and with intimate practical knowledge of their needs, you have only to be true to yourselves to serve well the interests of your people. The magnitude of the trust reposed in you will become more apparent as you proceed, and should be a constant incentive to give your best thought and energies to the faithful discharge of your duties.

Custom and the Constitution make it my duty to bring to your attention such matters of public concern as seem to me to require legislative action. To outline a sound public policy, or to propose a wise course of legislation, would require large public experience and great political wisdom. I can lay claim to neither, but I trust we are all actuated by the same motive, how best to discharge our official duties and serve the true interest of the people. In this spirit let us strive together to correct abuses and remove inequalities where they exist, and to make such needed reforms and regulations as experience and the voice of the people point out and demand at our hands. If we do this, we shall accomplish the object for which we were chosen, and justify the confidence reposed in us.

My predecessor has so fully and concisely laid before you the condition of public affairs that I can add little or nothing to the information you now have. His diligence and fidelity have made him familiar with the management of the various public institutions, and the measure of success or failure in their administration. I commend his conclusions and suggestions to your careful consideration.

I have visited the State Prison, the State University, the State Normal School, the School for the Deaf, and the Eastern Asylum, all of which seem to be in admirable condition. It was my intention to visit the other State institutions, that I might have some personal knowledge of their management and needs, but I have not as yet been able to do so. The growth of our institutions is vigorous, and their wants beyond their means. The question will be, not how much could they use, but how much can you grant. Most of them could make good use of more than they ask, but I feel sure that the various estimates have been made in the spirit of economy, and in view of the popular feeling against increased public expenditures.

STATE UNIVERSITY.

In submitting their estimates for the next two years I think the Regents of the University have acted in a spirit of the strictest economy. Their request is for $18,000 less than they asked two years ago, and $5,000 less than was then granted, yet the needs of the University, owing to largely increased attendance, are necessarily greater, and more room and accommodations are required. While visiting the institution observation convinced me that utility was the aim in all expenditures, and if the same policy is continued, as I think it will be, every dollar you may grant will be carefully and judiciously used.

The University of Michigan takes high rank in the educational world, and exerts a powerful influence on the intellectual life of the State and nation. I commend its interests to your favorable consideration.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.

The State Normal School is well organized and managed for its especial work, and results are satisfactory.

The State Board of Education estimates its needs at $104,960 for the next two years, as against $102,150 for the past two years. While there is an increase of students I think its efficiency can be maintained without additional cost. Some additional ground and some sewerage improvement are needed, but the necessity is not imperative at this time.

SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF.

The School for the Deaf is doing as satisfactory work as any of our public institutions. The class of children gathered there appeal strongly to our sympathy and should have your substantial support. The board ask for an increased appropriation over that of the past two years. In view of the public demand that taxation be lowered I think the material interests of the school need not suffer if their full request be not granted.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

I have been unable to visit the Agricultural College, but the State Board of Agriculture have sent me their estimates for the next two years, aggregating $52,620. While this does not seem a large sum for so important a school, the college has a substantial endowment fund, and if the board can, without injury to the college, prune their estimates, the farmers will appreciate the effect upon their taxes. The college is so near that I trust your committee will personally investigate its needs, and thus be able to do justice both to the college and your constituents.

OTHER INSTITUTIONS.

I commend also to your committees the interests of the School for the Blind and the Reform School. Opportunity will cheerfully be given for a full understanding of their respective needs. I regret my inability to visit them in person.

The State Public School, the Industrial School for Girls, and the Soldiers' Home, will, I trust, receive your earnest attention. I am unable to speak of them from personal knowledge, but they belong to our system and are justly entitled to their share of your attention.

ASYLUMS FOR THE INSANE.

At the Eastern Asylum I met members of the other Asylum Boards, and the needs of the three institutions were discussed. It was agreed that more room is required in all our asylums. This seems imperative, unless some plan can be devised to relieve them of a large class of patients who are harmless but incurable. It is obvious that if this class were returned to their friends, patients who could be benefited by treatment might be received. If the present practice is adhered to, the demand for more room will be continuous, and the cottage system will be far more economical than the multiplication of separate institutions. The reports submitted by the trustees give full information, and the care of our insane will require your serious consideration.

Michigan is advanced in her treatment of the mentally diseased, and one has only to visit our asylums to be convinced that these unfortunate people receive every needed care and comfort.

PRISONS AND REFORMATORIES.

The Prisons and Reformatories are among our most important institutions, not only as regards the value of the plants and the character of their work, but also as regards the policy which should control them. Successful prison management requires special qualifications in the Warden and his subordinates. Questions other than the confinement and support of convicts are involved in prison government, and long study and familiarity with criminal classes and their conditions are necessary to fit men to deal with them wisely. Believing that our prisons should have the best executive and business talent obtainable for their management, I have elsewhere recommended that all our penal institutions be placed under the control of a single board. This board should, so far as possible, be non-partisan, and should appoint the wardens and have general supervision of the institutions. The wardens of our prisons are the only officers at the head of State institutions who are appointed by the Governor. The other executive heads of institutions are appointed by the respective governing boards, and sound policy demands that the prison appointments be non-political.

ELECTION LAW.

All are agreed as to the desirability of ballot reform, and our new election law is generally approved as a step in the right direction. The booth feature gives every voter an opportunity to be alone with his ballot, and absolute secrecy is the best guaranty of purity in elections. A practical test of our law has shown that some amendments are needed to render it entirely efficient and satisfactory. I suggest the following:

1. Let the law apply to all elections.
2. Let the distribution or using of ballots outside the booths be prohibited under the severest penalties.
3. Let the ballots be printed by the county clerks under the supervision of the party committees, and be delivered by the county clerks to the inspectors of elections. Let the ballots be paid for by the State in all State elections, and by the townships and cities in township and municipal elections.
4. A more expeditious method of counting should be adopted.
5. I favor the Australian system, or some modification which would render unnecessary the use of slips or pasters.

WAGON ROADS.

I call your attention to the necessity for some change in the laws relating to the highways of the State.

The condition of all wagon roads last winter was sufficient proof that our present system of road making is a waste of time and labor. Roads ordinarily the best were last winter as bad as those on which little or no work had been done. Good wagon roads all the year round would be more to the general advantage, would add more to the value of farms, and yield comfort, convenience, and profit to a larger number of people than any other work for which public money is expended. We claim to be a practical people, but surely our road building has been a fialure. A vast amount of labor has been annually expended upon our roads for many years, but it has been done without system and without competent supervision. As a result the labor is largely wasted and yields no final improvement. The establishment of a general system of road making which would gradually, even if slowly, result in permanent good roads throughout the State would be a wise and beneficent reform.

TAXATION.

There is a general feeling among all classes, but more pronounced, perhaps, among the agricultural and industrial people, that public expenditures have increased much more rapidly than the ability of the people to pay, and that our civilization is becoming very expensive. Greater simplicity would better accord with the present circumstances and condition of our people.

There is no desire to lower our standard of civilization or impair the efficiency of our various institutions, but the people believe that simplicity and wise economy promote, rather than impede, human virtues and improvement. Our people are willing to support generously those public expenses which tend to the general welfare, but they also believe that State taxes are too high, and that no public institution need suffer if less tax was levied. Taxation has steadily increased year by year, while the ability to pay, at least by the largest class of taxpayers, the farmers, has diminished. There should be an effort made to reduce taxation. The demand that only careful and needed expenditures be authorized is imperative and should be heeded.

Your own wisdom and experience will suggest ways and means of affording relief, but I call attention to some features of our present system which seem to me to need correction.

Our system of State taxation needs a thorough revision for the purpose of equalizing the assessment on the two classes of property, that subject to specific tax, and that subject to local taxation. Every industry, business, and property interest should bear its just share of the burden of taxation, but, under our present system, that vast amount of property which pays a specific tax, pays at least one half less in proportion to its value than the property subject to direct and local taxation, thus adding to the burden of those least able to pay, and favoring the corporate wealth of our State.

Another just cause of complaint is that much property is now exempt from taxation that ought not to escape. There seems to be no good reason why property owned and used by railroad, mining, telegraph, and telephone companies, and other associations for private purposes should be exempt from general taxation. I doubt the policy of exempting any property from equal taxation. The granting of special privileges to any class affords just cause of complaint to the masses. I commend this subject of exemptions to your careful consideration.

Many who have given thought to the subject favor a return to the county system for the collection of delinquent taxes. I believe it would be less expensive and more efficient than the present system, which is, in my opinion, cumbersome and costly.

If each county were required to pay to the State its proportion of the State tax, and then given full control of all proceedings to enforce collection by the sale of land, etc., I believe a large saving to the State would follow, and it would make the officers of the townships and counties more watchful of their duties in seeing that the tax is properly and legally laid, and the enforcement of the law would be more certain.

Another feature of taxation which should have your attention is the taxation of real estate on which there is mortgage encumbrance. Justice to the owner of the real estate forbids levying a tax on a larger interest than he may have in the land, yet, for various reasons, it may be difficult to ascertain his exact interest. All agree that the mortgage is evidence of property and should be taxed. Mortgagor and mortgagee should, between them, pay taxes on the full value of the property. California has a statute under which the full tax may be paid by the owner of the land, and such proportion of the tax so paid as the indebtedness bears to the assessed value becomes a legal set-off against the mortgage. As our law stands, the owner of the land pays tax on the full value, be his real interest great or small, while the mortgagee, who is usually the better able to pay, either escapes taxation, or pays another tax on the same property. If the mortgagee is a non-resident of the State he pays no tax, which is a discrimination against our own people who have money to loan. In the interest of equal taxation I call your special attention to this feature.

I consider this question of taxation the most important with which you have to deal. Nearly all questions would be easy of solution if the cost was not to be considered, but every move costs money, and in the end the people must pay. The time has come when our people demand that unnecessary taxation must cease. State taxes must not increase. Let every request for public aid be sternly denied unless it can be shown that the money is needed for public purposes.

STATE BOARDS.

In this line of economical thought I call your attention to the number of State boards of from three to six members now authorized by law. There are fifteen ex-officio, and thirty official boards, the latter comprising more than one hundred different members. No salary is paid the members, but many of them receive expenses and per diem compensation, and some are allowed a secretary or clerk at a fixed salary. Aside from the question of expense, I believe the public interest would be better served by abolishing many of these boards. I favor having one board of control for all our prisons and reformatories, instead of one for each institution, as at present. Such a board would have the advantage of being able to compare financial and reformatory results in the different institutions, and could establish a uniform system of book-keeping so as to make such comparisons available. Clerical force could be reduced and more economical and efficient administration of these institutions secured. Such a board would be as well qualified to advise in the matter of pardons as the board now organized for that special purpose, and could also perform the duties now entrusted to the State Board of Corrections and Charities. A single board controls the prisons of England, another those of New York State, and I am informed the same policy is followed in most other states of the union.

A similar board could control our educational institutions. We already have a State Board of education whose principal duty is the management of the State Normal School. I believe good results would follow if all our State schools except the University and the Agricultural College were managed by the State Board of Education, and their present boards of control abolished.

With a third Board of Control for our asylums and charitable institutions we would have five boards instead of a dozen or more for the management of the institutions named. The establishment of a single Board of Control for each class of institutions, penal, charitable, and educational, with full control over and responsibility for their proper management would secure better supervision of these important interests. The business of the State should have the best executive talent obtainable, and, so far as practicable, the officers should not be liable to interference except for business reasons. It is for the interest of every citizen that the business of the State be done correctly and economically and based upon true theories.

The duties of the State Board of Health consist largely of the collection of statistics of sickness and meteorological conditions which affect the health of our people, and of scientific experiments relating to the nature and causes of disease. Provision is already made for the collection of many of these statistics in other ways, at public expense, and such other information as is useful could be collected and published by the Secretary of State.

The last Legislature appropriated more than $8,000 for a State Weather Service which if continued should give us the meteorological statistics needed. The Medical Department of the State University is supplied with an able corps of professors, and with all the facilities needed for experiment and instruction in the nature, causes and prevention of diseases, and thousands of intelligent physicians, educated under these advantages, are scattered throughout the State. The State Board of Health costs the taxpayers $15,000 or more annually, and I suggest that you consider whether the discontinuance of this board would be injurious to the public health.

INSURANCE POLICY COMMISSIONER.

We have an Insurance Policy Commissioner, who, with the Commissioner of Insurance and the Attorney General, form a commission to provide a standard form of insurance policy. I suggest the discontinuance of this commission and that the Commissioner of Insurance be required to perform its duties.

STATE GAME AND FISH WARDEN.

The preservation of our game and fish from wanton and unnecessary destruction should be wisely guarded by law. The present law provides for the appointment of a State Game and Fish Warden, at a fixed salary, whose duty it is with the aid of certain deputies, to enforce the statutes relating to birds, game and fish. There seems to be no valid reason why this class of laws cannot be enforced, like any other, by the proper prosecuting and police officers of the counties. I am informed that the Game Warden has very rarely conducted a prosecution in person, but it is done by the local prosecutor at his request. Without such request it is still the duty of a prosecuting attorney to see that all offenders are punished.

The Deputy Game Wardens must get their pay through the Boards of Supervisors, and in many cases the boards have refused any reasonable compensation, and hence the law has been unenforced.

I recommend that the law be so amended that the constables, sheriffs and deputy sheriffs of the counties be specially entrusted with its enforcement, such officers to receive the same fees that are allowed them in other criminal matters. If the changes suggested are made, the office of State Game and Fish Warden would seem unnecessary, and in such case I suggest its discontinuance. The opportunity you have for the discontinuance of appointive offices, without being charged with partisan motives, should be improved where it will serve the public good.

THE WORLD'S COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION.

The World's Columbian Exposition, to be held in a neighboring city, will be an event of great interest to the world at large, and particularly to the citizens of the United States. The federal government has liberally aided in providing the funds needed by the management, and Michigan is honored in the selection of one of her most esteemed citizens as President of the World's Fair Commission.

Our importance as a State, and the great variety and abundance of our products and resources, suggest the propriety of our being represented at the World's Fair by an adequate exhibit, and you will doubtless be asked to appropriate funds for that purpose. It will be for you to decide what will be for the interest of the State in this matter.

CONCLUSION.

Let us bear in mind, in all our official acts, that we are exercising delegated authority and are sent here to enact the popular will. Public sentiment plainly indicates that our people will no longer patiently submit to the steady increase of public expenditures which has continued through the past twenty-five years. They demand economical administration of public affairs. They demand the abolition of every unnecessary office. They demand that all who enjoy the protection of our laws shall contribute to the cost in just proportion to their means.

Our fidelity to the interests and rights of the masses will be the measure of our success. If we give to our public duties the care and zeal we give to our own affairs, the people will be quick to see and approve.

I assure you of my earnest desire to co-operate with you to the extent of my power in expediting your work and promoting the public good.

A business session, short and economical, will command popular approval.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

No. 2. By Mr. Tinklepaugh: Petition of Nels Carlson and 52 other residents of North and South Manitou Islands, asking to be set off from Manitou and annexed to Leelanaw county.

On demand of Mr. Tinklepaugh,

The petition was read at length and spread at large upon the Journal, as follows:

We the undersigned, residents of the North and South Manitou Islands, do hereby petition the Legislature of the State of Michigan to set off the said islands from Manitou county and annex them to Leelanaw county.

Sixty miles of open sea separates us from the county seat at Beaver Island, which makes it impossible for about nine months in the year to reach the county seat for any business whatever.

The right of suffrage is the pride and boast of the American heart. The right does not exist, and if it did, we could not exercise it because of the great inconveniences. Our voices in town, county, State, and national affairs have never yet been heard, however important they may be to us.

Our tax-rolls are made up and the collector comes and gathers the taxes, assessing an extra burden of seventy-five or one hundred dollars for the privilege, yet we have never been represented in county matters, nor does a cent ever find its way back for either school or township purposes. If we have any schools they are maintained by subscription. We can get no licensed teacher because of the inconvenience of getting a certificate. The burden of taxation comes, but gives in return none of those transcendent privileges and protection to which we should be entitled and of right ought to have.

We have no means of enforcing our rights by judicial procedure, because of the great distance and costs to obtain relief.

The islands are situated about twelve miles north of Leelanaw county and about fourteen miles from the county seat, which makes it an easy matter to go and come in a day.

A township organization could be effected, and all political business done with the county of Leelanaw without much expense and without danger to life.

To the end therefore that the said islands be set over and annexed to Leelanaw county, we most respectfully submit this petition for the kind consideration of the Legislature of Michigan, hoping it may receive favor at your hands and grant us this relief sought and so much needed.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

No. 10. By Mr. Spencer: Petition of James M. Shepard, W. E. Davis, Chas. H. Kimmerle, and 334 others, citizens of Cass county, praying for the repeal of certain local acts affecting Diamond and Stone lakes in said county.

On demand of Mr. Spencer the petition was read at length and spread at large upon the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable, the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

Your petitioners, citizens of LaGrange, Penn, Calvin and Jefferson townships in Cass county, respectfully ask for the repeal of act No. 450, laws of 1871 (Vol. 3, page 195), and act No. 451, laws of 1867 (Vol. 2, page 930), and act No. 361, laws of 1869 (Vol 2, page 882), the same being local acts affecting only Diamond and Stone lakes, which lie wholly within the four above named townships.

Sufficient provision for the protection and preservation of the food fishes in these lakes is made in an act approved June 7, 1889, and the retention of these earlier acts occasions needless annoyance to our people and renders the enforcement of proper game and fish laws unpopular and difficult.

The effect of the repeals asked for would be to permit the taking of fish, by hook and line only, throughout the year.

Referred to committee on fisheries.

On demand of Mr. Tinklepaugh, the petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows.

To the Honorable Legislature of the State of Michigan:

We do hereby petition you to enact a law requiring all farmers to cut and destroy, on or before September 1, each year, all milk weeds growing on their lands, with penalties same as the thistle law.

which it is now connected as a judicial circuit, and created into a separate and distinct judicial circuit.

On demand of Mr. Gibbons,

At a general term of the board of supervisors for the county of St. Clair, continued and held in the court house in the city of Port Huron, on Friday, the ninth day of January, A. D. 1891.

WHEREAS, The county of St. Clair now contains 60,000 inhabitants who are permanent residents of the county, and for most part persons identified with the various industries of the county;

AND WHEREAS, The said county now contains four incorporated cities, to-wit: Port Huron, Fort Gratiot, St. Clair and Marine City, the said Port Huron containing 14,000 inhabitants, and each of the other said cities containing upwards of three thousand inhabitants;

AND WHEREAS, The value of legal business in the circuit court for the county of St. Clair required in said county, and the several municipalities, has become so great within the past six years that at no time within the said six years has the circuit court for said county been able to dispose of the business of the said court and is now far behind in its business;

AND WHEREAS, It has become impossible, owing to the volume of business in the court, for litigants to have their causes tried and determined with any degree of promptness because of the large volume of business on hand. It is, therefore, the sense of the board of supervisors of the county of St. Clair, now in session, that the said county of St. Clair should be set apart from the county of Macomb, with which it is now connected as a judicial circuit, as a separate and distinct judicial circuit.

Resolved, That the Legislature be and is hereby requested to set apart the county of St. Clair as a separate judicial circuit, and that the members of the Legislature from this county be requested to do all within their power to secure such action.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

No. 21 by Mr. Spencer: Petition of C. S. Whitmore and 17 others with reference to the teaching of "sectarian medicine" in the State University.

On demand of Mr. Spencer the petition was read at length and spread at large upon the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and the House of Representatives of the State of Michigan in Legislature assembled:

We, the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of the town of Dailey, county of Cass, most respectfully petition your honorable body to withhold all appropriations intended for the support of any form of sectarianism in our public institutions.

We would respectfully call your attention to the alleged teaching of sectarian medicine in our State University and request your investigation of the same, and if any is found to exist, to withhold appropriations therefor, and so far as in your power to remove it from the institution.

We believe in the principle set forth by a resolution passed by the board of regents December 31, 1851, that the University stands for science and sound learning, and that "it should be the duty of every citizen of the entire State to watch and guard it assiduously and see that it be not by any means perverted, or directly or indirectly used for the inculcation of political, medical, or religious dogmas," and that any medical school, supported by, or under the auspices of, the State, should be broad and liberal, that no teachers of exclusive systems, or with sectarian titles, should be supported therein, but that the claims of all systems should be fairly presented to the students by non-partisan teachers.

No. 23. By Mr. Tripp: Petition of Alfred Webb, E. F. H. Pierson and 30 other resident taxpayers of Oakland county, praying for an act prohibiting the use of ferrets in hunting rabbits.

Referred to committee on fisheries.

No. 24. By Mr. Miner: Memorial of W. R. Montgomery relative to the fees and services of register of deeds.

On demand of Mr. Miner the memorial was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

Memorial of William R. Montgomery, ex-register of deeds of the county of Hillsdale, State of Michigan,

To the Honorable, the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

Would suggest and respectfully advise:

That the laws of this State regulating the fees and services of the register of deeds be modified as follows:

That all records of deeds and other instruments be recorded in plain manuscript, except in the cases (if at all) of conveyance of other instruments whose forms have been prescribed by laws of this State.

That no printed records be used in any case except upon the order and consent of the board of supervisors of the county.

That the fees of recording any instrument, whose length does not exceed 600 words, shall be 60 cents.

(N. B.—The labor of entering, filing for record, certifying, indexing and delivering being the same without reference to the length of deed).

That the fees of recording all instruments exceeding in length 600 words shall be at the rate of ten cents per 100 words and for any fraction over 50 words; all fractions under 50 words to be rejected and not charged for.

That the fees for recording a deed shall include the entering for record, the comparing, the certifying on the back of the deed and on the face of the face of the record of the deed, the indexing in all the indexes used in the office and delivering the same. The fees for discharging a mortgage on the margin of the record shall be 20 cents. The fees for entering on the margin of the record of a mortgage a minute of any instrument discharging, assigning, or otherwise affecting said mortgage, shall be ten cents.

All indexes in use in the several counties, made at the expense of the counties, or by the register of deeds, for the consideration of using those already made as well as those required by law to be made, shall be equally free for the use of the public. In searching the records on request, for the purpose of ascertaining the title to any piece or pieces of land, unless otherwise ordered, the register of deeds shall examine for the 20 years immediately preceding the date of the search or examination. For making such search or examination, and declaring the result as it appears, including all conveyances, liens, levies and notices, the register of deeds shall be allowed to charge six cents for each year searched. If an abstract of the deeds, mortgages, liens, levies, etc., be required in writing, the register of deeds may charge in addition for each minute of deed, mortgage, lien, levy or notice six cents, and for his certificate 10 cents.

For recording deeds or other instruments, exceeding 600 words in length, the register of deeds shall not be entitled to charge for recording the printed part of such instruments recorded on printed books.

In view of the interlineations and erasures made in printed records, it would seem not unwise to interdict by law, as they do in the State of Indiana, all printed record books.

The undersigned respectfully submits the foregoing hints and suggestions to the wisdom of your honorable body.

Dated, City of Hillsdale, Mich., January 15, 1891.

WM. R. MONTGOMERY.

No. 25. Mr. Kolvoord: Resolution of the board of supervisors of Allegan county relative to delinquent taxes.

On demand of Mr. Kolvoord, the resolution was read at length and spread at large upon the Journal as follows:

Supervisor Baldwin offered the following resolution:

WHEREAS, The present system of the return of delinquent tax lands to the Auditor General, by each county, is an enormous and increasing expense upon the taxpayers of the State of Michigan;

AND WHEREAS, This enormous and unnecessary expense can be avoided by suitable legislation, giving each county the control of its delinquent tax lands;

AND WHEREAS, By the present system of keeping accounts with each county, it is impossible for the county treasurers of the several counties to understand the method of keeping the several accounts with the State. Said accounts being now arbitrarily kept by the State, the several counties have only to submit to the accounts made by the State officers and no balance can be made of accounts at any time between the State and county. The counties have to submit to the demands of the State upon them without knowing whether correct or not.

AND WHEREAS, It would simplify and lessen the expense to the taxpayers of the State for each county to pay over to the State its apportionment of State taxes in money and for each county to deal with its own delinquent tax lands; therefore, be it

Resolved, That our State Senator and members of the Legislature be requested to use their best endeavors to secure legislation to that end, and as recommended and set forth in the exaugural address of his Excellency, Hon. Cyrus G. Luce, and the inaugural of his Excellency, Hon. Edwin B. Winans, Governor of the State of Michigan, and that the clerk of this board send a copy of this preamble to the Hon. Jan W. Garvelink, Hon. R. C. Eaton, and Hon. John Kolvoord, at Lansing, Michigan.

Dated, January 10, A. D. 1891.

Upon motion the above resolution was adopted by the board.

CHARLES L. BARRETT, Clerk.

On demand of Mr. Raymond the petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

The undersigned citizens of Michigan respectfully petition your Honorable body to follow the example of Ohio, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and other States, and create a food commission for the State of Michigan. The people of this State are paying many thousands of dollars yearly for adulterated food products which are sold for one reason only: to allow some one an unreasonable and undeserved profit. The sale of such products is an outrage upon producer and consumer alike, and the cost of supporting a commission, which will relieve the people of the State of the extortions practiced, will be saved many times, besides providing a purer food supply, the value of which cannot be estimated in dollars and cents.

No. 57. By Mr. Shull: Petition of Drs. Samuel Catlin, W. A. Frost, L. G. North and five other physicians and eighty-six citizens of Tecumseh, Lenawee county, Mich., representing different schools of medicine and the several political parties, protesting against the abolishment of the State Board of Health.

On demand of Mr. Shull,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable, the Senate and the House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

We, the undersigned physicians of Tecumseh and vicinity, without respect to school of medicine or party politics, respectfully petition your honorable body not to abolish "The State Board of Health."

Our reasons, briefly stated, are as follows:

The State Board of Health is, in various ways, teaching sanitary science to both physician and people, and in such a way that both are believing and practicing its teachings.

It is uniting the efforts of the physician and the people in restricting and preventing the spread of contagious diseases.

It is not only saving many from sickness, with its attendant anxiety, suffering, danger, loss of time, and expense, but by preventing the spread of contagious diseases. It is yearly saving many valuable lives.

Each adult life is worth $1,000 to the State; and if, of our two million inhabitants, but thirty are saved each year, the State is more than reimbursed for all the expenses of the board.

The State Board is the head of all the local boards of health, and if it is abolished the efficiency of the whole system is destroyed.

Its abolishment will be regarded by scientific men everywhere as a step backward by the great State of Michigan.

Samuel Catlin,
W. A. Frost,
L. G. North,
O. Q. Jones,

J. F. Jenkins,
C. M. Woodward,
Geo. Howell,
Lemon Barnes.

We, the undersigned, citizens and taxpayers of Tecumseh and vicinity, do most heartily concur in the above petition.

Signed by 86 citizens of Tecumseh, Lenawee county.

Referred to the committee on public health.

On demand of Mr. Cook,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal, as follows:

To the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

WHEREAS, It has come to our knowledge that the township board of the township of Chester, county of Ottawa, has asked by their unanimous vote, backed by an almost unanimously signed petition from the citizens and taxpayers of said township, that the Legislature of this State, now in session, should pass an act to detach the said township of Chester from the county of Ottawa and annex the same to the county of Muskegon;

WHEREAS, The geographical position of said township of Chester is such that being connected directly by wagon roads and by the only two railroads that pass through or touch the said township with the city of Muskegon, the county seat of the said county of Muskegon, making the said city and county seat the natural and nearest market for the products of the said township of Chester, making it very desirable that the people of said township should also be able to transact their county business at this same said city, which is always easily accessible;

WHEREAS, The interest of the said township of Chester and the convenience of its people will be largely enhanced by annexation to the county of Muskegon, as set forth by the board of the township of Chester and the petition of the people thereof to the Legislature of the State; therefore, by the board of supervisors of the county of Muskegon, now in session at the county seat, at the city of Muskegon, this 9th day of January, A. D. 1891, be it

Resolved, That we, as individuals, and as a body corporate, ask the Legislature of the State, now assembled, to hear the petition of the board and people of the said township of Chester and grant their prayer, believing the best interest of the petitioners will be served thereby and without hurt or damage to any;

Resolved, That attested copies of the above be sent to our Senator and Representative at Lansing and ask that they present the same to their respective bodies, and that they urge the passage of the bill whereby the wishes of the people of the said township of Chester may be realized and their petition granted.

The bill was ordered printed, referred to the committee of the whole and placed on the general order.

By the committee on Michigan State Insane Asylum:

Your committee on Michigan State Insane Asylum, beg leave to report that they have visited the Asylum at Kalamazoo, and have made a thorough inspection of the several departments of the institution. Everything appeared to be in good order, and the patients were apparently well cared for and contented. Your committee took particular pains to ascertain the necessity of the different improvements, for which an appropriation is asked, and came to the conclusion that the amounts asked for can be materially reduced without impairing the usefulness of the Asylum, as some of the improvements are quite unnecessary at the present time.

During our visit we were informed that the employés of the Asylum were at times compelled to forfeit part of their salary as fines, in case they violated the rules of the institution or failed to carry out the provisions of the contract which they are required to sign before being employed. Although it appears that such fines were collected during the past two years, we fail to find anything in the report of the Asylum explaining the collecting and disposition of moneys received from this source.

After our visit to the Asylum we were called upon by a number of people of Kalamazoo, who made statements which greatly reflect upon the Asylum and its management. These statements, supported by sworn affidavits, which were placed in our hands, although giving accounts of events which purported to have transpired some years ago, and prior to the last session of the Legislature, have, it appears, never been investigated, and as the affidavits contain some very aggravating charges pertaining to the treatment of inmates, and withholding of wages belonging to employés, we consider it eminently necessary that the matter be thoroughly investigated.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN M. HERZ,
SAMUEL MILLER,
JAMES W. GRAHAM,
SELAH H. RAYMOND,
WILLARD HAWLEY,

Committee.

Referred to the committee on ways and means.

No. 78. By Mr. St. Clair: Remonstrance of Nicholas Laughlin, Jas. Quinn and 171 other citizens of Marquette county against the formation of the county of Dickinson.

On demand of Mr. St. Clair,

The remonstrance was read at length, and spread at large upon the Journal as follows:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

Your petitioners the undersigned citizens of the county of Marquette would respectfully protest against the passage of the bill now before the Legislature to organize the new county of Dickinson from territory belonging to the counties of Menominee, Iron and Marquette for the following reasons:

First, It would largely increase the taxation upon the property within the limits of the proposed county for the purpose of erecting county buildings and keeping a county organization;

Second, It would benefit no one within said proposed county except the few who might be elected to county offices;

Third, It would seriously cripple the townships of Tilden, Ely and Humboldt and injure the township of Republic in this county and largely increase the local taxation of the county of Marquette;

Fourth, It would increase the percentage of taxation for county purposes in Marquette county by decreasing the amount of property to pay such taxes;

Fifth, There is no united public sentiment within the boundaries of the proposed county in favor of the passage of the bill, and lastly, its erection would be a costly extravagance to the taxpayers and create a swarm of unnecessary officeholders to live at the expense of the people, when the duty of the hour is retrenchment and reform.

Referred to the committee on towns and counties.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan, in Legislature assembled:

We, the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of the town of Richmond, county of Macomb, most respectfully petition your honorable body to withhold all appropriations intended for the support of any form of sectarianism in our public institutions.

We would respectfully call your attention to the alleged teaching of sectarian medicine in our State University and request your investigation of the same, and if any is found to exist, to withhold appropriations therefor, and so far as in your power to remove it from the institution.

We believe in the principle set forth by a resolution passed by the Board of Regents December 31, 1851, that the University stands for science and sound learning, and that "it should be the duty of every citizen of the entire State to watch and guard it assiduously and see that it be not by any means perverted, or directly or indirectly used for the inculcation of political, medical, or religious dogmas," and that any medical school, supported by, or under the auspices of, the State, should be broad and liberal, that no teachers of exclusive systems, or with sectarian titles, should be supported therein, but that the claims of all systems should be fairly presented to the students by non-partisan teachers.

No. 100. By Mr. Perkins: Petition of James H. Gee, Isaac Wilkinson and 148 others, taxpayers of the township of Norway against the division of the county of Menominee.

On demand of Mr. Perkins,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan.

The undersigned, residents and tax-payers of the township of Norway, respectfully remonstrate against a division of the county of Menominee at the present session of the Legislature.

The erection of a new county will necessarily cause an increase in taxation.

The business portion of Norway was destroyed by fire about two years ago. From the loss thus occasioned our people have not yet fully recovered. The present rate of taxes is all that they can pay without a positive hardship, and the imposition of an additional and unnecessary burden should not be made.

The erection of a new county is not necessary. A county seat at a point less remote from this township than is the city of Menominee, would be more convenient and the railroad fare going to and returning therefrom would be less, but the increase in taxation will more than offset the benefits of convenience and reduced traveling expenses. The number of our people who are compelled to travel to the county seat yearly is comparatively very trifling, and the few who have business which occasionally calls them to the county seat are better able to bear the expense individually than the whole body of taxpayers to meet the expense attendant upon the organization, equipment and maintenance of a new county.

Our people are threatened with a water famine. We should have made provision for this during the last few years but hesitated solely because we felt unable to bear the expense. The conditions now are such that we find the question of an adequate supply of water for both domestic and fire purposes demanding immediate attention, and we respectfully suggest that to tax us for a luxury while we find necessary taxation a hardship, would be unjust.

No. 107. By Mr. Orth; Petition of Thomas Ryan, Norman Harris and others, voters and homesteaders in the county of Houghton, for an appropriation of $15,000 to clean the channel of the Ontonagon river.

On demand of Mr. Orth,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

Your petitioners, who are citizens, voters, taxpayers, and homesteaders in Houghton county, State of Michigan, respectfully petition your honorable body for an appropriation of fifteen thousand ($15,000) dollars to clean the channel of the Ontonagon river, in towns forty seven (47) north, thirty-six (36) west; and forty-seven (47) north, thirty-seven (37) west; forty-eight (48) north, thirty-seven (37) west; and forty-eight (48) north, thirty-eight (38) west, from rocks and other obstructions, so that logs and other timber can be floated down the stream.

We would experience great benefits from the cleaning out of the river, as it would enable us to get our lumber to market. We could clear and drain our farms if the river was cleaned out.

Our soil is a clay loam. Most of our people are poor, and many of us will have to abandon our homesteads unless we can get help in this way. The land in this country is mostly held by homesteaders. It is impossible to make roads on which it would pay us to haul our wood and other timber to market.

The sections through which that part of the Ontonagon river runs which we wish to have cleared from rocks and other obstructions, are described as follows:

In town forty-seven (47) north, thirty-six (36) west, sections thirty-three (33), twenty-eight (28), twenty-nine (29), twenty (20), seventeen (17), eighteen (18), seven (7).

In town forty-seven (47) north, thirty-seven (37) west, sections twelve (12), eleven (11), ten (10), three (3), four (4), five (5); in town forty-eight (48) north, thirty-seven (37) west, sections thirty-two (32), twenty-nine (29), thirty (30), nineteen (19), twenty (20), eighteen (18), seven (7).

In town forty-eight (48) north, thirty-eight (38) west, sections twelve (12), one (1), two (2).

Resolved, By said citizens of St. Joseph county, Michigan, in convention assembled, that we are earnestly opposed to said bill and any interference with our present law providing for such Board of Health; and

No. 113. By Mr. Tinklepaugh: Petition of David Morton and 61 other citizens of Grand Traverse county asking for the abolition of sectarianism in medical practice from the University of Michigan.

On demand of Mr. Tinklepaugh the petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and the House of Representatives of the State of Michigan, in Legislature assembled:

We, the undersigned, citizens and taxpayers of the town of Whitewater, county of Grand Traverse, most respectfully petition your honorable body to withhold all appropriations intended for the support of any form of sectarianism in our public institutions.

We would respectfully call your attention to the alleged teaching of sectarian medicine in our State University and request your investigation of the same, and if any is found to exist, to withhold appropriations therefor, and so far as in your power to remove it from the institution.

We believe in the principle set forth by a resolution passed by the board of regents December 31, 1851, that the University stands for science and sound learning, and that "it should be the duty of every citizen of the entire State to watch and guard it assiduously and see that it be not by any means perverted, or directly or indirectly used for the inculcation of political, medical, or religious dogmas," and that any medical school supported by, or under the auspices of, the State, should be broad and liberal, that no teachers of exclusive systems, or with sectarian titles, should be supported therein, but that the claims of all systems should be fairly presented to the students by non-partisan teachers.

On demand of Mr. Wagner,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

Your petitioners, the undersigned citizens of the county of Marquette, would respectfully protest against the passage of the bill now before the Legislature to organize the new county of Dickinson from territory belonging to the counties of Menominee, Iron and Marquette, for the following reasons:

First, It would largely increase the taxation upon the property within the limits of the proposed county for the purpose of erecting county buildings and keeping up a county organization;

Second, It would benefit no one within said proposed county except a few who might be elected to county offices;

Third, It would seriously cripple the townships of Tilden, Ely and Humboldt, and injure the township of Republic, in this county, and largely increase the local taxation of the county of Marquette;

Fourth, It would increase the percentage of taxation for county purposes in Marquette county by decreasing the amount of property to pay such taxes;

Fifth, There is no united public sentiment within the boundaries of the proposed county in favor of the passage of the bill; and lastly, its erection would be a costly extravagance to the taxpayers and create a swarm of unnecessary officeholders to live at the expense of the people, when the duty of the hour is retrenchment and reform;

Resolved, That it is the sense of this board, that under existing circumstances and geographical position of the people of the city of Iron Mountain and vicinity, the division of the county of Menominee and the establishment of a new county as asked for is advisable, but that we oppose the detachment of townships forty-two (42) and forty-three (43) north, of ranges twenty-eight (28), twenty-nine (29) and thirty (30) west from county of Iron unless townships forty-five (45) and forty-six (46) north, of range thirty-one (31), thirty-two (32), thirty-three (33) and thirty-four (34) west, be detached from the county of Marquette and attached to the county of Iron in lieu of territory proposed to be taken.

Batavia, Mich., January 24, 1891.

To the Honorable The Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan, in Legislature convened:

Batavia grange, P. of H., No. 95, Branch county, Michigan, have passed the following resolution:

WHEREAS, We believe to appropriate $50,000 for the coming G. A. R. encampment, to be held in the city of Detroit, would be an unjust tax; therefore,

Resolved, That we ask your honorable body to use all honorable means to defeat the passage of the bill asking for the appropriation.

J. A. MARTIN,

Secretary of Batavia Grange No. 95.

Referred to the committee on ways and means.

No. 125. By Mr. St. Clair: Petition of Edwin Sterne and 59 other citizens of Marquette county against organization of the county of Dickinson from the territory of Menominee, Iron and Marquette counties.

On demand of Mr. St. Clair, the petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

Your petitioners, the undersigned citizens of the county of Marquette, would respectfully protest against the passage of the bill now before the Legislature to organize the new county of Dickinson from territory belonging to the counties of Menominee, Iron and Marquette, for the following reasons:

First, It would largely increase the taxation upon the property within the limits of the proposed county for the purpose of erecting county buildings and keeping up a county organization;

Second, It would benefit no one within said proposed county except a few who might be elected to county offices;

Third, It would seriously cripple the townships of Tilden, Ely and Humboldt and injure the township of Republic in this county, and largely increase the local taxation of the county of Marquette;

Fourth, It would increase the percentage of taxation for county purposes in Marquette county by decreasing the amount of property to pay such taxes;

Fifth, There is no united public sentiment within the boundaries of the proposed county in favor of the passage of the bill; and lastly, its erection would be a costly extravagance to the taxpayers and create a swarm of unnecessary officeholders to live at the expense of the people when the duty of the hour is retrenchment and reform.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

No. 126. By Mr. Houghton: Petition of G. W. Bray, John B. Reed, J. W. Smith and 218 others, relative to the taking of toll and the exchanging of wheat for flour.

On demand of Mr. Houghton the petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan, Greeting:

In connection with petition No. 38, we the undersigned citizens of the State of Michigan,

Resolve, Whereas under existing statutes there is no law governing the flouring business, and whereas the millers are exchanging flour for wheat on a basis established by themselves, taking from two to three times as much toll as formerly, which is to the disadvantage of the producer; therefore we petition your honorable body to enact laws, which will give to the producer their just dues.

And your petitioners will ever pray.

Referred to the committee on State affairs.

No. 127. By Mr. Lambert: Petition of Henry A. Chapin and 500 others relative to amendment of fish laws.

Referred to committee on fisheries.

No. 128. By Mr. Osborn: Petition of W. F. Patterson, F. L. Burdic, Levi Cole and 76 others asking for the repeal of No. 367 of the session laws of 1871 relative to the erection of a dam across the St. Joseph river in the village of Mendon.

On demand of Mr. Osborn,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable, the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

Your petitioners, residents of the village and township of Mendon, St. Joseph county, and State of Michigan, respectfully represent that by act

No. 367 of the session laws of 1871, approved March 22, 1871, Edwin Stewart, Lewis B. Lyman, Hosea Barnebee, Abram H. Voorhees, and Gersham P. Doan, their heirs and assigns, were authorized and empowered to erect and maintain a dam across the St. Joseph river, on section 26, in township 5 south, of range 10 west, in the county of St. Joseph.

Your petitioners further represent, that nothing has ever been done under said act by the parties therein named, or either of them towards erecting such dam, or in anywise creating a water power on said river, that your petitioners believe in consequence of the improvement of lands and erection of buildings along said river, on said section 26, the cost of flow grounds and raceway would be so great that the damming of said river at that point would be entirely impracticable.

Your petitioners further represent, that they have caused a survey and level of said river, and adjoining lands to be made on section 27 in said township, being below, or down stream, on said river, and find that they can obtain an equally valuable water power, at much less cost, for flow grounds and raceway, and for purposes of building manufactories.

Your petitioners therefore ask that your honorable bodies repeal said act 367 of 1871, and pass an act authorizing and empowering Edwin Stewart, Ambrose J. Benedict, Gersham P. Doan, Roderick E. Fletcher and L. B. Osgood, to erect and maintain a dam, not exceeding six feet in height, across the St. Joseph river, on said section 27, in township 5 south, of range 10 west, in the county of St. Joseph and State of Michigan.

And your petitioners will ever pray.

Dated February 2, 1891.

No. 138. By Mr. Hayward: Memorial of the board of trustees of the Eastern Asylum for the Insane.

On demand of Mr. Hayward,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal, as follows:

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

WHEREAS, At a meeting of the joint boards of trustees of the Michigan asylums of the insane, held at the Eastern Michigan Asylum, at Pontiac, on the 20th day of November, 1890, it was "Resolved, That these joint boards unanimously recommend that an increase of accommodation be furnished at the Michigan Asylum for the Insane, at Kalamazoo, for 100; at the Eastern Michigan Asylum, at Pontiac, for 200, and at the Northern Michigan Asylum, at Traverse City, for 150 more insane patients, and all on the successful and economical 'cottage plan' now in operation;" and

WHEREAS, The necessity for additional provision for the insane in the district for the Eastern Michigan Asylum remains pressing and urgent, and at the recent visit of the legislative committees to the asylum the board of trustees was requested to make an estimate of the amount necessary to be appropriated for the erection of cottages to provide for the needs of this district during the present biennial period; and

WHEREAS, the legislative committees having made this request, a special meeting of the board of trustees was held at the Eastern Michigan Asylum, on the 31st day of January, 1891, at which meeting, a full board being present, the subject was presented for discussion, and it was resolved that the undersigned be appointed a committee to prepare for the Legislature a memorial, setting forth the necessity of providing accommodation at once for at least 200 additional patients in the district of the Eastern Michigan Asylum, and that in the opinion of the board the necessary cottages can be erected at a cost of $300 per capita per patient;

Therefore, this committee, acting on behalf of the board of trustees, would respectfully memorialize your honorable body to make an appropriation for the erection of cottages in connection with the Eastern Michigan Asylum for the accommodation of two hundred additional patients, at a cost not to exceed $300 per capita, and would respectfully represent that, by reason of the crowded condition of the Eastern Michigan Asylum, the institution has accumulated a surplus which will enable it to pay from one-third to one-half of the cost of such additional provision.

The committee would further represent that, in view of the importance of the continuance of milk, an inexpensive and nutritious article of food, upon the regular dietary of the Asylum, it is important that arrangements be perfected whereby additional land may be purchased to accommodate the larger herd of cows necessitated by the recent and prospective increase in the population of the Asylum.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

No. 139. By Mr. Harry: Petition of Thomas E. Burgan and 16 others, asking for the abolition of sectarian medicine in the University.

On demand of Mr. Harry,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan, in Legislature assembled:

We, the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of the town of Lake Linden, county of Houghton, most respectfully petition your honorable body to withhold all appropriations intended for the support of any form of sectarianism in our public institutions.

We would respectfully call your attention to the alleged teaching of sectarian medicine in our State University and request your investigation of the same, and if any is found to exist, to withhold appropriations therefor, and so far as in your power to remove it from the institution.

We believe in the principle set forth by a resolution passed by the Board of Regents, December 31, 1851, that the University stands for science and sound learning, and that "it should be the duty of every citizen of the entire State to watch and guard it assiduously and see that it be not by any means perverted, or directly or indirectly used for the inculcation of political, medical, or religious dogmas," and that any medical school, supported by, or under the auspices of, the State, should be broad and liberal, that no teachers of exclusive systems, or with sectarian titles, should be supported therein, but that the claims of all systems should be fairly presented to the students by non-partisan teachers.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM STATE OFFICERS.

STATE TREASURER'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, February 5, 1891. }

To the Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR—In compliance with the adopted resolutions of Mr. Cook asking for information in regard to war bounty bonds, as mentioned in act 24 of laws of 1864, act 85 of public acts of 1865, and act 295 of public acts of 1865, will say

From the information I can gather from the State Treasurer's books and Auditor General I find bonds to the amount of $500,000 seem to have been issued between the dates of July 1, 1864, and November 30, 1865, under act 24 of laws of 1864, approved February 5, 1864, extra session; also $806,000 of bonds issued under act 85 of public acts of 1865, approved March 2, 1865, issued between the dates of May 1, 1865, and September 30, 1871.

I cannot find that any bonds were issued under act 295 of the public acts of 1865, the total amount of such bonds (called war bounty loan bonds) being $1,306,000.

As to the total amount of the avails of said bonds I cannot give a correct amount, as the avails of said bonds was credited to a "war fund" on the Treasurer's books at that time, and in this fund are other credits which do not appear to come from the sales of the war bounty bonds of the acts.

I can only estimate from the books. They appear to show that the amount of premium and interest credited to the "war fund" from sales of said bonds was about $5,846.92.

It appears no account was kept in the name of the fund, as required by the several acts, but that the proceeds of the sales of the bonds went to the "war fund," so called.

Very respectfully,

A. D. GARNER,
Deputy State Treasurer.

The communication was laid on the table.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

No. 163. By Mr. Orth: Petition of F. F. Taylor, R. C. Simmons and others in reference to sectarian medicine in the State University.

On demand of Mr. Orth the petition was read at length and spread at length on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and the House of Representatives of the State of Michigan in Legislature assembled:

We, the undersigned, citizens and taxpayers of the town of East Tawas, county of Iosco most respectfully petition your honorable body to withhold all appropriations intended for the support of any form of sectarianism in our public institutions.

We would respectfully call your attention to the support that has for the past fifteen years been given to a sectarian college of medicine in our State University, and ask that it be discontinued. The appropriations for this college amount to about $20,000 yearly. We believe this is not only unjust to the taxpayers, but establishes a dangerous precedent, tending to subvert the fundamental principles of our public school system, which refuses to recognize sectarianism in any form or allow of any division of the school funds to satisfy its demands. Such appropriations are not only wrong in principle, but become a growing evil, as is well illustrated by the demand of homœopathy for recognition in our University. At first its representatives asked for the appointment of only one teacher of their peculiar sectarian views, and having a title indicative of his sectarian work. In time their demands increased to a request for two such teachers. At nearly every session of the Legislature this demand has increased until by act of the last Legislature the number of such teachers was increased to five full professors and four assistants. The instruction in all the fundamental branches of medicine is still furnished to the homœopathic students by the teachers in the department of medicine and surgery, and requires a share of the time of eight full professors in this department, besides that of several of the assistants.

Previous to 1875 the students of homœopathic medicine were educated in the department of medicine and surgery on equality with other students and with no extra expense to the State. Those that completed the course received the degree of Doctor of Medicine. This degree is non-sectarian and leaves its possessor free to adopt any system of practice he may deem most appropriate for the cure of any case he may have under his care.

We believe that any medical school supported by or under the auspices of the State, should be broad and liberal, that no teachers of exclusive systems, or with sectarian titles, should be supported therein, but that the claims of all systems should be fairly presented to the students by non-partisan teachers. If otherwise, then faith cure, hydropathy, botanical medicine, and every other sect in medicine should have the same recognition and support by the State that has been accorded to the followers of Hahnemann.

In the department of literature, science and arts there should be two schools of political economy, in one of which students should hear only the doctrine of free trade, while in the other protection only should be expounded. Spiritualists and every other sect should have their separate schools of philosophy, while in literature and history every sect should have its own special teachers to give such instruction in these branches as may still further bias their students in the direction they may wish. Such a state of affairs would soon destroy our common school system, and to remove all precedents having such a tendency, and to relieve the taxpayers of the State from unnecessary burdens, we petition your honorable body to withhold all appropriations intended for sectarian purposes and, so far as in your power, to abolish it from our State University and other public institutions.

On demand of Mr. A. A. Smith,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

Hillsdale County, Michigan.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan, in Legislature convened:

The following preamble and resolutions were adopted unanimously by Adams Grange No. 286, with request that they be sent to our Senator and Representative for their careful consideration, requesting support of the measures therein contained:

WHEREAS, The county system of school examiners is constantly growing in disfavor, the superintendent seldom or never visiting the schools in the rural districts, therefore can know but little of their needs or requirements;

AND WHEREAS, We believe the system tends to the centralization of power, to corruption and to favoritism, which works injustice to the public and harm to the schools;

AND WHEREAS, We believe the county system has proved to be an expensive failure and a stumbling block in the path of educational progress; therefore

Resolved, That the law creating the county system should be repealed and a law re-establishing the old township system, or some township system less expensive and more efficient than the present, be enacted, which system shall not be the recently proposed township unit system, so generally looked upon with disfavor.

No. 170. By Mr. St. Clair:

Protest of Walter Fitch, supervisor, W. H. Williams, and 462 other citizens of Champion township, Marquette county, against the organization of Dickinson county.

On demand of Mr. St. Clair, the petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

Your petitioners, the undersigned citizens of the county of Marquette, would respectfully protest against the passage of the bill now before the Legislature to organize the new county of Dickinson from territory belonging to the counties of Menominee, Iron and Marquette for the following reasons:

First, It would largely increase the taxation upon the property within the limits of the proposed county for the purpose of erecting county buildings and keeping a county organization;

Second, It would benefit no one within said proposed county except a few who might be elected to county offices;

Third, It would seriously cripple the townships of Tilden, Ely and Humboldt and injure the township of Republic in this county and largely increase the local taxation of the county of Marquette;

Fourth, It would increase the percentage of taxation for county purposes in Marquette county by decreasing the amount of property to pay such taxes;

Fifth, There is no united public sentiment within the boundaries of the proposed county in favor of the passage of the bill; and lastly, its erection would be a costly extravagance to the taxpayers and create a swarm of unnecessary officeholders to live at the expense of the people when the duty of the hour is retrenchment and reform.

Referred to committee on towns and counties.

No. 171. By Mr. Dafeo: Petition of Wm. Briley and eleven others, to incorporate the public schools of the township of Wheatfield, Montmorency county.

Referred to committee on education.

No. 172. By Mr. Collins: Petition of Henry D. Woodward, D. Millard and many others, in reference to a law whereby bridges across the several rivers in the county of Newaygo, costing $300 or more, shall hereafter be built and maintained by the said county.

Referred to committee on roads and bridges.

No. 173. By Mr. Bullock: Resolution of associations of Patrons of Industry Nos. 101, 92 and 308, in reference to various subjects.

On demand of Mr. Bullock the petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

Resolved, By associations Nos. 101, 92 and 308, Patrons of Industry, that we ask the enactment of laws by our legislators now in session as follows;

First, An act fixing the rates of legal advertising at one-half the amount now allowed by law;

Second, A uniform system of text books for the primary schools of the State, published by authority of the State Board of Education, and furnished the people at cost;

Third, Action to influence Congress to amend the inter-state commerce laws so as to permit each State to protect its citizens against injurious competition by monopolies, which tend to cripple or suppress private industry and enterprise;

Fourth, To so change our system of taxation that corporate or personal wealth shall bear a proper proportion to the burdens exacted from a person of moderate means, and that personal property of land speculators may be seized and sold for taxes on landed property, if found within the State;

Fifth, To amend the election laws so as to include the full Australian ballot system, with such modification as will secure greater convenience in application;

Sixth, To so amend the mortgage tax law as to provide proper relief for mortgagors by taxing them only on their real interest in the property, and to make all bona fide indebtedness by note or other written contract a set-off on the same basis of assessment against a like amount in value of property owned by the person, which is subject to taxation;

Seventh, That we demand the abolition of the exchange system, as now practiced by the millers, and a return to the legal toll allowed by the laws of Michigan;

Eighth, That we demand the removal of the dams now obstructing the rivers and streams of this State, or the building of fish shutes or ladders, so that the fish of the lakes and large streams may be able to ascend them without hindrance;

Ninth, That the office of county secretary of schools be made an elective office, and that the salary be fixed at the following rates, on a population basis: Counties having 10,000 or less, $400 per annum; over 10,000 and up to 20,000, $600; over 20,000 and up to 30,000, $800; over 30,000 population, $1,000;

Tenth, That we are in favor of railroad corporations paying taxes on the same basis as all others owning real estate in this commonwealth;

Eleventh, We are opposed to the appropriation of $50,000 asked for to defray the expenses of the Soldiers' National Encampment at Detroit, the object of such encampment being mostly for pleasure, in our judgment it is not a proper use of the taxing power of the State to defray such expense by taxation, but such expense should be met by voluntary subscription;

Twelfth, That we ask our legislators now assembled to use all reasonable means to accomplish these demands.

The foregoing resolutions were passed by the three different associations and taken before the county convention and unanimously passed by the county convention, consisting of 70 delegates.

J. P. SMITH, Chairman.

Referred to committee on judiciary.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

By the committee on Asylum for Insane Criminals:

Your committee on Asylum for Insane Criminals would respectfully report that they have visited the asylum at Ionia and have made a thorough investigation of the different departments of the institution.

Everything appeared to be in good order, the patients apparently being well cared for and contented, which reflects much credit upon the management of the institution.

There is now in the asylum one hundred and fifty-one patients, an increase of twenty-seven since June 30, 1890, the date of the last report of the Superintendent to the board of managers.

Of this number 40 are convicts, 82 ex-convicts, 23 homicides, and 6 who has been convicted of crime but acquitted on the ground of insanity.

The land purchased by the board of managers for a cottage site is all that could be desired for that purpose.

There is a supply of spring water within a few rods of the institution with sufficient natural pressure to permit its distribution to any part of the building. Part of these springs now empty into a reservoir connected with the cottage.

Unfortunately these springs are located on lands not owned by the State, and an appropriation of eight hundred dollars is asked for to purchase the same.

The present population of the institution is about all that can conveniently be cared for. The cottage recently constructed with accommodation for fifty patients is full, every one of the fifty beds being occupied, the only available room left being the attic of the main building, which can be made to accommodate about 12 patients.

We are of the opinion that unless some provision is made for the increase of patients the institution will soon be overcrowded. An appropriation of $25,000 is asked for to build another cottage to accommodate 75 patients. As a cottage with capacity for 50 patients can be built for $15,000, we are of the opinion that it would be better to build two such cottages if necessary, with a combined capacity of 100 patients, at a cost of $30,000 for the two, than to build one with capacity for 75 at a cost of $25,000.

The other needs of the institution for which appropriation is asked are many, some of which we think are necessary, such as repairing the farm fences, building tool sheds, hog pens, and other outbuildings, and making the necessary improvements to the grounds at the cottage.

We are also of the opinion that the main building is not properly located for asylum purposes and would recommend that if it is thought necessary to build a separate prison for women, that the present main building be used for that purpose and a new building or buildings of sufficient capacity to accommodate all of the patients now in the asylum, with the probable increase for two years be erected on the farm recently purchased for that purpose.

To the Honorable Legislature of the State of Michigan:

MR. CHAIRMAN AND GENTLEMEN—We, the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of Riga township, Lenawee county, petition your honorable body to amend our present tax law. The present law provides for the taxation of mortgages, which is all right, but does not exempt the property which has the mortgage against it, so by that some property is taxed twice over. Further, in the exemption it exempts every householder $200 on his furniture, $150 on a musical instrument, and $200 dollars on all other goods necessary to his household or business. Now, of these last exemptions, there are thousands of citizens that own a little home in towns, or a few acres of land with a shanty thereon, who have no benefit thereof, while the better situated ones have the benefit of all this, which, in our opinion, is no equality, and not in accord with our institutions.

will be practicable and possible to build and maintain the said highways according to certain established grades and a uniform system.

Without specifying details we ask for the passage of a well considered law, under which our highways may be improved and lifted out of their present bad condition.

AND WHEREAS, The State of Michigan has always recognized the great energy, ability and devotion of its brave defenders, it seems proper that at this time our great State should lend a helping hand in contributing of its great abundance towards making the twenty-fifth National encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic one grand success;

On demand of Mr. Fitch,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

January 24, 1891.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan, in Legislature assembled:

WHEREAS, We, the undersigned citizens of Kent county, respectfully represent that we have learned that a petition will be laid before you praying for a change in the game law allowing the killing of quails in the months of November and December and also to allow hunting of deer with dogs in the open season;

We therefore, while having due regard for the pleasure and sport, respectfully but earnestly remonstrate against killing quails, inasmuch as birds of their habits are harmless and are already too few in numbers to destroy the destructive insects to farm crops and the seeds of noxious weeds which they feed upon during autumn and winter;

We also earnestly remonstrate against hunting deer with dogs, as this would have a tendency to increase the army of hunters that would soon exterminate the deer from our State, and would also encourage the breeding of the canine family, which is already too numerous and a great detriment to farmers and sheep breeders.

DEAR SIR—Rowley Post, representing 40 comrades, at a regular meeting held at G. A. R. hall the ninth day of February, 1891, by a unanimous vote of all comrades present, respectfully request that you use your influence to cause to be appropriated the sum of $50,000 to aid the citizens of the State of Michigan to entertain the National encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, to be held at Detroit, Mich., in August next. This is the first and we believe it will be the only time, that the State of Michigan will have the honor and opportunity to entertain those as a nation that stood the brunt of battle in the late unpleasantness.

Yours very respectfully,

H. F. GARICK, Commander.

AMBROSE JOHNSON, Adj. for Rowley Post No. 358, G. A. R.

Clayton, Mich., February 10th, 1891.

Referred to committee on ways and means.

No. 236. By Mr. Harry. Remonstrance against the proposed new judicial circuit of the counties of Ontonagon, Gogebic and Iron.

On demand of Mr. Harry,

The remonstrance was read at length and spread at large upon the Journal as follows:

Hon. William Harry:

SIR—We are informed that a bill is pending to create a new judicial circuit out of the counties of Gogebic, and Ontonagon now in this, the 12th judicial circuit, and the county of Iron, now in the 25th circuit.

This, the 12th circuit, comprises the counties of Houghton, Keweenaw, Isle Royal, Ontonagon, Baraga and Gogebic.

The business of the circuit is easily done by the judge each year in 120 days or less, out of 365; this has been substantially so for years, and so far as can be foreseen, many years must elapse before the judge of the circuit will be called upon to exceed a half year in the full performance of its duties. No object of public interest can therefore be subserved by creating the new circuit. In this peninsula, by an amendment of the constitution lately adopted, the counties may pay a salary to the judge in addition to that paid by the State. In order to induce a lawyer competent to perform judicial functions to take the place, our counties under this provision pay an increased salary.

The new circuit would, by abstracting two counties (one of them Gogebic, being the second in population, and the first in amount of litigation) from the present circuit, diminish this extra compensation or compel additional taxation of the public to keep it up.

The State would be called upon to pay another judge $2,500 per annum, who is no more needed or called for by the public than that fifth wheel to the coach which the world is agreed in admitting to be unnecessary. It is our desire that you may present this to the House as a remonstrance, and we are quite safe in assuring you that the facts herein set forth will be found to be strictly true, and that no interest whatever which it is the concern of this State to forward or protect will be advanced by the legislation proposed,

February 7, 1891.

To the Honorable, the Members of the Legislature of Michigan:

GENTLEMEN—Your petitioners represent:

First, That they reside in the State of Michigan, and are merchants and dealers in goods, and are often called upon by worthy persons to extend them credit from one pay-day to another;

Second, That pay-days are now mainly made as often as weekly or semi-monthly, instead of monthly as they formerly were;

Third, That the present garnishee laws of this State are behind the times, and bear unequally on different men employed by the month and week;

Fourth, Heretofore and now the men employed by the month are the only persons reached by our garnishee laws; and we humbly petition your honorable body to so revise the law as to better equalize its burdens and advantages; and we suggest as a creditor's necessity, that a law framed to reach a percentage of an employé's wages would be more just and equitable than the present law, and we invite your attention to an early revision of the statutes of our State to that end.

On demand of Mr. Blake,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

We, the undersigned citizens of Vicksburg and vicinity, without respect to party politics, respectfully petition your honorable body to not abolish the State Board of Health, for the following reasons:

It is teaching sanitary science to both physicians and people in such a way that both are practicing its teachings.

In uniting the efforts of the physicians and the people it is not only saving much sickness, with its expense and loss of time, but many valuable lives yearly.

Local boards of health will be unable to do efficient work without a State Board to direct and assist in that work.

The public health service of Michigan is the best in the country, being as it is not only a blessing and a credit to our State but an honor to the nation.

Referred to committee on public health.

On demand of Mr. Northup,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

At a stated meeting of the associated fishermen of the upper peninsula, held at Fairport, Delta Co., Mich., the following resolutions were passed:

THAT WHEREAS, In the infancy of these fisheries these waters were teeming with myriads of the most valuable food fishes; and

WHEREAS, Through fishing at all seasons and the indiscriminate slaughter and waste of fish of all sorts and sizes, the destruction of the spawning and feeding grounds both in rivers and lakes by a deposit of sawdust, slabs, edgings and mill refuse of every description, these once valuable fisheries are almost destroyed, and the whitefish, the most valuable of food fishes, threatened with extinction; and

WHEREAS, The decadence of these fisheries has already resulted in the abandonment of a township and other fishing villages and stations, all with many valuable houses, docks and sheds become desolate, almost abandoned, with boats and thousands of dollars invested in fishing material become of no value, and hundreds of men bred to this occupation driven into other occupations; and,

WHEREAS, We believe the only redemption for these fisheries is by the artificial hatching and planting of young fish, and that at once; if spawn sufficient for the purpose is not to be found here, and that to successfully accomplish that purpose it is necessary there should be a fish hatching establishment in the upper peninsula; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we respectfully petition the Legislature to enact a law preventing mill men from making these rivers and lakes a dumping ground for their sawdust and other mill refuse, thereby destroying these fisheries and ruining our business;

Resolved, Also that we request the Legislature to enact a law making it an offense with suitable penalties attached to buy or sell any fish below a certain described weight, whitefish to be not less than one and one-fourth pounds weight when dressed, always allowing a fisherman to have in his possession not over fifty pounds weight at any one time that may be unavoidably caught;

Resolved, Also that we pray it to enact a law establishing a fish hatchery in the upper peninsula for the purpose of re-stocking its waters with its once valuable food fish;

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to our representatives in the Legislature, and that they be requested to use all honorable means to have our requests complied with.

No. 259. By Mr. Bullock: Petition of Charles Dickerson, Myron Thayer and 90 others relative to an appropriation of $4,000 of the swamp land fund for the drainage of swamp lands of Squaw creek.

On demand of Mr. Bullock,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable, the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

WHEREAS, The Congress of the United States did in the year 1851 grant to the several States of the American Union the unsold swamp and overflowed lands within their respective limits for the purpose of draining said lands and rendering them fit for cultivation; and

WHEREAS, The State has unjustly taken half of said lands and turned them into the school fund in violation of the spirit of the grant, leaving thousands of acres of the best lands of the State absolutely worthless for want of that drainage, which an honest construction of the grant would have given them; and

WHEREAS, Township 10 north, of range 10 east, being the township of Rich in the county of Lapeer is by nature one of the most fertile townships of the State, but being traversed from north to south by a sluggish stream called Squaw creek with numerous branches, draining other townships which during a large portion of the year keeps its best lands overflowed; and

WHEREAS, Said township has drawn up a petition to our county drain commissioner signed by 104 names to clean out or dig anew said channel and said commissioner has caused a level to be taken, finding 8 feet 6 inches fall from Squaw lake to Flint river, a distance of 4 miles and 192 rods, now

THEREFORE, We the undersigned inhabitants of said township of Rich and the surrounding district embraced in Squaw creek valley would respectfully and earnestly petition and request that your honorable body will appropriate and set apart the sum of $4,000 or a suitable sum out of the swamp land fund for the drainage of the swamp lands of Squaw creek aforesaid.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM STATE OFFICERS.

The Speaker announced the following:

MICHIGAN STATE BOARD OF HEALTH, }
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
Lansing, Mich., February 12, 1891. }

To the Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR—By direction of the State Board of Health, I transmit to you the accompanying memorial.

Very respectfully,
HENRY B. BAKER, Secretary.

MEMORIAL FROM THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

To the Honorable the Governor and members of the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

GENTLEMEN—The Governor having advised the Legislature to consider the advisability of abolishing the State Board of Health, we, the members of said board, deem it desirable to place before you this concise statement. Some of the work of the board may be summarized as follows:

1. The restriction of diseases dangerous to the public health. The State board attempts to do this work through and by the aid of the local boards of health, of which there are more than 1,500 in the State. To these local boards, the State board acts, (1) as an organizer, (2) as an adviser, and (3) as a helper.

When the State board was created there were only a few active local boards. By repeatedly calling the attention of city, village and township authorities to the importance of appointing health officers, the State board has favored the complete organization of local boards, and nearly every city, village and township in the State has now a more or less efficient local board. We think that we may say without any self laudation that the present health service of the State has been organized by the State board. Before the creation of the central board cases of diphtheria, scarlet fever and of other diseases dangerous to the public health, were not reported, houses were not placarded, cases were not isolated, houses were not disinfected, public funerals of those dead from these diseases were held, bodies were sent from one part of the State to another without precaution against the spread of the disease, the number of epidemics and the number of individual cases occurring in each outbreak and the number of deaths were greater than at present. We have statistics, which we shall be glad to have you examine, showing that the annual saving of life from only three diseases, since the organization of the health service, has amounted to 1,100 lives, representing about 7,000 cases of sickness. Estimate each of these lives at only $500, about half the value of an adult slave, and you have the annual saving to the State of $550,000. This is the known saving from three diseases only. Place against this the $15,000 or $20,000, annual cost of maintaining the State Board of Health, as the debit side of the question and you have an incomplete idea of the saving, looked at wholly from the financial standpoint. If the State Board of Health had done nothing more than organize the health service of the State, we submit that it has amply repaid the State for every cent which it has expended.

But it may be argued that the local boards having been organized and now doing fairly efficient work, there is no longer any necessity for continuing the State board. This leads us to consider the ways in which the local boards are advised and helped by the central board. These may be summarized as follows:

(a.) By the prompt notification of the possible introduction of infectious diseases. Weekly reports are sent out, showing the prevalence of various diseases in different parts of the State. In this way the local boards are sometimes made aware of possible dangers which they are able to prevent.

The State Boards of Health of the various States and of the provinces of Canada, by mutual agreement, promptly notify other State and provincial boards, by telegraph when necessary, of the appearance of such diseases as small-pox; and this State board notifies the local boards of cities, villages and townships which, on account of their location, are likely to be exposed.

(b.) By instruction in the best method of securing prompt and efficient isolation and disinfection. The methods of isolation and disinfection applicable to the various diseases are different. The State board gets its information upon these points from the investigations and experiences of others and those of its own. This information is furnished to the local authorities by means of printed circulars, also by letters, telegrams and telephone messages in response to direct questions. The local health officer not only uses this information himself, but he leaves the circulars with the affected family, and distributes others among the neighbors. In this way valuable knowledge concerning the means necessary to prevent the spread of infectious diseases, is disseminated among the people at a time when they are most likely to benefit by it. We have facts and figures which will show, beyond any question, that the number of cases and the number of deaths are much less in those outbreaks in which the directions of the State board have been followed than in those in which they have not been observed. We shall be glad to submit these figures to any one who cares to see them.

(c.) By advice in regard to the abatement of nuisances dangerous to the public health. The State Board has been frequently called upon to give advice concerning the removal of slaughter-houses and other sources of the pollution of water and air. It has also been called upon to ascertain the cause of local outbreaks of infectious diseases. We may be permitted to say that such advice has generally been most kindly accepted and adopted, and that the prompt disappearance of the disease has justified the advice.

2. The sanitary conventions. Since 1880, the State Board of Health has held thirty-four sanitary conventions, in different cities and villages, at the request of citizens or local authorities. The water supply and the disposal of waste in the locality and the causation and prevention of those diseases which cause most deaths are discussed. The members of the board give from one to two days of their time to these conventions, without remuneration. That practical and valuable improvements in the sanitary condition of some of these localities have followed these conventions, we have good reason to believe. Many of the people have become interested in health matters, and the extent to which benefit may be claimed therefrom, cannot be estimated.

We believe that the educational influence of these conventions, in questions pertaining to the public health, is sufficient to justify their continuance. If they are to be continued, it cannot be done in any other way so cheaply and efficiently as it is now done. To pay seven expert sanitarians to visit various sections of the State, study the local conditions affecting the health, and to give advice concerning the best source of water supply, how to dispose of sewerage and other waste; how to detect adulterations in food, and how to limit the spread of infectious diseases, would certainly cost much more than is now expended in doing the same work.

3. The scientific work of the board. Many people in Michigan know of some of the investigations by this board, which have added to our knowledge of the causation of diseases:

(a.) For several years whenever any considerable outbreak of cheese poisoning, ice cream poisoning, or milk poisoning occurred in the State, the board took immediate steps to secure samples of the suspected food, and to have them analyzed. Such work was done for the board by several prominent chemists and bacteriologists, in Michigan and other States. At last success crowned the efforts of one chemist, a member of the Board; and as a result, rules for the care of milk have been formulated and have been of great service to dairymen, have greatly lessened the frequency of such cases of poisoning, and have been the means of aiding very much in diminishing the number of cases of cholera infantum, and have enabled physicians to treat this disease more successfully.

(b.) The board has caused numerous analyses of water suspected of causing typhoid fever to be made, and by this means harmful waters have been recognized, their use discontinued, and epidemics prevented or stamped out.

(c.) By the study of the relation between meteorological conditions and the prevalence of disease, we now know what diseases prevail most frequently at certain seasons of the year, and therefore can advise people of the increased danger and of the best means of avoiding the same. It has been suggested that other meteorological work is being done by the State under a special appropriation. We submit the fact that such information can be of no service in the prevention of disease unless it can be accompanied by the simultaneous collection of the statistics regarding the prevalence of disease, and the combined statistics studied by expert investigators, and then not unless there shall be some method for the practical application of the knowledge gained.

(d.) The relation between low water in wells and typhoid fever throughout the State has been worked out by the secretary of the board, and now we can predict the probable prevalence of this disease, and advise as to the means by which this can be limited.

These are a few of the scientific problems with which the board has been endeavoring to ascertain the causes of disease. Many more problems await solution. Whether or not the work shall be continued remains for you to decide.

In conclusion, we may be allowed to say that the saving of life and the prevention of disease have been the constant aims of the board. In working to this end it has employed the best resources at its command, and we are perfectly willing that you should judge us by our work, only a brief outline of which we have attempted to place before you in this memorial. That other States and countries have deemed this work worth doing, we need not inform you. The great discoveries of Pasteur and Koch have been made under the direction and by the aid of government boards which, however, are more liberally supported than this board has been, and not only have laboratories at their disposal, but government aid for laboratory investigations.

The above is respectfully submitted, and we ask the most careful examination into the work and management of the board.

Henry F. Lyster,

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

By the committee on Michigan Asylum for Insane:

The committee on Michigan Asylum for Insane to whom was referred House bill No. 4, entitled

A bill to provide for the committing of pauper insane persons to the Wayne County Insane Asylum, and for the transfer of such persons to the State asylum and from the State asylum to the said county asylum, and to provide for the support and maintenance of such insane persons,

Respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report the same back to the House, without amendment; and recommend that it do pass, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

JOHN M. HERZ, Chairman.

Report accepted and committee discharged.

The bill was ordered printed, referred to the committee of the whole and placed on the general order.

By the committee on Normal School:

Your committee on Normal School would respectfully report that they have visited the institution mentioned and have made such examination as seemed necessary.

They find every department thereof in prosperous condition, and the work therein apparently being carried on in a way reflecting credit upon the faculty and those having the institution in charge. The buildings are in good condition and contain sufficient room for the present needs of the school. The closets attached to the institution, which have to be used by about 1,200 persons, a large majority of whom are females, are entirely unsuitable, both from a sanitary point of view and even from that of a decent respect for the ordinary conveniences of civilized life.

The committee therefore recommend a proper appropriation for the construction of suitable water closets, and for connecting the same with the sewerage system of the city.

The present heating apparatus is adapted for the use of anthracite coal. It is believed by those who have carefully investigated the matter that a large saving in this item of expense could be made by adapting the apparatus so that a part of the fuel could be crude petroleum. It is estimated that nearly $1,000 per year could be saved in this way. The probable expense of the change would be about $2,000.

Your committee present this matter for your consideration without recommendation.

The grounds occupied by the institution are very small, only about five and one-half acres. There is a tract of land lying in the rear of the college grounds which is at the present time almost entirely vacant; it is a part of an estate which the heirs are very desirous of settling immediately, and can probably be purchased at this time very reasonably.

Your committee were assured that the people of Ypsilanti, if it was thought best to purchase this property, would raise one-half of the amount necessary if the State would appropriate the other half. Your committee also submits this matter without recommendation, simply presenting the facts. The grounds mentioned contain about four and one-half acres which would require little or no grading, and the total cost of which would be from $9,000 to $10,000, involving an appropriation of $4,500 to $5,000, if it should be thought wise to acquire the property. All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. C. ROCKWELL, Chairman.

Report accepted.

By the committee on engrossment and enrollment:

The committee on engrossment and enrollment report as correctly enrolled, signed, and presented to the Governor, the following:

House bill No. 2 (file No. 9), being

An act to amend chapter 16, by adding one section thereto, to stand as section 3; sections 7 and 16 of chapter 25, and sections 2 and 12 of chapter 26 of act No. 333 of the session laws of 1889, entitled "An act to incorporate the city of Cheboygan, and to repeal an act entitled 'An act to re-incorporate the village of Cheboygan, in the county of Cheboygan,' approved March 27, 1877," approved March 13, 1889.

Also,

House bill No. 63 (file No. 26), being

An act to amend section 10 of act No. 49 of the public acts of 1875, entitled "An act to provide for a municipal court in the city of Grand Rapids to be called 'The Superior Court of Grand Rapids,'" approved March 24, 1875, the same being compiler's section 6573 of Howell's annotated statutes of Michigan, relating to the salary of the clerk of the superior court.

W. A. BLAKE, Chairman.

Report accepted.

By the committee on public health:

The committee on public health, to whom was referred

House bill No. 201, entitled

A bill to authorize the incorporation of the Michigan State Veterinary Association,

Respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration, and have directed me to report the same back to the House, without amendment, and recommend that it do pass, and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

A. F. FERGUSON, Chairman.

Report accepted and committee discharged.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

No. 282. By Mr. Herz: Memorial from the common council of Detroit relative to the local taxation of railroads.

On demand of Mr. Herz,

CITY OF DETROIT, CITY CLERK'S OFFICE, }
February 12, 1891. }

DEAR SIR—I have been instructed by the honorable the common council to transmit you the following communication from his honor the mayor, submitted and adopted at the last session of the council held on Tuesday, February 10, 1891.

Very respectfully,

A. G. KRONBERG, City Clerk.

From his Honor the Mayor, to the Honorable the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN—Every individual in Detroit who had $1,000 worth of visible property last year, paid $15.73 to help defray the necessary expenses of the city government, and to help make such public improvements as it was thought the city could afford. Nearly every corporation doing business within the municipal boundaries did the same thing. The result was, that on a valuation of $160,000,000 we raised for municipal purposes something like $2,500,000. But there is one class of corporations in this city which, under existing circumstances, may be said to be a privileged class, privileged both over all other corporations and over all individuals in our city, privileged over and above all others in Detroit, notwithstanding the fact that nearly all of the stock of these corporations is held by non-residents, and, in many cases, by persons who are aliens to America, both by birth and residence. I refer to the various railroad companies, who own some of the most valuable property in the city, estimated by our assessors at $35,000,000, or over one-fifth of all property in Detroit, and yet who contribute not a single cent to maintain the institutions, in the benefits of which they jointly participate with us all. If their property had been placed upon the same basis as all other property in Detroit, the railroads would have paid not less than half a million of dollars into our city treasury last year—enough to run our fire or police department and to light the city; or enough to pay all the expenses of educating our children for a year; or to build school-houses enough to last a generation; or to get our streets out of the mud, and to pave them decently.

We paid last year, in round numbers, $350,000 to keep up a fire department, which protects railroad property with the same vigilance that it does that of any of our citizens. We made a present to the roads of this protection. We expended a like sum in maintaining an efficient police department, which watched as faithfully over the property of the railroads, as though the officers and members of the force had been paid out of the surplus millions of Vanderbilt and Jay Gould, instead of by the hard earned money of our citizens. We spent a quarter of a million dollars in repaving streets for the railroad company's trucks to wear out; yet not a cent did those corporations contribute. We laid out $400,000 on the education of the young of Detroit for the general good. Yet, although this dissemination of intelligence benefits the railroad companies as much as any one, they paid nothing towards it. It cost us $130,000 for lighting our city last year, and we did it without the help of the railroads. We have, from time to time, invested $4,000,000, in a system of sewers, and we drain the property of the railroads for love of them, inasmuch as we get nothing for it.

What is the cause of this outrageously unjust and inequitable condition of affairs? The generosity of Legislatures of a long time ago in providing, in special and general charters, that railroad companies should pay a certain small specific tax to the State in lieu of all other taxation. That may have been a good thing when it was passed, but if it ever was right it has ceased to be so now. If railroads were infants then, they are giants now. So powerful, indeed, have they become, that it has been openly stated that they own Legislatures and control courts of justice. I hope and believe it will not prove to be so in Michigan.

In our sister city of Chicago the railroad companies paid the municipality in 1889 the substantial sum of nearly $800,000, several of those which do business and own property in Detroit being large contributors thereto. In other words, the very roads which escape taxation here, and demand exemption as a right, pay each year large sums to the municipal government in Chicago without a whimper. They do it because they have to, and I am informed that they can be made to do it here. At any rate it is worth trying, and I recommend that your honorable body urge the Legislature, and especially the Senators and Representatives from Wayne county, to repeal the laws which exempt railroads from municipal taxation. Let them but act fearlessly and honestly, and the great reform will be accomplished at the present session.

Very respectfully,

H. S. PINGREE, Mayor.

Accepted and leave being granted, the following was offered:
By Alderman Amos—

WHEREAS, The Legislature has undoubted power to repeal the laws exempting railroad property from local taxation; therefore

Resolved, That his honor, the Mayor, be and he is hereby requested to call a public meeting of our citizens to take action in aid of the passage of bills now pending in the Legislature, to repeal acts exempting railroads from local taxation; and

Resolved, That it is the sentiment of the Common Council of Detroit, that all the railroad property within the city limits should bear the same proportion of municipal expense as the property of any private citizen or corporation; and

Resolved, That the city clerk be instructed to transmit a copy of these to the Clerk of the House of Representatives, the Secretary of the Senate at Lansing, and to each of the Senators and Representatives from Wayne county.

Adopted as follows:

Yeas—Aldermen Amos, Barnes, Brennan, Buhrer, Fischer, Gilmore, Grant, Griggs, Hoffman, Karrer, Langley, Lennane, Lowry, Meier, McGuire, McIntyre, O'Regan, Reschke, Richert, Roth, Scher, Scott, Schmidt, Thompson, Uthes, Vernor, Webster, Watson and the president—30.

Nays—None.

Referred to committee on local taxation.

No. 283. By Mr. Chisholm: Remonstrance of Geo. Ferris and 598 of the citizens of St. Louis against the passage of House bill 110, fixing rates of telegraph messages within this State.

On demand of Mr. Chisholm the petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

GENTLEMEN—The undersigned citizens and business men of St. Louis, Michigan, do respectfully request your honorable body not to pass the Richardson House bill No. 110 which proposes to fix rates of telegraph messages within this State. We believe the proposed change would cause the telegraph companies to close many offices in small towns and so greatly inconvenience business men who are the principal ones using the telegraph.

Referred to committee on State affairs.

No. 288. By Mr. Harry: Remonstrance of numerous citizens against the creation of a new judicial circuit in the upper peninsula.

On demand of Mr. Harry,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

Hon. William Harry:

SIR—We are informed that a bill is pending to create a new judicial circuit out of the counties of Gogebic and Ontonagon now in this (the 12th) judicial circuit and the county of Iron now in the 25th circuit.

This (the 12th) circuit comprises the counties of Houghton, Keweenaw, Isle Royal, Ontonagon, Baraga and Gogebic.

The business of the circuit is easily done by the judge each year in 120 days, or less, out of the 365. This has been substantially so for years, and so far as can be foreseen, many years must elapse before the judge of the circuit will be called upon to exceed a half year in the full performance of its duties. No object of public interest can therefore be subserved by creating the new circuit. In this peninsula, by an amendment of the constitution lately adopted, the counties may pay a salary to the judge in addition to that paid by the State. In order to induce a lawyer competent to perform judicial functions to take the place, our counties under this provision pay an increased salary.

The new circuit would by abstracting two counties (one of them Gogebic, being the second in population, and the first in amount of litigation) from the present circuit, diminish this extra compensation, or compel additional taxation of the public to keep it up.

This State would be called upon to pay another judge $2,500 per annum who is no more needed or called for by the public than that fifth wheel to the coach, which the world is agreed in admitting to be unnecessary. It is our desire that you may present this to the House as a remonstrance, and we are quite safe in assuring you that the facts herein set forth will be found to be strictly true, and that no interest whatever which it is the concern of this State to forward or protect, will be advanced by the legislation proposed.

No. 290. By Mr. Tripp: Remonstrance of numerous citizens of Pontiac against House bill 110.

On demand of Mr. Tripp,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned patrons of the W. U. Telegraph office at the city of Pontiac, would respectfully remonstrate against the passage of House bill No. 110, which provides for a charge of one cent per word in each message, date, address and signature not counted, with a minimum charge of 15 cents the messages to be delivered free of charge within the corporate limits of the city or village of destination. We feel that this bill, while it may be of great good as regards large cities, will have the effect to crush out and close up telegraphic communication in small cities and villages, and consequently is very unwise legislation.

No. 295. By Mr. Lambert: Petition of Jno. H. Richardson, M. D., and 150 others praying that the State Board of Health be not abolished.

On demand of Mr. Lambert,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal, as follows:

At a meeting of the physicians and citizens of the city of Niles, without regard to sect or creed, held February 5th, 1891, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted.

WHEREAS, We, the undersigned, physicians and citizens of the city of Niles, Michigan, having heard with profound regret that a bill is now pending before the Legislature of this State, having for its object the abolition of the State Board of Health; and

WHEREAS, The State Board of Health has by its intelligent labors and measures of teaching sanitary science, established a reputation which has been recognized in complimentary terms, and referred to by institutions of learning in other and older States as a cause for just pride by the citizens of this State, and by its system of reports and records has disseminated information to the people of this State which has been instrumental in preventing and restricting disease and in saving thousands of human lives; and

WHEREAS, We believe that by abolishing the State Board of Health the State would be deprived of one of its most efficient educational institutions, and that if its functions should be transferred to any other State department, conducted by other than experts in sanitary science, it would be mistaken economy and its usefulness would be destroyed; therefore be it

Resolved, That copies of the above preamble and these resolutions be transmitted to the Senator and Representative from this district at Lansing, asking that they present the same to their respective bodies, praying in our behalf that the State Board of Health be not abolished, and be it further

Resolved, That our Senator and Representative be and they hereby are requested to employ every means to prevent the abolition of the "State Board of Health," and if necessary to aid its efficiency by affording it adequate support.

To the Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR—I am instructed to transmit to the House the following concurrent resolution:

Resolved by the Senate (the House concurring), That the Legislature of Michigan takes the first moments of this session to express its profound sensation over this great event, and to join its earnest tribute to those which the whole country is paying to the memory of the illustrious General.

A grand hero and patriot has fallen. Loved by his comrades of the army, honored by his countrymen, known and admired by the whole world, he stood in his closing years the foremost living American. The great change always coming yet always solemn, saddens the whole national heart when it takes away its heroic idols.

With the death of General Sherman there has passed from earth the last of the great commanders of the war of the rebellion, and one of the most conspicuous figures of that transcendent period of the country's history.

His genius and generalship were early manifested and in the Atlanta campaign and that immortal march from Atlanta to the sea, they wrought achievements which assured the termination of the war and challenged the admiration of the world.

Possessing a mind of great strength and activity, an indomitable spirit and vigorous body, he gave the utmost of these combined and well trained powers to the service of his country in its extremest need. At the end of the four years' struggle he was content with the consciousness of that service and the military rank won by it. While heartily enjoying the applause of his countrymen, no political ambition either led or mislead him to seek the addition of civic honors to military glory. Gaining the royal road to the presidency which lies through military renown, with characteristic individuality he refused to travel it.

His memory will be devotedly cherished by this generation, and his name will add luster to the country's history.

Resolved further, That a day be appointed for suitable exercises in memory of both General Sherman and Admiral Porter.

Which has passed the Senate by a unanimous vote of all the Senators present, and in all of which the concurrence of the House is respectfully asked.

Very respectfully,

ALFRED J. MURPHY,

Secretary of the Senate.

The message was read.

The question being on concurring in the concurrent resolution.

On motion of Mr. Shull,

The House concurred in the same unanimously by a rising vote.

No. 311. By Mr. Buell: Petition of Wallace E. Wright and 55 others relative to the superintendent of public schools.

On demand of Mr. Buell,

The petition was read at length and spread at large upon the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable House of Representatives, Lansing, Mich.:

Believing that the removal of the control of our primary schools from the vote of the people and placing the appointing of the secretary of the board of examiners in the hands of the judge of probate and two other members of the board, is detrimental to the best interests of the primary schools of our State; and further, those persons having the appointing power are not usually practical teachers, and, therefore can not appreciate and understand the requirements of our schools; and

WHEREAS, It is many times the cause of favoritism, and the appointment is given, not to the most efficient person who will give his whole time, talent and energy to the cause of promoting and encouraging the work of public education, but to the person who will have the greatest influence to return the favor; therefore,

Resolved, By the following citizens and voters of Branch county, that we ask and respectfully urge the Legislature now in session to so amend the present school law that the secretary of the board of examiners shall be elected by the people the same as other county officers, and his salary fixed by the board of supervisors, for which we would ever pray.

No. 316. By Mr. Fildew: Memorial of Michigan Federation of Labor relative to taxation.

On demand of Mr. Fildew,

MICHIGAN FEDERATION OF LABOR, }
OFFICE OF THE EXECUTIVE OFFICERS, }
Detroit Mich., February, 13, 1891.

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

As a representative body of the trade and labor unions of this State, and reflecting as we believe the sentiments of the working men and women employed within its borders, we respectfully present for your consideration the following points bearing upon the subject of taxation, to the end that such alterations may be made in existing laws as will relieve small property holders from the burden of an unjust discrimination in the levying of taxes;

1. We believe it to undeniably true that taxation should be in direct proportion to benefits conferred, and that any excess in such benefits above the average should be paid for, not at a lower, but rather at a higher rate than the general percentage.

2. We maintain that the value of benefits conferred by the State upon the individual may be fairly estimated by one or more of the following methods, viz: (a) By the value of the unimproved land which he possesses, by which he gains and preserves a foothold to the exclusion of others. (b) By the accumulated wealth, above the requirements of livelihood, resulting from the holding of land, which wealth may be in his name by acquisition or inheritance. (c) By the value of franchises or exclusive rights bestowed upon him by the State. (d) By the value of the earnings of such franchises or exclusive rights beyond a reasonable return—that is, a return such as could have been obtained without such franchise or exclusive right.

3. We maintain that, aside from land, the property accumulated by labor is properly subject to taxation only when it reaches such volume as to render it liable to confusion with the accumulations of special privilege, or in cases where the above-mentioned sources of State revenue are found insufficient.

In defense of these propositions we offer merely the premise with which this memorial opened, namely: That taxation should be in direct proportion to benefits received. And yet, even though you should admit the truth of only the first of the propositions (No. 1), and that proposition we offer as a self-evident one, we respectfully represent that it is unjust to merely approximate within a few thousand dollars the value of large possessions, without making something of a similar reduction (not relatively, but absolutely) in assessing small possessions. If any property at all is to be exempt from tax, it should be, not that of the citizen who enjoys uncommon advantages through his citizenship, but that of the one who barely maintains himself, and that by hard and patient manual labor.

Inasmuch, then, as the imperfect valuation of large amounts of property is unavoidable, we respectfully petition your honorable body to so amend the tax laws of Michigan as to cover the following grounds, namely:

In cases where any one person owns assessable property not exceeding ten thousand dollars in value, all told, in any one township or city of this State, among which assessable property are included building improvements to the value of eight hundred dollars or over, said building improvements shall be exempt from taxation to the extent of eight hundred dollars, and when less than eight hundred dollars worth of building improvements are included in said total assessable property not exceeding ten thousand dollars, all told, in any one city or township, the building improvements shall be altogether exempt from taxation. And for each additional ten thousand dollars worth of assessable property, including building improvements in any one city or township, a like reduction shall be made.

And your petitioners will ever pray.

W. A. TAYLOR, President,
GEO. W. DUNCAN, Secretary,
Mich. Federation of Labor.

* Referred to select committee on taxation.

No. 317. By Mr. Northup; Remonstrance of William Young and 26 others, against the creation of the new county of Dickinson.

On demand of Mr. Northup,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

WHEREAS, House bill No. 51 proposes to detach from the county of Iron townships 42-28, 42-29, 42-30 and 43-28, 43-29, 43-30 for the formation of a new county with other territory taken from the counties of Menominee and Marquette; and

WHEREAS, The county of Iron has a bonded indebtedness of $30,000, and the territory proposed to be detached from said county of Iron, comprising, as it does, several valuable iron mines and mills, having an assessed valuation of $785,000; and

WHEREAS, The entire population of said county of Iron is only 4,332, of which said territory proposed to be detached contains about 700; and

WHEREAS, Extreme difficulty is now often experienced in running the courts and business of the county by reason of the limited population, it being now with great difficulty only that a competent and lawful jury can be secured in said county; therefore, believing that the division of said county would impose upon the people burdensome taxation, which would be injurious to them financially, and the taking away a large portion of the people would be a great injustice, we, the undersigned, citizens of said Iron county, most respectfully and earnestly remonstrate against the passage of said bill.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the State of Michigan, in session assembled:

We, representing the unanimous vote in a regular meeting of E. P. We respectfully remind your honorable body that of the amount asked from the State Treasury, we, Grand Army citizens, contribute our proportion.

Michigan's defenders went to the front, not counting the cost. They laid upon the altar, home, health and life.

But for the valor of such men as fought and died at Gettysburg, our fair peninsula might have been overrun by rebel raiders and its progress set back half a century.

These reunions of the survivors are but object lessons to young patriots.

who now live under the flag so many of our comrades died to save. These are the grandest schools of patriotism that exist.

May the generation now sharing our triumphs and our responsibilities be so patriotic, so just, so fortunate, as to be spared the horrors of war.

And so ever will the survivors pray.

WHEREAS, Stevens T. Mason, the fourth governor of the Territory and the first governor of the State of Michigan died outside of the State, and his remains have since reposed in the vault of a cemetery, now near the center of the city of New York; and

WHEREAS, Governor Mason's patriotic services to the State, his tireless energy in behalf of her interests, and notably his great services in the establishment, and in defending the interests of the State University in its infancy, and in projecting the development of her mineral wealth, and in the maintenance of the integrity of her territory are inseparably connected with the history of the State of Michigan, and are a part of the foundation of her prosperity; and

WHEREAS, It is observed that the authorities of Elmwood cemetery in the city of Detroit, have tendered for the reception of the remains of Governor Mason, a beautiful lot within the limits of Detroit, but the private property of a local corporation; therefore

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Legislature of the State of Michigan deems it eminently fitting that the mortal remains of Governor Mason should rest, not only in the soil of the State he loved and served so well, but in ground of the commonwealth;

Resolved, That the representatives of his family be invited to permit his body to be interred in the grounds of the capitol, and that appropriate ground therein be appropriated to properly receive and form its last resting place;

Resolved, That a committee of the Legislature, of which committee the Governor of the State be chairman, be appointed to make known the wishes of the State to the surviving members of the family of Governor Mason, and make suitable arrangements for the reception and disposition of the remains, in accordance with this resolution.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

WHEREAS, House bill No. 51 proposes to detach from the county of Iron towns 42-28, 42-29, 42-30 and 43-28, 43-29, 43-30 for the formation of a new county with other territory taken from the counties of Menominee and Marquette; and

WHEREAS, The county of Iron has a bonded indebtedness of thirty thousand dollars ($30,000), and the territory proposed to be detached from said county of Iron comprising as it does several valuable iron mines and mills having an assessed valuation of $785,000; and

WHEREAS, The entire population of said county of Iron is only 4,332, of which said territory proposed to be detached contains about 700; and

WHEREAS, Extreme difficulty is now often experienced in running the courts and business of the county for reason of the limited population, it being now with great difficulty only that a competent and lawful jury can be secured in said county. Therefore, believing that the division of said county would impose upon the people burdensome taxation which would be injurious to them financially, and the taking away a large portion of the people would be a great injustice, we, the undersigned citizens of said Iron county, most respectfully and earnestly remonstrate against the passage of said bill.

To the Senators and Representatives in the Legislature assembled:

WHEREAS the present election law adopted by the last Legislature has been ruled inapplicable except at general elections; and

WHEREAS, A uniform law to be observed whenever the right of franchise is called in question is desirable; and

WHEREAS, The Australian ballot has been a standard around which all friends of ballot reform and good government united without regard to political opinions have rallied and wherever applied has made voting decent and respectable and given dignity to the freeman's ballot by protecting him from the vicious interference of men leaving him absolute control of his own convictions; therefore

Resolved, That we, the Patrons of Industry of Clinton county in association 2217 as friends of good government and decent elections recognize in the Australian ballot the most efficient measure ever yet devised for securing the secrecy of the ballot and freeing elections from bribery and corruption and the control of machine politics; and we most urgently urge its consideration should any change be deemed expedient with our present election laws;

Resolved, That a copy of these preambles and resolutions be forwarded to our honorable Senator and Representatives from this district.

Referred to committee on elections.

No. 355. By Mr. Baldwin: Remonstrance of Patrons of Industry Association 2217, against an appropriation of $50,000 for G. A. R. encampment at Detroit.

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable the Senators and Representatives of the State of Michigan in Legislature assembled:

WHEREAS, We are opposed to the taxing of one individual class or locality for the benefit or building up of another; and

WHEREAS, Statistics show that agriculture, which represented in 1850 70 per cent, in 1860 50 per cent, in 1870 40 per cent, in 1880 33 per cent, in 1889 less than 25 per cent of the total assessed valuation of the country; and

WHEREAS, The Bankers' Magazine is authority "that the farms of Michigan are today burdened with $500,000,000 in mortgages," and the same are assessed at their full cash value, with no power to shift the burdens of taxation from the shoulders of the mortgagor to the shoulders of the mortgagee for his equitable interest in the same, while those tightly grasping natural opportunities in mining lands of this State, under section 1187 of Howell's, are exempt from all taxes on 640 acres to mining corporations doing business on the same, except a specific tax levied, under section 1226, on the volume of business done; and

declares "that while rents in cities and large towns are steadily increasing, agriculture has become so depressed that good farms offer no inducement to tenants to hire them at a rental of six per cent on even one-third of their assessed value; therefore

Resolved, That we, the Patrons of Industry of Clinton county, in association 2217, most earnestly protest against your honorable body granting the prayers of the petitions of the citizens of Detroit asking an appropriation of $50,000 by your honorable body, not for the purpose of relieving suffering and distress of the unfortunate, but for the purpose of decorating the largest, wealthiest and most flourishing city of the State, to enable them to entertain with appropriate honors their own invited guests.

Resolved, That a copy of these preambles and resolutions be presented our honorable Senator and Representatives from this district, praying that they rather use every laudable effort to relieve the common classes from the present unequal system of taxation, which to them is now too onerous to be long endured.

To the Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR—I am instructed to transmit to the House the following:

Senate joint resolution No. 2, entitled

Secretary of the Senate.

The joint resolution was read a first and second time by its title and referred to the committee on military affairs.

The Speaker also announced the following:

SENATE CHAMBER, }
Lansing, February 18, 1891. }

To the Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR—I am instructed to transmit to the House the following concurrent resolution:

WHEREAS, Death, always busy in laying low the true and noble, and at this time unusually active in causing our nation's halls to be draped in mourning, has again come near unto us, this time snatching away the highest and most distinguished living representative of our navy, as, but two days since, we met to deplore with heads bowed in grief the loss of his revered brother and companion in arms, with whom he wrought so nobly and disinterestedly for the integrity of the union in the terrible years of our civil war; and

WHEREAS, In the departure from this life of David Dixon Porter, although he leaves us full of years and honors, we recognize a personal, as well as a national bereavement, but faintly shown by the stars and stripes surmounted and flanked by the sable colors of death. The indomitable and invincible hero! Inheritor of the valor of five generations of naval warriors, who signalized their devotion to their country in the Colonial wars, in the struggle of the Revolution, in the war of 1812, in the war with Mexico, and crowned by the late achievements of the greatest of them all—the foster brother of Farragut, and enthusiastic co-worker with him in the terrible naval duels which opened up a new and wonderful era in offensive warfare, and did much towards solving the problem of reducing the confederate strongholds along the Atlantic, the Gulf of Mexico, and the Mississippi and her great tributaries; therefore, be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That we hereby give expression to our profound sense of the obligations of this nation and people, collectively and individually, to the great admiral, in peace unobtrusive and irreproachable, vigilant and unconquerable in war; and be it further

Resolved, That, as in war they fought side by side for one object, their country's deliverance, in after years they lived as friends and neighbors, and in death they were scarcely divided, we hereby agree to appoint and set apart the same time and place for the holding of suitable memorial services in honor of our illustrious dead, General William Tecumseh Sherman and Admiral David Dixon Porter,

Which has passed the Senate by a majority vote of all the Senators elect, and in all of which the concurrence of the House is respectfully asked.

Very respectfully,

ALFRED J. MURPHY,

Secretary of the Senate.

The question being on the adoption of the concurrent resolution,

On motion of Mr. Hawley,

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

No. 356. By Mr. Thatcher: Petition of George A. Bowser and 38 others, residents and voters of Muskegon county, in favor of the Australian ballot system.

Referred to the committee on elections.

No. 357. By Mr. Buell: Remonstrance of P. of I., Sunset Association,

No. 1482, against the appropriation of $50,000 for national encampment of G. A. R. at Detroit.

On demand of Mr. Buell,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

Olds, Mich., February 5, 1891.

Hon. D. D. Buell:

SIR—At the regular meeting of the P. of L. of Sunset Association, No. 1482, Olds, Mich., the following motion was carried:

Moved and carried that the secretary of this association be instructed to inform the senatorial and legislative power of this district of the opposition of this association to the appropriation of the $50,000 for the national encampment.

Yours,

LEE O. BURCH, Secretary.

No 358. By Mr. Hawley: Petition of W. S. Hart, C. F. Jameson and 75 others of Ionia county relative to the protection of fish in Tupper lake.

On demand of Mr. Hawley,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

We, the undersigned citizens of the county of Ionia, humbly petition your honorable body to pass the act attached hereto, entitled "An act to provide for the protection and preservation of fish in Tupper lake, in the county of Ionia, and Jourdan lake, in the counties of Ionia and Barry. Our reasons for presenting this petition are that our lakes are being rapidly depopulated of fish by parties who gain their livelihood by fishing, particularly at the season of the year when the fish are preparing to spawn. We believe it to be a duty which we owe to ourselves and to future generations to protect the fish of our lakes before they are totally destroyed. A further reason for this petition is that the fish commission of the State is going to plant, this spring, in Jourdan lake, herein referred to, a large number of lake trout, which will need the protection provided by the act petitioned for.

Referred to committee on fisheries.

No. 359. By Mr. Harry: Remonstrance of W. L. Mason and others against the creation of a new judicial court.

On demand of Mr. Harry,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

Hon. William Harry:

SIR—We are informed that a bill is pending to create a new judicial circuit out of the counties of Gogebic and Ontonagon now in this, the 12th judicial circuit, and the county of Iron now in the 25th circuit.

This the 12th circuit comprises the counties of Houghton, Baraga, Keweenaw, Isle Royal, Ontonagon and Gogebic.

The business of the circuit is easily done by the judge each year in 120 days or less, out of the 365; this has been substantially so for years, and so far as can be foreseen many years must elapse before the judge of the circuit will be called upon to exceed a half year in the full performance of its duties.

No object of public interest can therefore be subserved by creating the new circuit. In this peninsula, by an amendment of the constitution lately adopted, the counties may pay a salary to the judge in addition to that paid by the State. In order to induce a lawyer competent to perform judicial functions to take the place, our counties under this provision pay an increased salary.

The new circuit would, by abstracting two counties (one of them Gogebic, being the second in population, and the first in amount of litigation) from the present circuit, diminish this extra compensation, or compel additional taxation of the public to keep it up.

The State would be called upon to pay another judge $2,500 per annum who is no more needed or called for by the public than that fifth wheel to the coach, which the world is agreed in admitting to be unnecessary. It is our desire that you may present this to the House as a remonstrance, and we are quite safe in assuring you that the facts herein set forth will be found to be strictly true, and that no interest whatever which it is the concern of this State to forward or protect, will be advanced by the legislation proposed.

February 7, 1891.

WM. L. MASON, Attorney at Law, L'Anse.

PHIL. R. MCKERNAN, Attorney at Law, L'Anse,

I. B. SMITH, Supervisor L'Anse township.

Crystal Falls, Mich., Feb. 11, 1891.

At a meeting of the county board of supervisors, of the county of Iron, held in the village of Crystal Falls, in said county, on the 11th day of February, 1891. Present—Supervisors William Russell, Harry Roberts, M. St. Peter, Michael Corcoran, Albert W. Smith and Gordon Murry, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It appears to the board of supervisors of the county of Iron that a vigorous effort is being made to divide the county of Iron and take from said county certain territory comprised of the township of Felch and with it and other territory to be taken from the counties of Marquette and Menominee form a new county to be known as the county of Dickinson, as proposed in House Bill No. 51; therefore be it

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed consisting of C. T. Crandall, Dr. J. B. Gaston and M. H. Morarity to go to Lansing in behalf of the people of said county of Iron to protest against the detachment from said county of any of said territory, it being hereby declared to be the sense of the board of supervisors of said Iron county that the taking away of said territory from said county would impose upon the property holders of said county, taxation which would be burdensome and that the reduction of the population by the taking from said county so large number of citizens would materially injure the interests of the county.

No. 374. By Mr. Harry: Remonstrance of H. M. Power, M. Cochran, and others, against the proposed new judicial circuit out of the 12th and 25th.

On demand of Mr. Harry,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

Hon. William Harry:

SIR—We are informed that a bill is pending to create a new judicial circuit out of the counties of Gogebic and Ontonagon now in this, the 12th judicial circuit, and the county of Iron now in the 25th circuit.

This the 12th circuit comprises the counties of Houghton, Baraga, Keweenaw, Isle Royal, Ontonagon and Gogebic.

The business of the circuit is easily done by the judge each year in 120 days or less, out of the 365; this has been substantially so for years, and so far as can be foreseen many years must elapse before the judge of the circuit will be called upon to exceed a half year in the full performance of its duties.

No object of public interest can therefore be subserved by creating the new circuit. In this peninsula, by an amendment of the constitution lately adopted, the counties may pay a salary to the judge in addition to that paid by the State. In order to induce a lawyer competent to perform judicial functions to take the place, our counties under this provision pay an increased salary.

The new circuit would, by abstracting two counties (one of them Gogebic, being the second in population, and the first in amount of litigation) from the present circuit, diminish this extra compensation, or compel additional taxation of the public to keep it up.

The State would be called upon to pay another judge $2,500 per annum who is no more needed or called for by the public than that fifth wheel to the coach, which the world is agreed in admitting to be unnecessary. It is our desire that you may present this to the House as a remonstrance, and we are quite safe in assuring you that the facts herein set forth will be found to be strictly true, and that no interest whatever which it is the concern of this State to forward or protect, will be advanced by the legislation proposed.

No. 390. By Mr. Harper: The petition speaks for itself.

On demand of Mr. Harper,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

Deer Creek, January 9, 1891.

To the Honorable Wm. Harper, member of the House of Representatives of the State of Michigan, in Legislature assembled:

WHEREAS, We, the members of Patrons of Industry, Farmers' Alliance, Knights of Labor, and other kindred organizations, knowing that every Democrat of Livingston county was elected on the Patron and Industrial platform, and knowing you to be a member of the Patrons of Industry in good standing, and from that element having obtained a large proportion of votes; and

WHEREAS, Party caucuses, political tricksters, rings and combines have controlled the old parties on both sides so that that the voice of the people has become powerless; and

WHEREAS, The wealth of the nation and state through class legislation has concentrated in the hands of the few at the expense and poverty of the many and your knowing as well as ourselves that it was the votes of the poverty stricken class as well as on their platform that you attained your election; and

WHEREAS, We the party of the people being too poverty stricken through previous class legislation to offer you any boodle or bonus, but believing you too honorable to be guilty of treason and any departure from the Patron principals or industrial platform on your part is treason, and the constitution of the United States makes treason punishable by death; therefore we not only petition but demand that you shall not only work and vote but also use your utmost endeavors to have the following demands become laws of the State of Michigan and that it shall be done quickly, not proposed and tabled indefinitely for the next generation to act upon, believing that such laws will be far the benefit of the majority of your constituents, believing that the wishes of the majority should prevail.

First, We demand that the rates of lawful interest in the State of Michigan shall not exceed four per cent and any excess of that amount shall forfeit the whole interest on the whole debt;

Second, We demand that the farmer deduct his mortgage from his assessment similar to the law now in force in California, or what would be more preferable, that the farmer would pay the whole tax and that the tax receipt to the amount of his mortgage should be made a legal tender for the interest or principal on said mortgage, as this would catch non-residents as well as residents;

Third, We demand that the mileage on railroads shall all be reduced to two cents per mile instead of discriminating in favor of the rich on 1,000 mile tickets;

Fourth, We demand a homestead exemption on improvements and personal property of $1,000;

Fifth, We demand a graduated income tax thereby placing the burden of taxation on those most able to bear it;

Sixth, We demand a uniform system of school books for our district schools and Universities, and that they shall be printed and furnished by the State at cost, thereby doing away with the expense on the education of the American youth, caused by the combine on school books;

Seventh, We demand that it be made a penal offense for all gambling in farm products of imprisonment in the State Prison at hard work, not less than five years nor more than ten;

Eighth, We hereby enter our solemn protest against all legislation which discriminates in favor of the rich at the expense of the poor, believing as we do that if the lion's share belongs to any class, it is to the laborer and producer of the wealth, that class being the backbone of this or any other nation.

Ellington, Feb. 18, 1891.

Petition for State drain.

To the Honorable bodies, the Senate and the House of Representatives of the State of Michigan.

We, the undersigned freeholders of land residing in the township of Ellington, county of Tuscola and State of Michigan, respectfully ask your honorable bodies for an appropriation of \$4,000, for the purpose of constructing a State drain in said township of Ellington, commencing at a point at the river 4 rods south of the southeast corner of the northwest quarter of N. W. $\frac{1}{4}$ of section 15, thence north 30 rods, thence northeast 40 rods, thence north by west 30 rods, crossing the section line between sections 10 and 15 at 108 rods east of the southwest corner of section 10, thence north 65 rods, thence northeast 110 rods, thence north by east 20 rods, thence northeast by north 100 rods, thence north 82 rods to a point 20 rods west and 2 rods north of southwest corner of S. E. $\frac{1}{4}$ of S. E. $\frac{1}{4}$ of section 3, thence commencing at a point 2 rods north of the northeast corner of the N. W. $\frac{1}{4}$ of section 10, thence east 680 rods, to a point 40 rods east and 2 rods north of the northeast corner of the N. W. $\frac{1}{4}$ of section 12. There is about 1,300 acres of low, swamp lands and in summer time the vapor arising from the decaying vegetation makes it very unhealthy for the surrounding residents, whereas if properly drained it would soon become valuable farming lands. The length of said drain to be about 1,160 rods; width at surface 16 feet, depth 5 feet, width at bottom 3 feet. The township already burdened with excessive bridge and drain taxes feels unable to put this drain through. Hoping that your honorable body will see fit to grant our petition, we will ever pray.

WHEREAS, In times past the agricultural population of the State of Michigan have taken little or no interest in legislation, while other classes have constantly besieged the Legislature on every hand, and have thereby been able to secure legislation favorable to their interests, and directly antagonistic to the welfare of the industrial classes; and

WHEREAS, By the assistance of the Patrons of Industry a sufficient number of farmers have been elected as members of the present Legislature to hold the balance of power and enforce their demands; therefore

1. Resolved, By the Patrons of Industry of Mason county, in convention assembled, that we desire no special legislation in our favor, and only such as shall be conducive to the welfare of all our people;

2. That we demand the immediate repeal of all class laws now in force on our statute books, including those exempting railroad, mining, telegraph and telephone companies, and all other corporations from local taxation; act No. 231, of the session laws of 1889, relating to townships paying for building railroad crossings; the law compelling county school districts to pay teachers for time spent at teacher's institutes, for legal holidays, and for all other days upon which they do not work;

3. That we demand a tax law that shall provide for the just and equal assessment of all classes of property within the State and within each assessor's territory;

4. That we favor the county system of collecting delinquent taxes;

5. That we favor a meat inspection law in order that consumers may be provided with pure, healthful food;

6. That we favor a law providing for a uniform list of text books for the use of schools being published by the State and furnished to the people at cost;

7. That we favor the election of the board of county school examiners by the people;

8. That we are in favor of a free and pure ballot, and we recommend that the present election law be amended to include all elections and the distributing tickets or having them in possession entirely prohibited;

9. That we are in favor of abolishing the township board of review, believing that its benefits are not commensurate with its expense;

10. That we favor a law controlling roller process millers in their dealings with farmers' "grists," providing for the number of pounds and the grades of flour, and the number of pounds of bran and middlings that shall be given in exchange per bushel for the different grades of wheat and other grains;

11. That we are opposed to $50,000 or any other sum being appropriated by the Legislature to defray the expenses of the G. A. R. encampment at Detroit;

12. That we favor an amendment to the interest laws making 5 per cent legal interest, limited to 7 per cent, on agreement.

13. That we demand a short and inexpensive term of the Legislature, and that all State institutions shall be economically managed;

14. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to our Representatives in each house of the Legislature, with a request that they use their influence to embody the principles into law.

On demand of Mr. Gibbons,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

Your petitioners respectfully represent:

First, That they are residents and taxpayers of the county of St. Clair and of mixed political affiliation.

Second, That for a period of time covering more than ten years, unjust and fraudulent equalization between the townships and the wards of the cities of the county has been maintained by methods known only to schemers and political tricksters;

Third, That the results are, that the towns and incorporated villages are obliged to pay a State and county tax upon an unjust apportionment of more than four millions.

Fourth, That at the late October session of the board of Supervisors the city of Port Huron was equalized at only three hundred and thirty-five thousand more than in 1882; while every intelligent person knows that the city of Port Huron's relative valuation in 1890, ought to be more than eight millions, but which was fixed by the late board of 1890 at three million six hundred and ninety-four thousand;

Fifth, That the cities of the county claim and exercise the right of representation on the board of their city attorney, mayor and comptroller, thus gaining an undue and unreasonable advantage the towns having only single representation on the board, the incorporated villages none, although of more value for the purposes of taxation than some of the wards in the cities of St. Clair and Marine;

Six, That the methods of the committee of the board doing work of equalization is at the least a dangerous method; such work should be open to the scrutiny of every member and taxpayer of the county, with allowance of pertinent proofs in relation to all matters of equalization;

Seven, Your petitioners, in view of the foregoing injustice which cannot be called a tax, and which is a confiscation of their property, demands such reforms of the law in this State or of their particular county as will prevent in the future the wrongs, injustice, and frauds, herein complained of.

2. That township 25 north, of range 6 west, and township 25 north, of range 8 west, while surveyed as separate townships, are organized as the township of Springfield;

3. That township 25 north, range 6 west aforesaid, is uninhabited; has no actual settlers, and is worthless for agricultural purposes. Most of its lands are sandy, covered with scrubby, worthless Jack pine timber, and its other lands are pine stump lands from which nearly all valuable timber has been cut;

4. There are no public highways in said township 25 north, range 6 west, except one, which is in good condition for travel and can be kept so at small expense;

5. The said township 25 north, range 8 west, is the inhabited portion of said organized township of Springfield, and has a population of several hundred people who use its highways, besides there is a large transient travel at all times of year across and over the highways of this township by lumbermen located along the Manistee river, engaged in lumbering operations;

6. There has been raised by taxation upon the lands and property of said township twenty-five north, range six west, a highway fund of eight thousand dollars, which has accumulated during several years last past, and is now in the treasury of said township of Springfield;

7. This fund so accumulated cannot be used for highway purposes within the surveyed limits of said township twenty-five north, of range six west, because of no pending nor future necessity for its use there; and by reason of the poor condition of the highways in said township twenty-five north, range eight west, said money is needed for immediate use within the limits of such township;

8. Therefore your petitioners pray that the bill for the relief of our people, now pending before you may pass.

COMMUNICATION FROM STATE OFFICER.

The Speaker announced the following:

MICHIGAN STATE BOARD OF HEALTH, }
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
Lansing, Mich., February 24, 1891. }

To the Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR—In response to a resolution of the House, received from its clerk this day, the accompanying itemized statement of the expenses in this department for the latest full year, is respectfully submitted. As directed in the resolution, the salaries of clerks and janitor are added. The salary of the secretary is paid out of the special appropriation, and is included in the tabular statement of expenditures by the board. No other officer or member of the Board receives compensation from the State.

The cost of printing and binding the annual report of the board is not "an expense of this department," the accounts therefore are audited by the Board of State Auditors, and therefore may not have been called for by the resolution, but it is an expense on account of the existence of this board, therefore I include a statement for one year. It is impracticable for the clerk of the Board of State Auditors to give to me to-day the figures for 1889, so I give the figures for 1886, taken from page 31 of the annual report of the State Board of Health for 1886. The annual report for 1889 is about the same size as the report for 1886.

Very respectfully,

HENRY B. BAKER, Secretary.

Attest:

HENRY B. BAKER, Secretary.

The Speaker also announced the following:

MICHIGAN STATE BOARD OF HEALTH, }
 OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, }
Lansing, Mich., February 24, 1891. }

To the Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR—Experience in executing the health laws of Michigan reveals imperfections, and dangerous diseases are spread through some imperfections which, it seems to me, the Legislature would amend if its members were to give attention to the subject. Although each district has its Senator or Representative, there seems to be no Senator or member whose duty it is to specially look after the interests of the State as a whole. Therefore I transmit to you four proposed bills designed to improve the health laws of Michigan, in the hope that some member of the House, the popular branch of the Legislature, may have sufficient interest in the subject to introduce the bills which I transmit, or some other bills designed to improve the health laws of the State in some or all of the directions indicated. The bills are as follows:

1. "A bill to prevent the introduction of a dangerous communicable disease into any township, city or village in Michigan, except under specified regulations." It may seem strange to you, but I think it is a fact that any person sick with small-pox or other dangerous communicable disease, may enter and travel through must of the townships, cities and villages in Michigan, and there is no statute law to forbid or prevent.

2. "A bill to prevent the spread of dangerous communicable diseases, by providing for the punishment of willful offenders." The purpose of this bill is expressed in its title. It is designed to be useful in preventing the spread of dangerous communicable diseases in townships, cities and villages in which they occur.

3. "A bill to fix the salary of a chief clerk in the office of the State Board of Health."

Under the present law no clerk in the office of the State Board of Health receives a salary to exceed $1,000 per year, although every other department of the State service has, I think, a chief clerk, or at least one clerk who receives more than that. Under existing laws, official duties not infrequently call the secretary to parts of the State at a distance from the capitol when, through messages sometimes from without the State, questions arise which may involve the spread of a dangerous disease. The question is respectfully suggested whether the interests of health and life of the citizens of Michigan do not call for legislative provision for an assistant secretary or chief clerk in the office of the State Board of Health, more especially to act during the necessary absences of the Secretary, and temporarily in the event of his death or disability. The bill sent herewith is not up to my ideal, but it is sent as a suggestion.

4. "A bill to make an appropriation for analyses of suspected waters, foods and other substances, and otherwise to increase the efficiency of the State Board of Health in restricting dangerous diseases."

The purpose is expressed in the title, and is concisely and clearly stated in the bill. The State Board of Health has for many years done something in this direction, but it must be apparent to every intelligent person that its appropriation (six thousand dollars for all the many purposes specified in the laws) is entirely inadequate.

If the State of Michigan has interests higher or more important than those which it has in the best possible protection of the life and health of every man, woman and child in the State, I do not know which educational institution, asylum, or other institution or department of the State government is intrusted with them. Yet few of the great institutions or departments of the State government have so small annual expenditures as does the State Board of Health.

These bills would have been sent to you earlier except that I have been waiting to hear from the committees on public health, to whom communications relative thereto were transmitted.

Very respectfully,

HENRY B. BAKER,

Secretary.

The communication was laid on the table.

By the committee on State Public School:

To the Honorable House of Representatives:

Your committee on the State Public School, who were authorized and empowered by a resolution adopted on the 4th of February to "investigate the management and affairs of the State Public School at Coldwater," respectfully submit the following as the report of the majority of the members of the Senate and House committees in joint action:

We have visited the State Public School at Coldwater, inquired into the management of the same, and investigated the circumstances under which Nellie Griffin and others were allowed to be taken from the School.

We believe the management of the internal affairs of the State Public School to be above criticism. We find there are in attendance at the School about 200 wards or "waifs," ranging in age from 4 to 14 years, of whom about 85 per cent are boys and 15 per cent are girls. That these children are well housed, fed and clothed; that their physical, mental, moral and spiritual needs are well provided for. We find that Supt. Newkirk has had charge of the School for about one year and a half; and that so far as the internal affairs of the School are concerned, he has ever been watchful for the best interests of the children committed to his care.

But we find that not always has so much care been shown in finding suitable homes for the children of the school, nor in seeing that children sent from the school were safely delivered at their destination. In fact, we believe from the evidence adduced that there have been a number of cases of gross carelessness in these respects; that there have been violations of the expressed provision of the law that before a child should be taken from the school and placed in any home the application of the person desiring such child, duly indorsed by the county agent, should be filed with the Superintendent of the school. We find that in seven cases during the administration of Superintendent Newkirk and in twelve cases during that of his predecessor, this application was not so indorsed and filed. In all these cases we believe that the Superintendent and the Board of Control have been derelict in their duty, and upon them—and in the Nellie Griffin case, upon county agent Taylor also—must rest the blame.

The case of Nellie Griffin, who was taken from the school on the 28th day of January, 1891, by a man representing himself to be a Mr. Hendershot, of Jackson county, is one of the seven cases where the county agent's indorsement, as required by law had not been given.

The evidence in this case shows that on the day preceding the one on which Nellie Griffin was taken from the school Supt. Newkirk was applied to for a girl by a man representing himself to be a Mr. Hendershot, of Jackson county, as before stated; that after inquiring the man's occupation, financial standing, etc., Newkirk promised to let him know the following day whether he could have the girl; that Newkirk then telephoned County Agent Taylor, of Jackson, to look up or investigate (the fact which is not certain) Mr. Hendershot, and to telegraph him (Newkirk) if anything was wrong; that if no unfavorable report was received before the next noon, he would let the girl go with Hendershot; that Newkirk received no word from Taylor, so let the so-called Hendershot have Nellie Griffin. Mr. Newkirk testified that in adopting this course he believed he was exercising due caution and obeying the spirit of the law. The committee believe that had Supt. Newkirk observed the plain requirements of the law, in letter and in spirit, Nellie Griffin would not have met her awful fate, for the observance of the law would have resulted in showing the so-called Hendershot to be an imposter.

We find that it has been customary at the State Public School to send children (except very young ones) to the homes found for them, unattended by any one, trusting to the card of directions sewed on their garments to carry them safely through. This we regard as a dangerous practice and should be stopped. We believe the Board of Control of the School have power under the law to send an officer or agent of the School with every child that is sent out, to see that it arrives at its destination. We believe this should be done, and we recommend a suitable appropriation of money for this purpose.

Believing that too much caution cannot be observed in selecting homes for children, we recommend that the law be so amended as to require the endorsement of an applicant's home as a suitable one by the supervisor of the township or neighborhood in which the applicant resides, in addition to the indorsement of the county agent.

After a candid consideration of the premises, this committee believes that for the negligent management of the affairs of the State Public School, culminating in the death of Nellie Griffin, the members of the board of control in office at the time of the event aforesaid, whose province it was to appoint and remove a superintendent, are justly deserving of censure, and that the superintendent, for his gross carelessness in the Nellie Griffin case, be now removed from office.

GEORGE W. SHARP, Chairman Senate Committee.

Which motion prevailed.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

No. 215. By Mr. Perkins: Remonstrance against the passage of House bill No. 51, signed by G. N. Klockner and 1005 other citizens of Iron Mountain.

On demand of Mr. Perkins,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of Michigan in Legislature assembled:

The undersigned residents of the city of Iron Mountain, in Menominee county, respectfully remonstrate against the passage of House bill No. 51, for the erection of the county of Dickinson.

The city of Iron Mountain is young and its population has doubled in the past three years. To accommodate the people it has miles of streets and sidewalks yet to build, and it is yet without sewage system, which, for the health of the people, is imperatively demanded. It has all the expense incident to accommodating a large population, with comparatively little done. The total taxes paid by the city for all purposes in the year 1890 was $56,697.17, which, by additions for water tax, sewers, streets and general taxes will be greatly increased, and we believe that the taxpayers of the city should not be called upon to pay the increased taxation which the creation of a new county will surely bring, until such time as the necessary sewers, streets, sidewalks, and other city improvements are made and paid for.

A county seat at Iron Mountain would operate beneficially to but comparatively few of our population. It will be an additional burden on the property owners, which they should not be called upon to bear at all, but if ever, not until what is necessary for the health and convenience of the whole population is provided for.

Dated at Iron Mountain, Michigan, Feb. 19, 1891.

No. 491. By Mr. Lusk: Protest of 20 citizens against the extension of the city limits of the city of Kalamazoo.

On demand of Mr. Lusk,

The protest was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

We, the undersigned citizens of the township of Kalamazoo, residing within the territory proposed to be annexed to the city of Kalamazoo do hereby earnestly protest against such action and petition your honorable body to reject the bill now pending for the extension of the city limits of the city of Kalamazoo.

We base our petition and protest on the following grounds:

First, The territory proposed to be annexed is largely composed of farming lands, which could not possibly be benefited by being in the city limits, while taxes thereon will be doubled;

Second, To be included in the city limits would obligate us to contribute to public expenditures from which we would derive no benefit.

No. 492. By Mr. Lusk: Petition of the township board of the township of Kalamazoo against annexation of a portion of said township to the city of Kalamazoo.

On demand of Mr. Lusk,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

At a meeting of the township board of the township of Kalamazoo, it was voted unanimously to protest against the taking from the township of the land described in the bill to extend the city limits of the city of Kalamazoo. Our petition for the same is based on the following reasons:

First, That the city of Kalamazoo is now in debt to the amount of $40,000, and the property it is intended to annex is now out of debt;

Second, That it is not a necessity to the city, as the limits as now situated contain more property that has no city privileges than the proposed annexation;

Third, That a majority of the people proposed to annex are owners of farming lands, and the increased taxes upon the same would be ruinous to the owners thereof;

Fourth, That the town hall is now situated in the territory proposed to annex, and that the expense of moving said house will be a large expense to the taxpayers of said township.

No. 506. By Mr. Lusk: Petition of 150 citizens and taxpayers of Kalamazoo against sundry amendments to the charter of the city of Kalamazoo.

On demand of Mr. Lusk,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable Legislature of Michigan:

We, the undersigned citizens of the city of Kalamazoo, do hereby earnestly protest against the passage by your honorable body, of the bill embracing the so-called amendments to the city charter of the city of Kalamazoo, and we hereby humbly petition your honorable body to reject said bill.

Our protest and petition is based on the following grounds:

First, Said bill is opposed to the public interests and welfare of the great majority of the taxpaying citizens both within the present city limits and in the territory proposed to be added;

Second, A large part of the territory proposed to be added is now used for farming purposes, and will be available for no other purpose for a great many years to come, and it would be an outrage upon the owners thereof to compel them to pay for city improvements of no benefit to them;

Third, The rate of taxation in the city of Kalamazoo for the year of 1890 was 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ cents on the dollar, notwithstanding which the city spent \$16,000 more than was raised by taxation without making any extended public improvements; the proposed addition embraces a vast portion of low and marsh land, to improve which will require the expenditure of a very large sum of money, which will necessarily largely increase taxation. Taxes are now a burden and hardship, especially upon a large number of our citizens belonging to the laboring class and owning homes;

Fourth, The proposed change in the ward boundaries is opposed to the public interest and welfare of the city. It is not in the interest of public morality or economy to have a municipality continuously under the dominion or control of one political organization;

Fifth, It would not be for the interest of the citizens of said city to have its city council vested with the power of creating a commission upon public improvements consisting of one person. Public moneys should be expended for the accomplishment of the greatest good to the greatest number, and in municipalities to leave the expenditure thereof to the discretion of a single individual, is unwise and unjust;

Sixth, The provision in regard to borrowing money, as contained in said proposed amendments, is a dangerous one, and vests the city council with unreasonable power and authority;

Seventh, The present charter, city limits, and ward boundaries are all that the city of Kalamazoo, in the present era of hard times, demands, and it would be vastly for the best interests of the great majority of her citizens to allow them to remain as they are, and until the citizens who are immediately affected by such legislation demand a change.

Referred to the committee on municipal corporations.

No. 507. By C. L. Eaton: Petition of Harry W. Showerman and 47 others of Paw Paw asking for a law whereby said village can bond itself for improvements.

On demand of Mr. Eaton,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

We, the undersigned residents, voters and taxpayers of the village of Paw Paw, Van Buren county, State of Michigan, respectfully petition your honorable body for the passage of a local act, whereby said village may be authorized and empowered to borrow money and issue bonds therefor, provided a majority of the qualified electors of said village shall vote therefor at a special election to be called for that purpose, at which election there shall be submitted to the voters of said village the question of bonding said village for not to exceed the sum of $20,000, said sum of $20,000, or so much thereof as may be voted by said village, to be expended under the direction of the council of the village of Paw Paw, for the purpose of improving the water power of the Paw Paw river as it flows through said village, and for such other local improvements as in the judgment and discretion of said council shall be for the public improvement and advantage of said village of Paw Paw.

Referred to committee on municipal corporations.

No. 508. By Mr. Bathey: Petition of C. R. Kelley and 60 others praying for uniform system of text books.

On demand of Mr. Bathey,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan, Greeting:

WHEREAS, We the undersigned citizens of the State of Michigan, feeling ourselves aggrieved by the excessive prices we have to pay for school books, do hereby petition your honorable body to enact a law authorizing the State of Michigan to contract with some publishers of school books and to establish a uniform system of text books, and to furnish them to the people of said State at cost.

Referred to committee on education.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

To the President of the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

A minority of your committee on State Public School, who were instructed to examine into and investigate the management and affairs of the State Public School at Coldwater, and to report the result of said investigation to the Senate, respectfully report that they have performed that duty and submit the following for your consideration.

Your committee, in conjunction with the House committee, proceeded to Coldwater on the 9th inst. and spent two full days, the 10th and 11th, in examining witnesses and investigating the condition and management of affairs in said institution, and find as follows:

First, The internal management of the school to be excellent and all that could be desired by the most critical. The children are well clothed and fed, their moral, physical and intellectual welfare is properly looked after. They receive in every way the best of attention and care from the superintendent, officers, teachers and attendants in charge of said institution;

Second, Your committee believe that the State Public School at Coldwater is doing a glorious and humane work in caring for and placing in proper homes the unfortunate and dependent children of the State; we firmly believe that no other State in the Union, nor any other community in the world, is doing so much, or doing the same so well, as our own proud State of Michigan.

Third, That the State Public School, so far as your committee is able to determine, is conducted honestly and economically, with an eye single to the best interest of the children placed in its charge;

Fourth, We find that, since the organization of the school in 1874, up to June 30, 1890, there have been received into the school 2,923 children, ranging in age from two to sixteen years. Of this number, 1,942 have been boys, and 981 girls. It has been the policy of the school to make the school a temporary home only, until such time as proper homes could be found for the dependent children of the State, with an abiding faith in the principle that the average American home is far better than any institution in which to bring up and develop the best qualities of a child. In pursuance of this policy great effort has been made by the board of control, superintendent, and officers of the institution to find proper and suitable homes for the children placed in their charge. How they have succeeded will be shown by the following figures taken from the reports of the board of control.

	On June 30, 1890.
There were in the school or out on trial	318
Placed in homes on indenture and subject to visitation by State and county agents	1,019
Regularly adopted by proceedings in probate court	238
Girls, married	46
Died at the school and in homes	91
Declared self-supporting	349
Restored to parents	363
Returned to counties from whence they came	346
Have become of age	153
Total	2,923

It will thus be seen that the State School has been very successful in finding homes for its precious but unfortunate charges.

As to the quality of their homes, and the care used in selecting them, the following suggestions and instructions to county agents by the board of control are herewith given:

HOW TO SECURE THE BEST HOMES.

1. To secure better homes, the agent should visit the home of the applicant and have a personal knowledge not only of the applicant but of his family and his home.
2. The agent should never recommend a home to please the applicant or from fear of his ill-will.
3. The applicant should have sufficient means to support and educate the child, and a disposition to do it. He should have a settled home and occupation. Morality, temperance and industry should prevail in the home.
4. Preference should be given to country homes. There the boy or girl will have equal opportunities with other children, and from the country come many of our best and most successful men and women.
5. A home where the child will be taught skilled labor is always a desirable one.
6. The taste, talent and physical ability of the child should always be considered when placing it. When a home is secured its peculiarities, conditions and the desires of the applicant regarding the child should be clearly set forth to the superintendent, that the child of the taste, talent, physical ability desired may be selected.

7. This institution is not an intelligence office to procure farm and domestic help. These children are to be taught to respect labor and to work. Habits of industry are to be inculcated. But at the same time the State requires that they shall be educated in the public schools and treated as members of the family.

8. Homes in large villages or cities should be avoided as a general rule. Where a very young child is desired for adoption, they might be placed there with good results.

9. After a personal examination of the home, if the agent has any doubt about its fitness for the child, he should give the child the benefit of that doubt and decline to approve.

10. Especially seek homes among young or middle aged people as far as practicable, as they are more likely to be in sympathy with children and the child's faults are less likely to seriously disturb them than elderly people.

Plan of visiting children in homes is as follows:

The territory is divided into three sections. Section 1 includes all that part of Michigan north of the north line of Mecosta county. Section 2 comprises the three tiers of counties between section 1 and the north line of Ingham county. Section 3 includes the three tiers of southern counties. A report is required to be made at least once a year by the State agent, county agent, and the person with whom the child is placed. The year is also divided into thirds, and during each four months a report is required from one of the three sources, viz.: the State agent, county agent, and guardian of the child. These reports are required to show the condition, treatment, and progress of the children visited. Where there is any complaint made against the home or treatment of the child, a special visit is at once made, either by the State or county agent, who makes a special report to the superintendent, and, if the child is found to be ill-treated, it is at once removed and either placed in another home, or returned to the school.

From an examination of the report of the board of control and State and county agents we find, that 81 per cent of the children in homes are reported as doing well, 12½ per cent as doing fairly well, and 6½ per cent poorly. Mr. Streeter, the State agent, in his report says: "I have counted as doing well all those who are in proper homes, who are improving morally, mentally and physically, and who are contented, happy and giving general satisfaction. Those who are in good homes, and were honestly trying to overcome their faults, but were not improving much in any line, I have considered as doing fairly well. All others I have counted as doing poorly."

From the foregoing statistics, taken from the reports of the State and county agents, your committee believe that the State School at Coldwater is doing a glorious work for humanity of which the State of Michigan can justly feel proud. These children have been taken largely from the streets and alleys of our larger cities, where they were found wandering in many cases in a fatherless, motherless, and almost helpless condition, and placed by the State in good and prosperous homes, where they are brought up and educated under similar circumstances and with equal advantages with other children. Many of those who have become of age are filling responsible positions in the trades, professions and other useful occupations of life. So successful has this institution been that other states have copied after it and they too are doing good work.

Your committee come to the most unpleasant part of their duty in reporting on the facts and conclusions in the Nellie Griffin case, that of a ward of the school who was so foully and brutally murdered by a monster in human form, almost within sight of the Capitol dome.

We submit the facts as shown by the evidence, leaving it for the proper authorities to take such action as the best interests of the State demand. The law provides that no child shall be indentured, adopted, or otherwise placed in charge of any person, by any State institution, during minority, or for any other period unless the applicant for any child shall be first approved, in writing, by the county agent, for the county where the applicant resides, or by the State agent of the State institution to which the child belongs. Such approval, in such form as may be prescribed by the board of such State institution, shall be filed with the superintendent of the State institution to which the application is made before the child shall be indentured or adopted, and that section 19 of the law governing the school confers the same authority upon the superintendent of the school as upon the State agent.

Your committee find that in seven instances under the present superintendent of the State Public School, as also under the superintendency of former incumbents of said office, it has been the custom in special isolated cases not to live up to the letter of the law.

For a period of one year and five months, during which time Mr. Newkirk has been superintendent of the State school, there have gone out from the institution into homes 359 children, all of whose homes have received the proper indorsement of the State or county agent before leaving the school, except the seven cases above referred to.

In these seven cases it is but fair to state that the superintendent received what seemed to him, at that time, and what seems to have been satisfactory to all former superintendents in similar cases, the indorsement or recommendation of persons known to him and the applicant. In one case the applicant brought a letter of recommendation from an old personal friend of Mr. Newkirk's; in another case a family who had adopted a child from the school came with the applicant and, being known to the superintendent as people of high character and standing, upon their recommendation the applicant was allowed to take a child upon trial.

In still another case the applicant was recommended and indorsed by a leading merchant of Coldwater and the indorsement of the county agent received by telegram before the child was allowed to depart; and in another case the applicant was accompanied by a prominent Methodist divine, the pastor of the applicant, and personally known to the superintendent. In all these cases the indorsement of the county agent was soon afterwards received, and there is no complaint, and no doubt that the children so placed are in good homes.

In the case of poor little Nellie Griffin, the evidence disclosed the following facts:

There appeared at the school at Coldwater on the 27th day of January, a man claiming to be C. Hendershot. He had the appearance of a respectable farmer and made a good impression upon the superintendent and officers of the school. He said he came to get a girl if he could have one; that he owned a 200 acre farm near Parma, Jackson county; that he had no family except his wife, who was an old school teacher and a good musician.

He was asked by Mr. Newkirk about people living in Parma and answered all questions readily and without hesitation. Nellie Griffin was then brought in and shown him. He said she would suit him and asked if he could take her home. He was told by the superintendent that the case would have to be investigated, that it would be necessary to get the indorsement of his home by the county agent, and it might be a week or so before she could be sent to him, but possibly it could be arranged to have the investigation made so as to let her go back with him and that he could be informed by noon of the next day, whether such arrangement could be made. Hendershot said: "All right. I am going out to visit my brother who lives in the township of Bethel, and will call tomorrow and find whether I can have the girl or not."

He then took his departure. Mr. Newkirk testifies that he immediately called up Mr. Taylor, the county agent, of Jackson county, in which Parma, the alleged home of Hendershot is located. He told Taylor of Hendershot's being there and wanting a girl, also stating what Hendershot represented in regard to his place of abode and of his owning a 200 acre farm; that he then asked Mr. Taylor if he knew such a man. Taylor answered that he did not, but thought there was such a family there and that, if they owned 200 acres of land, he thought it would be all right.

Mr. Newkirk then directed Mr. Taylor to investigate the case immediately and report to him within 24 hours if he found any reason why the girl should not go. Mr. Newkirk also informed Mr. Taylor that Hendershot wanted to take the girl home with him, and that if he did not hear from him by the next day at noon, he should consider that everything was all right and that he had Mr. Taylor's indorsement and permission to let the girl go. Next day about noon he was called up by telephone by the man Hendershot, from the city (Coldwater), and asked if he had made his investigation and whether the girl could go.

Mr. Newkirk, not having received anything unfavorable from Mr. Taylor, the county agent, the girl was got ready, according to understanding and agreement, and sent to the depot in charge of an employe of the school and delivered to the man Hendershot. Mr. Newkirk is fully corroborated in his testimony by Mr. Streeter the State agent, and by Miss Corwin, the assistant superintendent and clerk, both of whom were in the office at the time and testified to hearing the conversation on the part of Mr. Newkirk with Mr. Taylor and understanding it substantially as stated by Mr. Newkirk. There having been some statements made in the papers as to Mr. Streeter and Miss Corwin not having corroborated the testimony of Mr. Newkirk in the case, they have voluntarily sent the committee the accompanying affidavits, which are hereby appended and made a part of this report.

To whom it may concern:

There being a general misrepresentation in the State press with reference to my understanding of the conversation by telephone between Supt. C. F. Newkirk, and County Agent Taylor, on the afternoon of January 27, 1891, relative to said Taylor's investigating the home of a man representing himself to be G. Hendershot of Parma, who was at the State Public School on said day and made application for a girl, I wish to say that I understood fully from such conversation that said Taylor was to determine the truth of Hendershot's representation and report before noon of the following day if all was not well; and that the girl selected was to go the next noon provided no report came, the authorities to understand that Mr. Taylor approved the home.

Further, when Nellie Griffin left the school, there was no doubt in my mind that the child left with said Taylor's consent and that he approved the home.* I hereby substantiate Mr. Newkirk's statements relative to said conversation in that I remember the import of the conversation, yet cannot recall the exact words.

EDWARD M. REYNOLDS, Notary Public.

To whom it may concern:

Several papers in reporting the proceedings of the recent investigations at the State Public School have stated that "I failed to hear" that part of the telephoning between Mr. Newkirk and Mr. Taylor which related to the understanding that, if we heard nothing further from Mr. Taylor, we should consider that the girl should go and with his sanction. However I may have been understood on the witness stand, I certainly intended to distinctly state that I heard Mr. Newkirk so telephone Mr. Taylor. There was not a doubt in my mind when Nellie left the school, that she went with Mr. Taylor's full knowledge and consent.

ELLA F. CORWIN, Assistant Superintendent.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, }
County of Hillsdale. } ss.

Mr. Taylor testifies that he was called up by telephone on the 27th of January, and told about the man being there and that he wanted a girl, that he had a 200 acre farm, etc. That he was asked if he knew such a man, that he said he did not, but if he owned 200 acres of land in Parma he presumed it was all right. Also that Mr. Newkirk did not tell him to investigate the case and that he did not consider it his business to investigate the case while the man Hendershot was still in Coldwater. He says this is the reason he did not investigate the case. However he admitted that he understood that the girl was to go on the train the following day at noon if Newkirk did not hear from him. He did not deny Newkirk's statement that he told Newkirk on the following Monday that he did go out on the street and find a man who said there was a farmer over in that vicinity by the name of Hendershot.

We have given the evidence in this case in detail as is shown by the stenographer's notes because we think that it is of vital importance to this case. While your committee can readily see that, if the strict letter and spirit of the the law had been complied with a brutal and heinous crime would have been averted, we can just as readily see that, if we believe the testimony of Mr. Newkirk, supported and corroborated by Mr. Streeter and Miss Corwin, two witnesses of good repute, whose reputation for truth and veracity stand unquestioned, why Mr. Newkirk considered that he complied with the spirit if not the letter of the law and that he did have the indorsement of the county agent, which only lacked the formality of being in writing.

We are therefore unable to agree with the majority of your committee in recommending that the superintendent be dismissed. While we think he is entitled to censure for not living up to the strict letter of the law, his error is not such as to demand his disgrace and dismissal. The board of control were present and heard all the testimony in the case. They are gentlemen of unimpeachable character; they are the only parties who can deal with the superintendent, and your committee are entirely willing to leave it to their judgment to take such action as the best interest of the school and State shall seem to demand.

Your committee make the following recommendations:

First, That the law be so changed as to require the written recommendation of the supervisor of the ward, village or township, in which the applicant for a child from any State institution resides, in addition to that of the county agent or State agent before any child shall be allowed to leave said State institution;

Second, That whenever any child is brought before any probate judge in this State for the purpose of determining whether or not such child shall be sent to the State school, if such child have parents, guardians, or friends, it shall be the duty of such judge of probate, to read and explain, to such parents, guardians or friends of such child, the law or laws governing such cases, so that they may fully understand that such child if given over to the charge of the State is placed entirely out of the control of such parents, guardians, or friends. In explanation of the foregoing recommendation your committee will say that it has come to the knowledge of your committee by the evidence taken in this investigation and from other sources, that it frequently occurs that parents or other relatives of children, who for the time being, have been brought to extreme poverty, have been induced upon the recommendation of the judge of probate superintendent of the poor, or other persons, to give up possession of their child or children, with the understanding and assurance that such children would be placed in such institution until such time only as such parents or their relatives should be in position to claim and care for such children. It has frequently occurred that such parents or other relatives have recovered from their misfortunes and become able to care for such children and then are informed that their children are entirely lost to them and they can not be told even their whereabouts;

Third, That the board of control should see that hereafter the law requiring the written indorsement of the county agent to be received and placed on file before any ward of the institution is allowed to be taken from said school, is strictly enforced, so that it shall be impossible to ever again have a repetition of the Nellie Griffin affair;

Fourth, That in the case of any child or children under the age of seven years being sent from such school to a home, such child or children shall be accompanied by the State agent or some other responsible person, who shall see that such child is delivered safely into such home; and that an appropriation of $2,500 or as much thereof as shall be found necessary is recommended to be made for the carrying out of this recommendation.

No. 515. By Mr. Norton Fitch. Petition of Edward B. Clements supervisor and 24 other supervisors and citizens of Kent county, protesting against increasing the representation of the city of Grand Rapids upon the board of supervisors of Kent county.

On demand of Mr. Fitch.

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable House of Representatives of the State of Michigan, and to the Honorable Committee of Municipal Corporations:

GENTLEMEN—The undersigned supervisors of the several townships of Kent county, having learned that there was a probability of an attempt to procure the passage of an act to increase the representation of the city of Grand Rapids upon the board of supervisors of Kent county, by the admission to a seat thereon of the senior aldermen of each ward of said city of Grand Rapids, would respectfully and earnestly protest against the passage of such an act for the following reasons, viz.:

The great cost attending such increase, there being now ten wards, and the probability of the formation or addition of from three to five more in the near future. The fact that the present board of 37 members, costing the county over $3,000 per year, to be paid by a tax upon the whole county, helping to swell such tax, already too burdensome to the townships represented by the subscribers to an amount difficult to be met, is a warning that further taxation in that direction would be dangerous to the best interests of the county.

Further: Such a measure is unnecessary because the interests of Grand Rapids are just as fully and ably represented by the supervisors of the several wards, and the three members of the city board of review, as it could be by a greater number; and further addition would only increase the quantity without probable improvement in the quality of such representation.

Further: The injustice to the larger villages of Kent county, of which there are several including a population of from 8,000 to 12,000, for if representation is based upon mere possession of wealth or numbers of inhabitants, they too should be further represented, which would be impracticable, is needless and unasked for, and if that principle were admitted would almost deny our poorer towns of all representation.

Further: Such an act could only be for the mere selfish purpose of obtaining control of the board for the purpose of the adoption of measures in which the city alone would be interested, or else to control the distribution of taxation as between the city and townships of said county. And this your subscribers would claim to be wholly unjust and unwarranted, and would challenge an examination of the records of the board in proof of the fact that no injustice has been done the city in the distribution of such taxation.

And further: Such an act is uncalled for by the responsible taxpayers of the county, both of the city and the townships, as your subscribers are informed and believe, but only by a few visionary and impracticable people who would heedlessly run the city and county into extravagance and useless expense, or discontented politicians anxious only for the place and pay.

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the State Legislature, Lansing, Mich.:

We, the undersigned, homesteaders in town 49 north of range 37 west, respectfully petition that your honorable body refuse to grant the petition of certain residents of this town asking to have said town detached from Laird township and formed into a separate township.

The township of Laird is itself but a new township recently opened for settlement. A large percentage of the land is not yet taxable, in view of which fact it is the opinion of your petitioners that it requires the five towns now comprising the township of Laird to at all successfully support a township organization, and that it is absurd for the yet sparsely settled town of 49 north of range 37 west to think of supporting a separate township organization.

The township highways now built and those in course of construction makes the exercising of the franchise possible to all voters who have but the interest of our new township at heart.

To the House of Representatives:

I have this day approved, signed and deposited in the office of the Secretary of State

House bill No. 71 (file No. 38), being

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, February 26, 1891. }

To the House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

A copy of your resolution requesting my opinion as to the constitutionality of act No. 188 of the laws of 1861, as amended, being the act incorporating the State Board of Agriculture, is received and considered.

As your resolution calls attention to no specific defect, I briefly refer to the peculiar phraseology of the title.

Article 4, section 20 of the constitution provides, "No law shall embrace more than one object, which shall be expressed in its title."

The title of the act referred to in your resolution is, "An act to re-organize the Agricultural College of the State of Michigan, and to establish a State Board of Agriculture." The title of the act does not clearly express the object of the law, but when read in connection with the facts and prior legislation, which called for its enactment, it appears more definite.

Article 13, section 2 of the constitution provides for an Agricultural school; and further, that it might be made a branch of the University.

In 1855, by act 130, entitled "An act to establish a State Agricultural School," an agricultural school was organized and placed under the charge of the State Board of Education. (See laws of Michigan, 1855, page 279.)

Afterwards, in 1861, the Legislature desiring to take the State Agricultural School out of the control of the State Board of Education and place it in charge of a special board organized for that purpose, passed act 188. The title of act 188, if it clearly expressed the object of the act, would be "An act to change the name of the State Agricultural School to State Agricultural College, and to provide for a board of control for such college, to be known as a State Board of Agriculture." This is really what was done by the act under consideration, and such has been the practical construction of this act for 30 years; and, although the title is not as clear as it might have been, still I am of the opinion that it is sufficiently definite, and no reasonable objection could be urged to this act at this late day by reason of the imperfection of its title.

The interpretation of the men who passed this law, and the subsequent practical construction, should have great weight; contemporaneous interpretation indicates the understanding with which the people receive it at the time, and as the act has been in practical operation for so long a time, it is fair to presume that the title was interpreted by the people as clearly expressing the objects which are provided for in the body of the act.

Cooley's Const. Lim. 81.

Frey vs. Michie, 68 Mich., 325.

I therefore conclude that there can be no legal objection to this act on account of its title.

Second. Is the corporation provided for by section 2 of this act a municipal corporation?

Article 15, section 1, of the constitution of Michigan provides, "Corporations may be formed under general laws, but shall not be created by special acts, except for municipal purposes." Act 188 is a special act, and hence the question: Is the corporation provided for by section 2 of the act a violation of this provision? The section provides, "The State Board of Agriculture shall be a body corporate, capable in law of suing and being sued, of taking, holding and selling personal and real estate, of contracting and being contracted with, of having and using a corporate seal, and of causing to be done all that is necessary to carry out the provisions of this act." Outside of this section, there is nothing in the act that would render it unconstitutional by reason of being in violation of article 15, section 1; that is, even though this section was unconstitutional, the balance of the act could stand, and whether section 2 is constitutional or not depends on the answer to the question, What does the constitution mean by "corporations for municipal purposes?"

Municipal has been defined to mean that which belongs to a corporation or city, and to include all the rules or laws by which a particular district, community or nation, is governed. It may also mean legal, particular, independent.

Black. Com., 44.

2 Burr Law Dict., 215.

In the case of State vs. Leffingwell, 54 Mo., 475, in construing a clause in the constitution of the State of Missouri (section 4, article 8), which reads as follows, "Corporations may be formed under general laws, but shall not be created by special acts, except for municipal purposes," the court held: "A corporation for municipal purposes is either a municipality, such as a city or town, created expressly for self government, with delegated legislative powers; or it may be a subdivision of the State for governmental purposes. The phrase 'municipal purposes' was intended to embrace some of the functions of government."

Angell & Ames on Cor., secs. 15-24.

Dill. Mun. Cor., 30-31.

Cooley's Const. Lim., chap. 8.

Within the above definition and included as "some of the functions of government," it can be well said that the education of the children of any community or State and the promotion of the education of the people is one of the most important interests and functions of government. The utility and durability of a popular government depends largely upon the education of its people.

Under our constitution the State University and the Agricultural College are expressly provided for. I do not believe that the framers of the constitution intended to use these words "municipal purposes" in any limited sense, but they intended to use them in a broad, comprehensive way, so that if the Legislature saw fit it might, by special enactment, promote any object that is embraced within the province and functions of popular government. The Legislature, under the constitution, if it had judged best, might have placed the Agricultural College in charge of the Regents of the University, who are made by the constitution a body corporate; and with equal propriety they had a right to provide for a board of managers for the purpose, as expressed in article 13, section 2 of the constitution, to "Encourage the promotion of intellectual, scientific and agricultural improvement."

In construing the words "municipal purposes" in the case of Horton, Judge of Probate, vs. Mobile School Commissioners, the supreme court of Alabama (43 Ala. 598) said, "the words 'municipal purposes' are not words of any definite, technical import, and they may be so construed as to apply to a corporation established to carry on the business of a public free school, and to raise funds for its support."

The construction placed upon section 1 of article 15 of the constitution of this State for a long series of years has been that any corporation organized for educational purposes came within the clause "municipal purposes," and this intention is evidenced by many acts incorporating public schools. After an examination of the construction of similar clauses in other constitutions, and considering the practical construction that has been given to this clause in our constitution, I am clearly of the opinion that the corporation provided for in act 188 of the session laws of 1861, is a "municipal corporation," and that said act is constitutional.

Respectfully submitted,

A. A. ELLIS,

Attorney General

The communication was laid on the table.

On demand of Mr. Gregory,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan, in session:

We, the undersigned, citizens of the township of Ann Arbor, Washtenaw county, residing upon or owning real estate in those portions of said township adjoining the city of Ann Arbor, which your honorable body has been asked to attach to and make a portion of the corporate limits of said city, do hereby respectfully remonstrate against the passage of any bill for that purpose.

1. Because the consent of the owners and occupants of said territory has neither been asked nor obtained thereto.

2. Because it is neither necessary nor desirable to the owners and occupants of such territory that such annexation be made.

3. Because much of said adjoining territory is merely farming lands and their burdens will be greatly increased without any proportion to benefit;

4. Because it is palpably unjust to coerce this annexation against the nearly unanimous objection of those who are to be most vitally interested by the proposed legislation.

No. 552. By Mr. Wachtel: Memorial of The Provincial Board of Health of Canada,

On demand of Mr. Wachtel,

The memorial was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

Toronto, February 27, 1891.

To the Governor and Members of the Michigan State Legislature:

GENTLEMEN—This board has learned with much surprise from the Medical Press that a resolution has been introduced into the State Legislature with a view to the abolition of the Michigan State Board of Health.

This board is wholly unacquainted with any of the causes, either of an executive or political character, which may have led to the introduction of said resolution to the Legislature; but it most respectfully desires to emphasize a few results which would logically follow the abolition of the said board:

1. It would bring prominently before the attention of every State of the Union, and every Province of Canada, the fact that a health board almost the oldest, and one of the most favorably known on the whole continent, through its activity in practical work, and through its advanced views on sanitation, has been abolished, owing to local influences which have temporarily been placed higher than the public good.

2. That those health boards of a whole continent, which in the past have looked for encouragement and inspiration to Michigan, have seen suddenly blotted out of existence an organization, which in many phases of its work has done more to advance sanitation on this continent, than almost any other single board.

3. That health boards and the public generally of all neighboring States and Provinces will view with alarm the absence of a State board from a territory, through which probably more than through any other single State or Province immigrants are transported, and which has, times innumerable during the last ten years, been a guarantee that small-pox and other contagious diseases imported or developed in said territory, would be promptly quarantined, and the danger of their spread to neighboring States and Provinces be practically removed.

4. That all the representatives at the National Conference of State Boards of Health, held during the annual meeting of the American Public Health Association in Toronto, in 1886, gave their adhesion to the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, It is necessary for the protection and preservation of the public health that prompt information should be given of the existence of cholera, yellow fever and small-pox; therefore be it

(1.) Resolved, That it is the sense of this National Conference of State Boards of Health that it is the duty of each State, provincial and local board of health in any locality in which any of the said diseases may at any time occur, to furnish immediate information of the existence of such disease to boards of health of neighboring and provincial states and to the local boards in such states as have no State board.

2. That upon rumor or report of the existence of pestilential disease, and in case positive definite information thereon be not obtainable from the proper authorities, this conference recommends that the health officials of one state shall be privileged and justified to go into another State for the purpose of investigating and establishing the truth or falsity of such reports.

3. That whenever practicable, investigations made under the preceding section shall be carried out with the co-operation of the State or local health authorities.

4. That any case which presents symptoms seriously suspicious of one of the aforesaid diseases shall be treated as suspicious, and reported as provided for in cases announced as actual.

5. That any case respecting which reputable and experienced physicians disagree as to whether the disease is or is not pestilential, shall be reported as suspicious.

6. That any case, respecting which efforts are made to conceal its existence, full history and true nature, shall be deemed suspicious and action taken accordingly.

7. That in accordance with the provisions of the foregoing resolutions, the Boards of Health of the United States and Canada represented at this conference depledge themselves to an interchange of information as herein provided.

As amongst these States and Provinces, your State was represented, it will be apparent that the absence from Michigan of a State board, will force neighboring States and Provinces, during the existence there of an outbreak of any of the moreserious contagious diseases, to take measures for their protection which would most injuriously affect the prosperity of a State having very great railroad and commercial interests. What this may at any time mean, should your State be deprived of the services of its State board is illustrated by what was experienced by Michigan, but much more by Ontario, during the time when they were exposed to small-pox from Montreal.

The province of Quebec, with no provincial board of health, had 7,000 deaths from small-pox in 1885, with a loss of millions of dollars; while Ontario with a provincial board, had but 19 deaths from the same disease, with an expenditure for these results not exceeding $15,000.

With such well established facts before it, which might be indefinitely multiplied, this board would respectfully urge upon every citizen of Michigan and upon every representative in its Legislature, to consider fully the results which must of necessity follow should such a step as the abolition of the State Board of Health of Michigan be decided upon.

We have the honor very respectfully to submit the above facts for the consideration of your honorable body.

JNO. J. CASSIDY, Chairman.

PETER H. BRYCE, Secretary.

Hon. P. B. Wachtel, Speaker of the House of the Michigan Legislature.

Referred to the committee on public health.

No. 553. By Mr. Baldwin: Petition of C. S. Boulton, J. F. Shraft, Chas. Palmer and 48 others, of Clinton county, asking for the Australian system of balloting.

On demand of Mr. Baldwin,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Hon. Senators and Representatives in Legislature assembled:

The butt end of the burden of taxation falls upon the shoulders of the farmers and laborers, and we earnestly protest against the appropriation of a single dollar by your honorable body to cities until all corporations, including railroads, banks and mines, are taxed the same as the individual property of farms, houses and lots, and the holders of mortgages pay the tax for the equitable interest they possess in the same.

Should any change in our present election law be deemed expedient, we ask consideration of the Australian ballot by your honorable body.

CITY OF FORT GRATIOT,)

Also,

No. 558. By Mr. Gibbons: Resolutions adopted by the citizens of Fort Gratiot on same subject.

On demand of Mr. Gibbons,

The resolution was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

WHEREAS, The attention of this council has been called to the fact that the common council of the city of Port Huron intend to request the Legislature to amend the charter of that city so as to absorb and annex the city of Fort Gratiot; and

WHEREAS, We believe such annexation to be detrimental to the best interests of our citizens, result in a loss of our postoffice and thereby greatly inconvenience merchants and patrons of said office; and

WHEREAS, The burden of taxation will be materially increased and no recompense be received therefor; therefore

Resolved, That the members of the House and Senate from this county and district in the Michigan Legislature be requested to oppose any such annexation.

Resolved further, That this Resolution be spread upon the city records and a copy thereof be sent to the Legislature, sealed with the official seal of this city, and that our Representatives in St. Clair county be requested to lend their aid in carrying out the object of this resolution.

I hereby certify that the above resolution was adopted by the unanimous vote of the council at a meeting held Monday evening, January 19, 1891.

WM. A. STEWART, City Clerk.

We, the undersigned old soldiers of the war of 1861 to 1865, do hereby petition your honorable body to honor the old soldiers of their just dues. We herewith ask your honorable body to take the record for a fact. In the year of 1861 and part of 1862 at that time there was no bounty paid and only $13 per month, and we were willing and volunteered to assist and sacrifice our life and all the dearest at home and on earth to defend our country and were willing also to go to the front without asking you a dollar of bounty. We ask your honorable body to say who are the most entitled to pay; is it he that enlisted at the last hour and received a big bounty and $16 per month and has not seen a gun fired, or is it he that has fought the battle over? We therefore ask your honorable body to pass the so called Dodge bill and do honor to your fellow soldiers. If you were willing to pay at the eleventh hour a bounty, be willing to remember those who have fought the battle and fought to a victory for you. Therefore do not forget your duty and oblige your petitioners and be true to your friends, and remember also this is an act of justice to the ones to whom this country is under some obligations, to the old soldiers, to the ones who have received no bounty.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

No. 573. By Mr. Downing: Petition of the boards of health of the townships of Bridgehampton, Custer, Wheatland, Minden and Marion for the deepening, straightening and widening of Black river in the county of Sanilac.

On demand of Mr. Downing,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

The undersigned members of the board of health of the township of Bridgehampton, in the county of Sanilac, and State of Michigan, respectfully show unto your honorable body that a river known as Black river has its source in the township of Minden, being township 14 north, range 14 east. That owing to the slow and sluggish current of said stream that a greater portion of the time a larger part of the land on each side of said stream is covered with stagnant water which is a constant menace to the general health of the public. That in our opinion if said river was straightened and several bars removed between its source and what is known as the "rapids" in said river, being near the north line of township No. 11 in said county of Sanilac, said river would have sufficient current and capacity to afford good drainage to this and other townships through which said river flows, to wit: Townships 14, 13, 12, 11 north, of range 14 east, thereby removing the cause to a great extent of malarial fever and other diseases with which the people of these localities are more or less afflicted. and we would respectfully ask your honorable body to take such steps as you may deem just and proper toward straightening, deepening and improving said river.

Respectfully,

JAMES LANE,

The President of the Senate and President of the joint convention addressed the joint convention as follows:

ADDRESS OF LIEUT. GOV. JOHN STRONG.

The purpose of this joint convention, gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives, is betokened in the sable colors of mourning that frame this desk. This seems an especially fitting hour to meet and pay tribute to the illustrious dead. The shock that shuddered the nation when its greatest living heroes of land and sea were silenced in death, has passed. The funeral dirge has sounded its closing note, and they have passed into history.

Dead? No, they live in the hearts of every American. They live in the triumphal progress of the nation they served at their life's peril. They live as an inspiration for all time to every pure minded citizen as the embodiment of all that is patriotic, all that is heroic, all that is manly.

So just as they have entered on this new and broader and time enduring life, we meet to take lesson from the past, to take inspiration for the future from the open books of their lives. You will but give expression to the sentiments of the great constituencies represented in this convention, and comprising this great, water-hemmed State of ours. Michigan was ever loyal and unswerving in her loyalty. Countless thousands of hostages she gave in her noble soldier sons, and those who watched and waited, the mothers separated from their sons and husbands, the sisters and sweet-hearts torn from the gallant youths, were loyal in their prayers for the Union and loyal in their devotion to the absent ones.

As Michigan yields to none in her loyalty to the sovereign stars and stripes, as she gave to the leadership of Sherman, the irresistible, and Porter, the resolute, her own life and life blood, so now she is second to none in devotion to their memories.

Sherman and Porter are enshrined in her heart. May they ever be her dearest idols.

Rev. Mr. Beal will offer prayer.

After an eloquent prayer by Rev. C. H. Beale,

The President announced that owing to illness his excellency, the Governor, was unable to be present on this occasion.

The President also announced a telegram from Justice of the Supreme Court John W. McGrath stating his retention at his home by illness.

Music—"Not dead, but Sleepeth," Lansing quartette, consisting of Messrs. D. Robinson, 1st tenor; T. R. Cowhard, 2d tenor; H. Robinson, 1st basso, and E. H. Esselstyn, 2d basso.

The Secretary of the Senate read the following preamble and resolutions.

WHEREAS, Death, always busy in laying low the true and noble, and at this time unusually active in causing our nation's halls to be draped in mourning, has again come near unto us, this time snatching away the highest and most distinguished living representative of our navy, as, but two days since, we met to deplore with heads bowed in grief the loss of his revered brother and companion in arms, with whom he wrought so nobly and disinterestedly for the integrity of the union in the terrible years of our civil war; and

WHEREAS, In the departure from this life of David Dixon Porter, although he leaves us full of years and honors, we recognize a personal as well as a national bereavement, but faintly shown by the stars and stripes surmounted and flanked by the sable colors of death. The indomitable and invincible hero! Inheritor of the valor of five generations of naval warriors, who signalized their devotion to their country in the Colonial wars, in the struggle of the Revolution, in the war of 1812, in the war with Mexico, and crowned by the late achievements of the greatest of them all, the foster brother of Farragut, and enthusiastic co-worker with him in the terrible naval duels which opened up a new and wonderful era in offensive warfare, and did much toward solving the problem of reducing the confederate strongholds along the Atlantic, the Gulf of Mexico, and the Mississippi and her great tributaries; therefore, be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That we hereby give expression to our profound sense of the obligations of this nation and people, collectively and individually, to the great admiral, in peace unobtrusive and irreproachable, vigilant and unconquerable in war; and be it further

Resolved, That, as in war they fought side by side for one object, their country's deliverance, in after years they lived as friends and neighbors, and in death they were scarcely divided, we hereby agree to appoint and set apart the same time and place for the holding of suitable memorial services in honor of our illustrious dead, General William Tecumseh Sherman and Admiral David Dixon Porter.

SAMUEL L. KILBOURNE.

In support of the resolution Hon. Samuel L. Kilbourne eloquently addressed the joint convention.

Music—"Hope Beyond," Quartette.

REV. WASHINGTON GARDNER.

In eulogy of General William T. Sherman, Rev. Washington Gardner addressed the joint convention as follows:

GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES:

It seems eminently proper not only that you should enter upon the journal of proceedings your official recognition of the great loss the nation has sustained in the almost simultaneous death of the two officers holding the highest rank known to our military and naval establishments, but that in this more formal way you should, in the name of a great commonwealth, express your appreciation of the nobility of personal character and the value to the nation of their pre-eminent public services.

Surely they whom the nation mourns were worthy this assemblage, embracing as it does, his excellency, the Governor, and those associated with him in the executive department of the State, the legislators in special session, the honored Justices of the Supreme Court, the resident survivors of the army and navy and these citizens of the capital city.

I shall undertake to speak more particularly of General Sherman, leaving others to dwell at length upon the character and public services of Admiral Porter.

SHERMAN'S EQUIPMENT.

From the first Colonial Congress until now the name of Sherman has held an honored place in the annals of our country's history.

William Tecumseh, orphaned of a distinguished father while yet a boy, was fortunate in falling under the guardian care of one of Ohio's most eminent sons.

As a student at West Point he demonstrated his ability by standing sixth in a class of 42. His military education, supplemented by 13 years of service in the regular army, thoroughly fitted him for the duties of a soldier.

Seven years' experience as a banker, lawyer and street railway president, though in them meeting with indifferent success, gave him that knowledge of men and affairs in civil life which was of exceeding value to him as commander of armies largely officered, and the rank and file almost wholly recruited from men untrained to war.

His childhood and youth, spent in his native Ohio, his academic years on the banks of the Hudson, and his military service in the south and far west gave him knowledge from personal observation of the nature, extent and vast resources of our country.

As superintendent of the Louisiana military academy for two years immediately preceding the rebellion, he came in contact with men of all classes prominent in public life; he had constantly to do with young men reflecting the dominant sentiments of the South. He was thus enabled to judge with a degree of accuracy rarely equaled, as to the spirit, purposes and determination of the southerners in their relation to the Federal Union.

His alliance by marriage with one of the foremost families of his native State, his known relation of brother to Senator John Sherman, then, his age considered, as now, one of the most influential men in public life, his wide and favorable acquaintance with men prominent in military, political and mercantile affairs were of great advantage to him.

Indeed by honorable lineage, by native ability, by special training, varied experience, professional and otherwise, and by family and social alliances, William Tecumseh Sherman, in the prime of his mental and physical manhood, stood at the opening of war scarce second to any in his equipment to play a leading part in that eventful drama in the world's history, enacted in the United States of America from 1861 to 1865.

HIS PATRIOTIC DECISION.

In the dark days immediately preceding the war, when State after State disavowed its allegiance and withdrew from the Federal Union, when Senators and Representatives, disregarding their sacred obligations of fidelity to the national constitution, openly proclaimed treasonable utterances in the legislative chambers of the Capitol; when members of the cabinet in closest official relations to the chief executive were secretly plotting against the nation's life; army officers, educated and maintained, honored and trusted by the general government, violated their solemn oaths to defend that government against all enemies, resigned their commissions, foreswore their allegiance and took up arms to destroy the Union.

In these times of national forebodings, when the republic seemed on the verge of ruin, the President declaring in a solemn state paper that the Federal government had no right to coerce a seceding state; when the great commonwealths of the cotton belt were proclaiming their absolution from the Union, peaceably if they could, forcibly if they must; when each succeeding day was waited with feverish anxiety to note what additional state or prominent individual would be heralded as in favor of secession and dissolution.

In those days of doubt, of uncertainty, of gloom, Sherman in the employ of the State of Louisiana at a salary of $4,500 a year, on which his family was dependent for support, wrote the governor of that commonwealth, saying: "If Louisiana withdraws from the Federal Union, I prefer to maintain my allegiance to the constitution as long as a fragment of it survives." He asked to be relieved the moment the State determined to secede, declaring: "On no earthly account will I do any act or think any thought hostile to or in defiance of the old government of the United States." Thus early, January 18, 1861, on the altar of patriotism he offered the sacrifice of a position both lucrative and congenial.

HIS MILITARY CAREER, upon which rests his enduring fame, is known to all. It began as colonel in charge of a brigade at the first battle of Bull Run. In that disastrous engagement the four regiments comprising his command lost thirty-eight per cent of the total casualties of the Union forces.

At Shiloh, as brigadier general, he commanded a division. On that fearfully contested field he revealed the possession of qualities that subsequently made him great. Only those who were there can realize the peril attending the Federal army on the first day of that sanguinary engagement.

Halleck, in his official report, wrote: "It is the unanimous opinion that Brigadier General Sherman saved the fortunes of the day."

General Wilson declares that: "During eight hours the fate of the army depended on the life of one man. If General Sherman had fallen, the army would have been captured or destroyed."

Grant records Sherman as "holding with raw troops the key to the Landing. To his individual efforts," he says, "I am indebted for the success of that battle."

In the proposed campaign against Vicksburg, wherein it was determined to cut loose from the base of supplies, he earnestly advised both by personal council and written communication against such plan of operations. But when that plan was adhered to, and the command given to move forward to its execution, there was no more obedient, devoted and efficient subordinate in that heroic army than Major General Sherman, commanding the fifteenth army corps. His superior officer says: "The siege of Vicksburg, the capture of Jackson and the dispersion of Johnston's army, entitle General Sherman to more credit than usually falls to the lot of one man."

When, on the fourth of July, 1863, thirty-one thousand men as prisoners of war laid down their arms on the banks of the Mississippi, and that mighty river "flowed unvexed to the sea," Sherman had the moral courage and the manliness to write and confess, that in the plan of campaign adopted and carried out, Grant was right and he was wrong.

Who of the beleaguered garrison at Chattanooga does not remember in the latter days of November, 1863, the arrival of the army of the Tennessee with Sherman riding at the head? After "a march of over 400 miles, without sleep for three successive nights and without a moment's rest," they crossed the Tennessee river and moved to the assault of the fortified positions at the end of Missionary Ridge. For two days the heroes of Shiloh and Vicksburg held the ground against the efforts of the massed forces of the enemy to drive them into the river. On the third day Thomas and Hooker, in conjunction with Sherman, advanced along the entire front and flanks of the Confederate position, and at set of sun the flag of our country waved in triumph not only over Lookout Mountain, but Missionary Ridge and Chattanooga was henceforth in undisputed possession of the Union army.

When in March, 1864, Grant was placed at the head of all the armies of the Union, Sherman succeeded him as commander of the department of the Mississippi, embracing the armies of the Cumberland, the Ohio and the Tennessee, with Thomas, Scofield and McPherson as his chief lieutenants.

Now came the supreme test of his ability as a great commander. Hitherto his had been the position of a subordinate for whom others originated, planned, directed and assumed responsibility; now he succeeded the greatest general of the century to independent command of a large army, covering in its operations a vast area of territory.

With one hundred thousand effective men under his immediate direction, he began on May 6, 1864, and ended with the close of the war, April 26, 1865, a series of campaigns, which for originality of conception, brilliancy of execution and decisiveness of results, have scarcely a parallel in the annals of modern warfare.

The achievements of that magnificent army, from Chattanooga to Atlanta, from Atlanta to the sea, and from the sea to Goldsborough, where it received the capitulation of the last of the great rebel armies, filled a world with wonder and admiration.

As the star of its illustrious commander rose to the zenith of a well earned fame, everywhere military students and critics recognized and conceded to him the possession of extraordinary endowments as leader and commander. As such the plan and execution of his campaigns will engage the attention of military students for centuries to come.

But the gratification of personal ambition, the glory of military achievements, the splendor of naval triumphs or the conquest of richest territory, cannot justify, excuse or palliate any war, much less such a war as for four years devastated a large section of our country, deluged the whole land with fratricidal blood and filled a nation with suffering and tears and woe and death. Only the can lend the highest dignity and character to services like these which, in their representative nature, place the seal of a great State in approval, not only on the careers of two conspicuous actors, but indirectly upon all who were associated with them in our civil war. As such the spirit and object of this meeting are in harmony with the verdict of universal history.

The struggle between the North and the South was essentially a conflict of ideas transferred from legislative halls, judicial tribunals and executive chambers, to fields of battle. That trouble involved the settlement of great fundamental questions which had come down to us from former generations. Their existence and perpetual agitation was a constant menace to the Union. The effort to peacefully adjust them had baffled the skill of the wisest of statesmen, and exhausted the resources of the most patriotic and philanthropic of Americans. Conciliation, compromise, concession, all looking to an amicable adjustment had failed. As a last resort, appeal was made to the arbitrament of arms. The gauge of battle was thrown down by those who would destroy the government, it was taken up by millions of patriot men, who rather than let it perish, would save the government even by war.

QUESTIONS SETTLED BY THE WAR.

When the war was over it was settled, and settled forever, that no State has a right to secede from the Union. And if one does, it is not only the prerogative but the duty of the Federal government to coerce until such state loyally resumes its proper relations.

When the war was over, it was settled that the doctrine of State sovereignty was not only dead, but buried beneath the bones of three hundred and sixty thousand Union defenders, there to rest until the reveille of the eternal morning summons the patriot host into the presence of the Great Commander.

When the war was over, it was settled that that monstrous decision of the supreme court of the United States which declared a "negro has no rights which a white man is bound to respect" was revised, and henceforth the constitution of our country should be no respecter of persons.

When the war was over, it was settled that the fires of battle had unwelded the shackles of degrading servitude from four millions of human beings, and a race clothed with personal, civil and political rights had started on a new era of development, of progress and achievement, the glory of which in the centuries that are to be will shine with increasing luster on the patriotism, the valor and the sacrifice of those who "died to make men free."

When the war was over it was settled that within the limits of the old Union there could be but one flag, and today more than sixty millions of Americans, citizens of a united, happy and prosperous country, own a joyous allegiance to the stars and stripes as the emblem of national authority, waving over a country which is in fact as in sentiment, "The land of the free and the home of the brave."

PLACE IN HISTORY.

The name and fame and deeds of Sherman and Porter are indissolubly associated with that period in our national history in which the integrity of the constitution, though questioned, was maintained; in which the Union of States, though assailed, was preserved; in which the stability of republican government, doubted by friends and derided by foes, asserted the divinity of its origin and the majesty of its power; in which Sinai and Calvary met on the plains of an oppressed humanity and gave to the world the grandest moral triumph of the nineteenth century.

CONCLUSION.

My countrymen, is it not a time for patriotic reflection, as we stand by the graves of Sherman and Porter, with the earth still lightly resting on their sleeping dust?

Singular coincidence that while the mortal remains of him who was last to wear the title of Admiral were waiting their final sepulchre, the heroic spirit of him who was last to wear the title of General left its tenement of clay and returned to the God who gave it! These honored titles, expiring with those whose lives and deeds shed lustre for them, were the links that bound the latter to the earlier epoch of our national history.

How rich in names, in achievements, in beneficent results, is the first full century of our nation's life! Washington and Lincoln, Hamilton and Chase, Marshall and Webster, Jefferson and Sumner, Grant and Farragut, Sherman and Porter. These are among the leaders of that mighty host, which, whether of native or foreign build, whether soldier or civilian, whether occupying public station or private place, have wrought together in this western world in working out with its blessings the great problem of "government of the people, by the people, and for the people."

Ours is a magnificent heritage! We shall be false to the past with its glorious memories and unfaithful to the future with its tremendous possibilities if in our day and generation we fail in devotion to that country for the founding and the perpetuity of which, from Bunker Hill to Appomattox, the mighty host of patriot dead has yielded up their lives.

Music—"Tenting on the old camp ground," quartette.

JOSEPH GREUSEL.

Mr. Joseph Greusel delivered a recitation, entitled "Before Vicksburg, May 19th, 1863," and prefaced the poem recited by the following remarks: He said that in writing a few days ago of the death of Gen. Sherman, the poem he was about to recite had come into his memory, though his first reading of it went back to the war period. He had never recited it before except on one occasion, on shipboard, when a concert for shipwrecked sailors was in progress, with Lieutenant Governor Strong presiding.

The incident to which the poem relates is thus spoken of by Gen. Sherman in his memoirs: "In the very midst of this," (the siege at Vicksburg in May, 1863), "when shell and shot fell furious and fast, occurred that little episode which has been celebrated in song and story, of the boy Orion P. Howe, badly wounded, bearing me a message for cartridges, calibre 54, described in my letter to the Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War. This boy was afterwards appointed a cadet at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, but he could not graduate, and I do not know what has become of him."

During those early years of the war our troops were armed with muskets of different makes and calibres. There were Austrian rifles, Belgian muskets, Enfield rifles and Springfield rifles. Ammunition that would fit one of these kinds of guns was useless for the other kinds. It was necessary in making out orders for ammunition to be explicit, and that explains why the boy was so particular to tell Gen. Sherman the calibre that would suit the guns of his regiment.

The poem is one of those that illustrate how the patriotic spirit of the times pervaded people of all conditions. Whittier's stirring verses on Barbara Fritchie shows the fervor and courage of that grand woman. It will no doubt inspire a deep and lasting devotion to the flag among our countrymen. This poem illustrates the courage of a little boy and his attention to duty under circumstances of great peril. It, too, bears a noble lesson to the young, and is withal such an instance of the kindness of heart of Gen. Sherman, displayed amid the tense responsibilities of a commander in action upon the battle field, that it deserves to take its place with that loving tribute of flowers, which your Senators and Representatives, acting for the whole people of Michigan, have placed upon this rostrum in loving regard for his memory.

BEFORE VICKSBURG, MAY 19, 1863.

While Sherman stood beneath the hottest fire
That from the lines at Vicksburg gleamed,
And bombshells tumbled in their smoky gyre,
And grape-shot hissed, and case-shot screamed,
Back from the front there came,
Weeping and sorely lame,
The merest child, the youngest face
Man ever saw in such a fearful place.

Stifling his tears, he limped his chief to meet;
But when he paused, and tottering stood,
Around the circle of his little feet
There spread a pool of bright, young blood.

Shocked at his doleful case,
 Sherman cried, "Halt! front face!
 Who are you? Speak, my gallant boy!"
 "A drummer, sir; fifty-fifth Illinois."

"Are you not hit?" "That is nothing. Only send
 Some cartridges; our men are out;
 And the foe press us!" "But, my little friend—"
 "Don't mind me! Did you hear that shout?
 What if our men are driven?
 Oh! for the love of heaven,
 Send to my Colonel, General dear!"
 "But you?" "Oh, I shall easily find the rear."

• "I'll see to that," cried Sherman; and a drop Angels might envy dimmed his eye,
 As the boy, toiling toward the hill's hard top,
 Turned round, and with his shrill child's cry
 Shouted, "Oh, don't forget!
 We'll win the battle yet!
 But let our soldiers have some more,
 More cartridges, sir; calibre fifty-four."

SENATOR CHARLES A. FRIDLENDER.

Senator Charles A. Fridlender addressed the joint convention as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN OF THE JOINT CONVENTION:

History is the record of past events. By it we trace nations to their origin, follow them in their progress, and in certain cases note the causes which brought about their decadence and final fall. No nation but has its own history, marking the periods of its greatness, and inseparable from it are the names of the men that made it great, not only in the annals of war, but in the arts and sciences, and in literature, and while peace has furnished its great men, war has produced those who stand at the pinnacle of a nation's glory. Frederick the Great, Napoleon and Wellington, are the pride of their respective countries.

We, too, have a history, and although of but recent date compared with that of the nations of the old world, we point with pride to those periods that mark an onward march of progress, such as no nation has made in so short a time. During peace and war onward and upward has been the motto of this nation. And like others we have had our wars, and it may be truthfully said that this nation was born in the midst of a just revolution, and from the beginning we have had our great men. When in 1861 the clouds of civil war had settled on our fair land and armed rebellion was defying the authority of the government, when the raw levies of the patriotic north were being hurried to the front, there to be molded into the finest armies the world had ever seen, when men with incredible rapidity were rising only to fall again, the time came at last when those who were to lead the legions of the north to victory were finally found. Covering that period of immortal glory are names which will be immortalized in the pages of history and will never die. Not kings or emperors, but American citizens, who, by their sterling qualities and patriotism had entrenched themselves in the hearts of the people; and today this great State of Michigan by its representatives is paying a tribute of honor and love to the memory of two of the noblest sons of the nation. With Vicksburg must forever be associated the names of Sherman and Porter. And with Sherman the Atlanta campaign and the march to the sea must ever remain the crowning success of his military genius. We who followed his guidance and fought under him loved him as only soldiers can love the man who leads them to victory, and the title of Uncle Billy, given to him by the army, was the expression of the love we bore him. We loved to greet him at our gatherings, and ever hoped and prayed that he might be spared to us for many years to come, but the great commander of the Universe has taken him away. But he is not dead. Together with Lincoln, Grant, Sheridan and a host of others, Sherman and Porter will forever live and never be forgotten. Their history is ours and will be handed down from father to son, from generation to generation, the proud heritage of a free people. The world at large will know it and repeat it; the oppressed of all nations will revere it, and the stranger standing upon our shores for the first time, with our starry flag floating over him, with millions upon millions of free men, he, in gratitude, will bless the memory of those heroes.

"The lightnings may flash and the loud thunders rattle,
They hear not, they care not, they're free from all pain;
They sleep their last sleep, they have fought their last battle;
No sound can awake them to glory again."

SENATOR JOHN R. BENSON.

Senator John R. Benson addressed the joint convention as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN OF THE LEGISLATURE:

It is not fortunate for me to have been chosen to follow, in language such as I can make use of, the eloquent gentlemen who, upon this mournful occasion, have addressed you. The orations to which you have listened, pronounced in eulogy of the illustrious dead, whose distinguished services have so long been profoundly recognized by the grateful people of this republic, have brought sadness to your hearts, and tears to your eyes, as only the utterances of masters can, who themselves are deeply touched by the words which they seek to impress.

Yet, not all that they have said, all that I can say in the few minutes allotted me, all that might be said by the speakers who will succeed me, although from their lips may fall the sweetest and most thrilling accents of friendship and patriotism, can overdraw or go beyond the abundance of the fund of popular appreciation which today glows in the bosom of the masses for William Tecumseh Sherman and David Dixon Porter. In all the authentic periods of the world's history, heretofore, the ultimate result if not the primal object, of military undertakings has been the attempt of consolidation of despotic power, and, generally, ambition has been successful at the expense of the liberty of the people, no matter which army or be triumphant in the contest.

Not seldom a champion might arise to grapple with the oppressor son of freedom might ascend toward the zenith, but in the very hour of success, the chalice of hope would be dashed to the earth. In a moment, as it were, the unselfish hero would be transformed into an iron-hearted autocrat ready to devour them with fire and sword if they refused to do his tyrannical behest. To their terror and despair they learn that all their blood and treasure has but won them a change of masters. Cæsar, when once he had passed the Rubicon, was no longer the man of the people. A brave soldier, a literary genius, but a tyrant.

Pericles of Athens made his city the architectural wonder of the world, but the chains her people wore were galling, though gilded. Alexander, when his sword had untied the Gordian knot of Asiatic despotism, had nothing better to replace it than the drunken rule of a licentious debauchee, to be succeeded by the unbridled sway of his unprincipled generals. Napoleon, the darling child of patriot France, born of the Revolution, nursed in the lap of a new-fledged hope of a millenium to be fostered and brought into fruition by him, once France was bound to his chariot wheels, poured out her blood like water to gratify his insane thirst for universal conquest. In all ages, fabulous or historic, one example alone shines forth of a nation in which the successful soldier or statesman neither sought nor accepted a kingly crown.

The United States and no other commonwealth, can boast an escutcheon clear of treason and usurpation on the part of her foremost sons. From the peerless Washington to our honored veterans, glorious respectively on land or sea, whose obsequies a mourning people have lately celebrated, her sons have served her in peace and war, and, their duties performed, have cheerfully and gladly retired to the ranks from whence they came. This it is, my friends, which calls us together here tonight to commemorate their heroic deeds and their more heroic abnegation. We do not bow down before war to do it honor.

We dread and condemn the terrible scourge which decimates mankind, demoralizes and degrades all nations it touches, and transforms smiling fields and populous cities into deserts and ruins. But when the conflict is for cherished principles, for the down-trodden, for union, for freedom, for home, for kindred, the cause for which we fight becomes holy, as in the late struggle, in which our faithful soldiers bled and died.

Patriotism, devotion to one's own land, is not ambition. It becomes sanctified when the warrior lays down his life on the battlefield, perishes of miasma and exposure or pines away to a skeleton, the wretched victim of the prison pens. It becomes sublime when the revered commander, adored by his fellow officers, alike of the land and the ocean, with whom he has counseled and co-operated, applauded by the millions of his countrymen who know what he has done for them, retiring to the seclusion of home, for which he yearns, refuses to accept the highest position in the gift of the people.

This it is which rounds up the measure of our esteem for the great men just departed. Yet our sorrow is not inconsolable. They have lived good and noble lives. They have died full of years and honors. Their monuments are reared in the affections of 60,000,000 of people. When the inscriptions on marble and granite are effaced, men will still speak with love and admiration of William Tecumseh Sherman and David Dixon Porter.

SENATOR WILLIAM H. WITHINGTON.

Senator William H. Withington next addressed the joint convention as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN OF THE JOINT CONVENTION:

Gen. Sherman's fame was achieved and retained against two disadvantages, forty years of undistinguished life before the war, twenty-six years of comparative inactivity after its close. The popular mind does not readily accord great ability to a man who has done nothing of importance during forty years of his life, and heroes are in danger of losing their grandeur when they descend from the lofty theatre of their great deeds to a prolonged walk in the common paths of every day affairs.

By fortuitous circumstances, by an accident or by an opportunity, a man at any age may wake to find himself famous, but to earn fame the man who begins his career at forty starts with less opinion of himself and less credulity of the people than a possible new genius of twenty.

Sherman's fame was not of mushroom growth. It was hard earned, won by campaign after campaign and battle upon battle. He had not like other United States Army officers of his own age the advantages of experience in actual war in Mexico. Bull Run war his first battle. Like Grant he was distrusted before he was trusted. Called crazy because his foresight was foolishness to men of less wisdom and less knowledge of the spirit and resources of the rebellion.

Sherman was not among those looked to or discussed as a possible great commander at the opening of the war. But the qualities of a great commander were in him. In him by the blood and iron of his Puritan ancestry, in him through military training and discipline, in him through the possession of a high spirit, a resolute will and a keen intellect.

There are paths in life in which it is possible for a man to reach high rank, even high reputation, without the possession of great ability. This is perhaps as true of the army as of other professions, in all positions below that of the commander of an army in war. To reach and to hold that place in a long war a man must be absolutely great. It demands powers little less than God like.

The commander of a great army has under his direction, and hence must have within his knowledge, not only the large grasp of the campaign, but all the conditions necessary to the operations of his army—its supplies of substance, clothing, arms and ammunition, its means of transportation. He must have knowledge of the country in which he operates. He must know and weigh his officers and have such knowledge of his men and such domination over them as will insure their highest devotion and efficiency. He must have that largest power of the human mind, the ability to plan. This planning must grasp present conditions and forecast future results. And this forecast must not alone consider what his army shall do, but must have the prescience to anticipate what the other army will do.

The campaign planned and the grand strategy of its movements worked out, then comes the culmination, the day of battle. It demands still other powers, not always combined with the ability to plan or to execute the strategic movements of an army. Nothing on earth approaches the tremendous exigency of the battle field. Now nothing waits for deliberation. Every moment calls for decisions and every decision is fateful. From rank and file, through every grade, each nerve and faculty is at its utmost strain.

To the one man in supreme control the responsibility is appalling. It is not strange that Hooker broke down under it at Chancellorsville. It is not strange that one gallant officer after another, who had distinguished himself as a division and corps commander, when called to the command of an army was unequal to the task. It should never be spoken to their discredit. They did their utmost and the country should cherish their names with grateful remembrance.

It became apparent, however, as the war progressed, that a different type of man from the ideal soldier was needed in this struggle. Neither the mastery of the theory of the art of war which Halleck and McClellan possessed, nor the superb presence and gallantry of Hancock and Hooker, were to answer the demands for commanders equal to the crisis. It was found that the war was an intensely practical affair. It was business. Sherman touched the key when he said that grand strategy was common sense applied to the art of war.

It was the plain men, the men of hard sense and resources, men who could apply their knowledge quickly to confronting conditions, who came to the head in this war. First of this class is Grant and second Sherman.

That William T. Sherman was equal to the epoch and the highest demands, that taking his first lesson in actual war at Bull Run he moved steadily on, never knowing defeat, to the Atlanta campaign, the march to the sea and the capture of Joe Johnson's army, stamp him as not only a great general but a great man.

Music, "Soldier's Farewell." Quartette.

REPRESENTATIVE JOHN MINER.

Representative John Miner spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN OF THE JOINT CONVENTION:

The genius of the American people was never more grandly manifested than when, at the close of the war of the rebellion, the victorious army, called together in defense of the Union, so peacefully dissolved.

The name of General William Tecumseh Sherman, who bore so conspicuous a part in the events of that time, invites a few reflections upon that topic.

The war had ended in victory. More than one million of men had been withdrawn from the peaceful avocations of life, and were at that moment enrolled in the military service of the Government.

An army of over six hundred and fifty thousand men, fully equipped, and crowned with the laurels of conquest and victory, was still under arms.

It was in every respect the most formidable array of military power then in existence upon the earth's surface.

It was marshaled by generals who were loved as only they can love and be loved who have borne the dangers and fatigues of war together, and together have shared the defeats and victories of battle. The glory which history would accord to their heroic achievements they would each participate in. But the embodiment of all their glory and heroism was found in the persons of their several great commanders. Of those great leaders the names of Grant and Sherman were conspicuous among the greatest.

In the latter part of May, 1865, a portion of this mighty host passed in grand review before the assembled dignitaries of the government in the city of Washington. Two hundred thousand and upwards of the veterans, under the leadership of the two great and much beloved chieftains I have named, marched through the streets of the capital of the nation they had by their prowess saved.

The joy and pride of victory might have seemed undimmed by any cloud.

But the times were ominous of evil. It was but a few short weeks before that the Chief Magistrate of the nation had been publicly murdered by a desperate assassin. Other important officers had been simultaneously attacked with murderous purpose. The shocks of horror and of sorrow had given place to feelings of angry vengeance and uneasy suspicion in the public mind.

Dark thoughts and suggestions of widespread conspiracy to subvert the government burdened the public mind, and fears of general anarchy possessed a large number of the people.

The successor of the lamented Lincoln in the presidential office was already looked upon with growing feelings of antagonism. Rivalry and discord seemed to take possession of the public councils. The disturbed social conditions inevitable to a state of war marked the epoch.

The times and occasion were such, as history tells us, had been seized upon by ambitious leaders in other parts of the world to erect the temple of their own fortunes upon the ruins of their country. But, lo! as the mists of the morning dissolve before the rising sun, before the eyes of an astonished world unable to appreciate at its true worth, the heights and depths of American patriotism, this army, which might have put the two continents beneath its feet, melted and dissolved into the ranks of peaceful citizenship. Their work was done. Their glory was shared in by every American citizen living or thereafter to be born. Their reward was found in the grateful hearts of their countrymen. But the glory and honor of the American soldier is but a radiance gleaming forth out of the patriotism of the American citizen. It was a spectacle for all nations, and a lesson for all time.

It is the lot of some men in every age of the world's history to symbolize and embody the dominant virtues of their time. It is in this respect that history attaches itself to their memories, and they stand out forever upon its pages, conspicuous examples of the virtues of the times in which they lived.

If ever patriotism, true, unselfish love of country, was a virtue of vital necessity, it was during and at the close of the war of the rebellion. It was then, and particularly at the latter period, that patriotism, to be a virtue, must have been pure, wholly without the alloy of ambition or self-interest. The Providence which has shaped and controlled the destiny of our country from the beginning, was kind and propitious at this great crisis.

Among those in high places and trusted with extensive powers for good or evil at this time none stood higher as truly reflecting the spirit of lofty and self-sacrificing patriotism, which then, and at all times, thank God, fires the hearts of the American people, than William Tecumseh Sherman.

A soldier, graduated from West Point at the age of twenty years, he entered at once upon active service in the Florida war. His military duties brought him to the then remote coasts of California, where he was on duty during the early days of the gold excitement in that region.

Resigning from the military service of his country, he became a banker, at which occupation he was engaged for four years. Then, with the enterprising character of the true American, which readily accommodates itself to surroundings and adapts itself to any vicissitudes of fortune, we find him engaged in the practice of the law at Leavenworth, Kansas, during the troublous times prevailing upon the then border.

Abandoning the practice of the law he engaged as a professor in a southern military school, where he remained until about the period of the breaking out of hostilities between the two sections. Hastening to tender his services in support of his country, he entered upon the career which has made his fame the pride and glory of his fellow countrymen.

He lived long enough to enjoy the love and veneration of his fellow citizens, freely and generously bestowed in grateful memory for his services, and in deep veneration for the simplicity and nobility of his character.

He saw the works and sacrifices of those years of war, crowned with the blessings of peace upon a united and happy country.

And as the light of his life went out, he was accompanied in his journey to the other shore by one who in life had borne the standard of his country upon the sea, and made its laws and decrees respected upon the waters.

William T. Sherman and David D. Porter have passed away. They died as they had lived, noble illustrations of the truth that the American warrior is only the American citizen with his armor on.

REPRESENTATIVE ROWLAND CONNOR.

Representative Rowland Connor eulogized the memory of General Sherman in an eloquent address to the joint convention.

REPRESENTATIVE GERRIT J. DIEKEMA.

Representative Diekema spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN OF THE JOINT CONVENTION:

Since the gavel that called to order the Michigan Legislature of 1891 first fell, two great men whom this nation loved for their heroic achievements, have fallen beneath the burden of the day, and are now silently sleeping under the clods of the valley.

Two magnificent leaders of men have been summoned from among us to render an account to the Great Commander in Chief, whose will is universal law. Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman and Admiral David D. Porter are dead, and yet they live, for great men never die.

Their thoughts, their deeds, their hopes and aspirations, their patriotism and courage, yes, all that made their lives sublime, remain with us to enlighten our minds, to direct our wills, and to kindle within our hearts the flames of patriotism, and manly courage, that illumined their pathway.

Carlyle has indeed truthfully said that the history of what man has accomplished in the world is at bottom the history of the great men that have worked here. They were the leaders of men, these great ones, the modeler's patterns, and in a wide sense creators of whatsoever the general mass of men contrived to do or to attain; all things that we see standing accomplished in the world are properly the outer material result, the practical realization and embodiment of thoughts that dwell in the great men sent into the world; the soul of the whole world's history, it may justly be considered, was the history of these.

Prof. Winchell, of our own University, whose untimely death we have so lately been called upon to mourn, once used words somewhat like these: 'If by one fell blow a score of revolving worlds should be stricken from the skies, the universe would return to chaotic darkness and confusion; so if we should strike from the world's history the lives and deeds of a score of great men, the civilization of this age would be turned into barbaric darkness.'

The men whose death our nation mourns, and whose memories we have here assembled to bless, were military heroes, men who have engraved their images upon the nation's heart, and who have written their names in lines of blood upon their country's flag.

Dreading the sea with its resistless fury of wind and wave, yet loving his country with a heart that overflowed with burning patriotism, brave Admiral Porter set out upon the stormy billow and led on to victory the Union navy. His capture of New Orleans, and his work at Vicksburg, in coöperation with the immortal Farragut, will be recorded and gratefully remembered while the nation lives.

Just before this sea warrior took sail upon the boundless unknown sea, the last of the great triumvirate of our union generals, William Tecumseh Sherman, expired. Here was a typical American soldier. Here was a commander, who, unlike almost all of the world's great chieftains, did not use his military career as a stepping stone to civil and political power.

The glory won by him upon the field of battle is not dimmed by subsequent political intrigues. He found scope for the exercise of all his powers and for the achievement of his highest aspirations in his chosen profession. No Brutus could strike down this our Cæsar because he was too ambitious.

When the rumblings of the war god's chariot wheels were first heard from the black clouds in 1860, Sherman was teaching in a Southern military academy. He was surrounded by the strongest anti-union sentiment. He breathed the air that was heavily charged with secession. But truer and better than so many unfaithful West Point graduates, with a strength that lifted him above his surroundings, with courage born of conviction and with a determination firm as the everlasting rocks, he left the South, offered his services to Father Abraham, and took command of Union soldiers.

This single act of loyalty, courage and patriotism contained within it a prophecy of his whole future career.

With all respect and admiration for the other great Union generals, I believe history will record that Sherman was the only great strategist.

Though thoroughly trained in military tactics as taught by the schools, he at once saw that the vast extent of territory in which military operations were being carried on, and the enormous size of our untrained armies demanded new and as yet untried methods, and he boldly blazed the way through the unknown forest.

His march to the sea violates all law governing military tactics in as far as it cut him off from communication with the base of his supplies. It stands unique since the time that Cæsar crossed the Rubicon.

For a long time the military critics of Europe seemed to have it all their own way when they declared that no strategy was displayed in the civil war; that it was simply a war of brute force, of hurling great armies against each other whenever opportunity offered.

But since the day that Sherman penned those magnificent articles for one of our leading magazines, clearly and forcibly outlining the strategical movements of our armies, these critics have muzzled their guns. General Sherman knew the temper of the South. He knew that the foe was worthy of his steel, and he early saw that the war was one of years and not of months. For uttering this prophecy he was called "Crazy Sherman." He did not retract however, and his prophecy now is history.

Time will not allow me to follow him through camp and field, through shot and shell to final victory, nor to narrate his deeds of valor. They are our common pride, and a nation's proud heritage.

The hero of the march through Georgia was so great that he could willingly obey; so great that he relied solely upon his record for personal promotion; so great that the petty jealousies and rivalries which so often disgrace chieftains and sacrifice soldiers could not dwell within his soul.

When the news came flashing over the wires that the next annual meeting of the Grand Army of the Republic would be held within the borders of our own beloved State; that Michigan who gave so many brave and stout hearts to the Union army was to be honored by a national encampment, our soldier boys were full of joy. They looked forward with unmingled pleasure to the day when with small expense they could meet again their comrades in arms. But there was one whom above all others they longed to see, the last of the triumvirate, the immortal Sherman.

The army will meet, but we all will miss him. He has answered the last roll call. His march through life has reached eternity's sea.

On demand of Mr. Johnson,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

Your petitioners would most respectfully represent that they are residents and taxpayers of the county of Shiawassee, in this State, and that it has been represented unto us, that a bill is now pending in one of your honorable bodies, to provide for the holding of certain terms of the circuit court in the city of Owosso. Your petitioners do most respectfully protest against the passage of said bill, believing that no necessity exists for the enactment of any such law, and that such law is disapproved by a large majority of the taxpayers of this county, and if allowed to pass into law by your honorable body, would entail upon the people of this county a large expense in addition to ordinary expenses of running said court, which additional costs and expenses of running said court would, in the end, find their way to the tax rolls of this county, and taxation would be thereby increased, the burden of the people of the county would be made greater, and no corresponding public good resulting therefrom.

Your petitioners would further represent unto your honorable body that at the last session of the board of supervisors of this county, a resolution was presented by which it was proposed to submit to the electors of the county the question of moving the county seat from its present location in the city of Corunna, to the city of Owosso, and that said resolution was rejected by a vote of five for and seventeen against the resolution.

Your petitioners do further represent that the facilities for holding said court where it is now located (in the city of Corunna, the county seat of said county), are ample and sufficient for all purposes, the court room is large and convenient and well lighted and heated; our county offices are first-class, each being provided with fire-proof vaults; the jail is first-class, having been built but a few years ago by the city of Corunna, at a large expense to said city and donated to the county.

Your petitioners further show that the distance between the city limits of Owosso and Corunna, is but one mile, and that it is only about ten minutes drive from the business center of Owosso to the court house in the city of Corunna; and further that the said cities are connected by two lines of railways, over which trains are running at all hours of the day. And we further show that the hotel accommodations are first-class and amply sufficient for all who desire such accommodations.

Outside of Iron Mountain and Breitung township, the people living in the territory out of which it is proposed to erect the new county are almost unanimous in opposition to the measure, and over 1,000 residents among whom are the owners of almost two-thirds of the taxable property of the city of Iron Mountain itself, have remonstrated against the passage of the bill.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

The undersigned, members of the bar of the county of Shiawassee, respectfully object and protest against the passage of the bill for the holding certain terms of the circuit court of said county in the city of Owosso, in said county, on the ground that no public good requires the passage of such bill. That the holding of court three miles from the court house of the county will necessitate great inconvenience and expense in the removal of the records and files of the several county offices from the county seat to Owosso, in time of the sessions of said court; that such removal will endanger the safety of such records and files; will be a great source of annoyance to the several county offices, to litigants and their attorneys and counsel, and will work no corresponding benefit to the county at large. We believe every consideration of public and private interest is opposed to the passage of said bill.

REPORTS OF SELECT COMMITTEES.

Your committee appointed to visit the Wayne County Asylum beg leave to respectfully report that they have made a strict and thorough examination of all the departments of the same.

The asylum is located on the line of the Michigan Central railroad, on a farm of 280 acres, the buildings being situated on a knoll well drained into the river Rouge. The buildings are of brick and stone, are solid and well built, ventilated and heated with steam. The wards are airy and well lighted, and there are private rooms on either side of the same for special cases. We find the apartments in excellent condition, and the patients are clean, comfortable and well kept. We find that there is every provision for safety in case of fire, and that a fire department with all the necessary apparatus is maintained. The water supply is good, and the institution is lighted by gas manufactured on the premises. The boiler house is situated about 200 feet from the institution, which contains all the modern improvements. The asylum is situated some 20 rods from the county house and is in charge of a resident medical superintendent and matron. It has a capacity of about 300 patients. There is a ward attendant to every 20 inmates.

We made an inquiry in regard to the cost of the buildings and we find that they represent an outlay of $70,000.

We are pleased to report that we find the institution in excellent condition in every respect, and well equipped in every particular to care for the insane.

No. 666. By Mr. Robinson: Protest of 168 citizens of the townships of Swan Creek, Fremont and St. Charles, in the county of Saginaw, against any legislation tending to change the free bridge over the Tittabawassee river.

On demand of Mr. Robinson,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

We, the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of the townships of Swan Creek, Fremont and St. Charles, county of Saginaw and State of Michigan, respectfully protest against any and all legislation tending to change the free bridge over the Tittabawassee river, about one mile east of Paine's Station, in the township of James, of said county, and known as the Merrill bridge, into a toll bridge, for the following reasons: We do not consider that the bridge belongs wholly to the township of James, as the county of Saginaw contributed $500 to the construction of the same, and the Tittabawassee Boom Co. contributed $2,000 to the same.

2d. We claim that a change from a free bridge to a toll bridge would be injurious to the county, as it would tend to stop the travel that the bridge now receives, and cause the same to go by the way of the State road bridge, about two miles up the river, which last named bridge is a toll bridge and owned by private persons; and the legislation asked is in the interest of private persons and not in the interest of the people at large.

3d. The township of Saginaw, in Saginaw county, is interested in said bridge to the amount of $500 expended in the approach to the same, at the north end of said bridge, which is in Saginaw town.

4th. Swan Creek, previous to the division of the above named township into the townships of James and Swan Creek, was interested in the original bridge, or the wooden bridge, which was built previous to the iron bridge, now constructed on the same place, to the amount of $3,000, and the said iron bridge now there is resting on one of the abutments of said wooden bridge, and some of the timbers in the south approach belonged to said wooden bridge.

No. 669. By Mr. Harry: Petition of taxpayers of the township of Norway, in the county of Menominee, praying for the passage of House bill No. 339.

On demand of Mr. Harry,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

We, the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of the township of Norway in the county of Menominee, respectfully ask your honorable body to pass House bill No. 339, entitled "A bill to authorize the electors of the township of Norway in the county of Menominee, in the State of Michigan, at the annual town meeting to be held on the first Monday of April, A. D. 1891, to raise by tax on the taxable property of said township certain moneys for the payment of certain township orders issued September 8, A. D. 1886, to John Perkins, together with the interest thereon, for the reason that said township of Norway is justly indebted to said John Perkins in the sum of $2,000 with interest thereon from the date of said orders, and as the law of this State now stands the township board of said township or the electors thereof are powerless to pay Mr. Perkins the amount of his due.

We respectfully represent that the facts relative to the issuance of said township orders are substantially as follows, viz.:

That in the year 1886, in the judgment of the township board of said township and of the commissioner of highways it became necessary to expend a large amount of money in the construction and repair of certain highways in said township, that the commissioner of highways caused the necessary amount of labor to be performed and materials furnished for the construction and repair of such roads and issue to the persons entitled thereto orders for the several amounts due for such labor and materials furnished aggregating some two thousand dollars, that the township treasury was in such condition that the said several orders could not be paid, that the township board following the precedents of several years decided to borrow the sum of two thousand dollars with which to pay its outstanding orders not at that time understanding that such board was powerless unless under the law to make such loan, that the township board after such determination borrowed of said John Perkins and actually received from him the said sum of two thousand dollars in money and for which it executed and delivered to him the aforesaid township orders for one thousand dollars each and that the said two thousand dollars was received from him and with which said highway orders were taken up and paid, thereby relieving the township from said obligations that at the maturity of said township orders certain taxpayers filed a bill in the circuit court for the county of Menominee, in chancery, and enjoined the payment of said township orders on the ground that they were issued by the township board of the township of Norway without authority of law thereby rendering the said township of Norway powerless to pay its just debts.

And your petitioners will ever pray.

No. 683. By Mr. Hiram Johnson: Remonstrance of Henry Merrill, supervisor of the township of Bennington, and 16 other taxpayers, against the holding of certain terms of the circuit court in the city of Owosso.

On demand of Mr. Johnson,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

Your petitioners would most respectfully represent that they are residents and taxpayers of the county of Shiawassee, in this State, and that it has been represented unto us that a bill is now pending in one of your honorable bodies, to provide for the holding of certain terms of the circuit court in the city of Owosso. Your petitioners do most respectfully protest against the passage of said bill, believing that no necessity exists for the enactment of any such law, and that such law is disapproved by a large majority of the taxpayers of this county, and if allowed to pass into law by your honorable body, would entail upon the people of this county a large expense in addition to ordinary expenses of running said court, which additional costs and expenses of running said court would, in the end, find their way to the tax rolls of this county, and taxation would be thereby increased, the burden of the people of the county would be made greater, and no corresponding public good resulting therefrom.

Your petitioners would further represent unto your honorable body that at the last session of the board of supervisors of this county, a resolution was presented by which it was proposed to submit to the electors of the county the question of moving the county seat from its present location in the city of Corunna, to the city of Owosso, and that said resolution was rejected by a vote of 5 for and 17 against said resolution.

Your petitioners do further represent that the facilities for holding said court where it is now located (in the city of Corunna, the county seat of said county), are ample and sufficient for all purposes; the court room is large, convenient and well lighted and heated; our county offices are first-class, each being provided with fire-proof vaults; the jail is first-class, having been built but a few years ago by the city of Corunna at a large expense to said city and donated to the county.

Your petitioners further show that the distance between the city limits of Owosso and Corunna is but one mile, and that it is only about ten minutes drive from the business center of Owosso to the court house in the city of Corunna; and further that the said cities are connected by two lines of railways, over which trains are running at all hours of the day. And we further show that the hotel accommodations at Corunna are first-class and amply sufficient for all who desire such accommodations.

JOINT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to section 1, article 9, of the constitution of this State, relative to the salaries of the Attorney General.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representative of the State of Michigan, That an amendment to section 1, of article 9, of the constitution of this State be and the same is hereby proposed to read as follows:

SECTION 1. The Governor shall receive an annual salary of four thousand dollars; the judges of the circuit court shall each receive an annual salary of two thousand five hundred dollars; the Attorney General shall receive an annual salary of two thousand five hundred dollars; the Secretary of State shall receive an annual salary of eight hundred dollars; the State Treasurer shall receive an annual salary of one thousand dollars; the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall receive an annual salary of one thousand dollars; the Commissioner of the Land office shall receive an annual salary of eight hundred dollars. They shall receive no fees or perquisites whatever for the performance of any duties connected with their office. It shall not be competent for the Legislature to increase the salaries herein provided;

Be it further resolved, That said amendments shall be submitted to the people of this State at the next spring election, on the first Monday of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, and the Secretary of State is hereby required to give notice of the same to the sheriff of the several counties of this State at least twenty days prior to said election, and the said sheriffs are required to give the several notices required by law, and the several townships and cities in this State shall prepare suitable boxes for the reception of ballots cast for or against said amendment. On demand of Mr. Johnson,

The petition was read at length and spread at length as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of Michigan:

Your petitioners would most respectfully represent unto you that we are members of the board of supervisors of Shiawassee, in this State, and that it has come unto us that a bill is now pending in the honorable bodies, to provide for the holding of certain term of court in the city of Owosso. Your petitioners do most respectfully represent unto you that we are opposed against the passage of said bill, believing that no enactment of any such law, and that such law is against the majority of the taxpayers of this county, and if allowed to pass by your honorable body, would entail upon the people of this county an expense in addition to ordinary expenses of running the county, additional costs and expenses of running said court, and at the end, find their way to the tax rolls of this county, and thereby increased, the burden of the people of this county made greater, and no corresponding public good resulting therefrom.

Your petitioners would further represent unto you that at the last session of the board of supervisors of this county it was presented by which it was proposed to submit to the county the question of moving the county seat from the city of Corunna, to the city of Owosso, and this proposition was rejected by a vote of 5 for and 17 against said resolution.

Your petitioners do further represent that the facilities for holding court where it is now located (in the city of Corunna, said county), are ample and sufficient for all purposes; the court room is large, convenient and well lighted and heated; our jury box, each being provided with fire-proof vaults; the building having been built but a few years ago by the city of Corunna, at an expense to said city and donated to the county.

Your petitioners further show that the distance between the city limits of Owosso and Corunna is but one mile, and that it is only about ten minutes drive from the business center of Owosso to the court house in the city of Corunna; and further that the said cities are connected by two lines of railways, over which trains are running at all hours of the day. And we further show that the hotel accommodations at Corunna are first-class and amply sufficient for all who desire such accommodations.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN,
DEPARTMENT OF MEDICINE AND SURGERY, }
Office of the Faculty, March 4, 1891.

To the Committee on Public Health, Dr. Ferguson, Chairman:

GENTLEMEN—At a meeting of the faculty of the department of medicine and surgery, held at this date, with full quorum, the following preamble and resolution were adopted by unanimous vote, and the Secretary was requested to transmit a copy to your honorable body:

WHEREAS, In the judgment of this faculty, the diploma of graduation in medicine, either in this college or in any medical college, is not a suitable proof of desirable qualification to practice pharmacy; and

WHEREAS, Pharmacy is a special pursuit requiring, for full safety of the public, special skill which the physician is not commonly trained to possess, and which the physician cannot generally be trained to possess in full without being diverted in part from his own proper and necessary training; therefore

Resolved, That we strongly disapprove of any modification of the pharmacy law of this State, whereby the graduates of this medical college, or the medical graduates of any college, should be admitted to the practice of pharmacy without the State examination of the board of pharmacy.

Secretary of Faculty.

No. 737. By Mr. Thatcher: Resolution of the faculty of the school of pharmacy of the University of the State of Michigan, in regard to permitting physicians to practice pharmacy without examination.

On demand of Mr. Thatcher,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN, SCHOOL OF PHARMACY, }
Ann Arbor, Mich., March 4, 1891.

To the Committee on Public Health, Dr. Ferguson, Chairman:

DEAR SIR—In the pharmacy law of Michigan, graduates of colleges and schools of pharmacy are not exempt from the State examination required before entering on pharmaceutical practice.

This provision of the law, in the judgment of the faculty of this school, is a most wholesome and beneficial provision, and is actually necessary to the continued success and even action of the law.

We of this faculty prefer to have our graduates examined by the State board. We want that board to know just how our graduates compare with graduates of colleges in other States, and with those who are not graduates. Such is the freedom of incorporation of colleges in many of the States, that where it is enacted that a diploma is enough, cheaper diplomas based on weaker requirements will appear, making college education a farce, to the discredit of the law and the injury of education. Boards of pharmacy find great embarrassment in undertaking to draw a line between competent schools and incompetent ones. For these reasons and from observation of results in other States and countries, every member of this faculty, from 1884 to the present time, has been strongly in favor of this feature of a pharmacy law, giving no release from State examinations to the holders of any diplomas whatever.

Dean of the Faculty.

Lecturer on Pharmacy and Secretary of the Faculty.

O. C. JOHNSON,

No. 738. By Mr. Gregory: Petition of a number of citizens of Michigan, asking for the creation of a food commission.

On demand of Mr. Gregory,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

The undersigned citizens of Michigan respectfully petition your honorable body to follow the example of Ohio, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and other States, and create a food commission for the State of Michigan. The people of this State are paying many thousands of dollars yearly for adulterated food products which are sold for one reason only: to allow some one an unreasonable and undeserved profit. The sale of such products is an outrage upon producer and customer alike, and the cost of supporting a commission which will relieve the people of the State of the extortions practiced will be saved many times, besides providing a purer food supply, the value of which cannot be estimated in dollars and cents.

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

We, the undersigned citizens of Crawford county, Michigan, being interested in the laws for the protection, propagation and preservation of birds, game and fish, and knowing that there is a sentiment in certain portions of the State that is opposed to the enforcement of the present game and fish law and in favor of the abolishment of the office of game and fish warden, do hereby respectfully remonstrate and protest against the repeal of said law, but that it may be strengthened for the better protection of the birds, game and fish of this State.

No. 741. By Mr. Daff: Petition of Wm. Bolton, of Alpena, pertaining to the appropriation of $50,000 for the proposed National G. A. R. encampment to be held at Detroit.

On demand of Mr. Dafoe,

The petition was read at length, and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Legislature of the State of Michigan:

GENTLEMEN—Your petitioner is of the belief that your honorable body is about to donate to the city of Detroit the sum of $50,000 to aid the citizens of that wealthy metropolis in giving a free entertainment to a worthy society known as the G. A. R. some time during the coming summer. This encampment is held mostly for the pleasure of those who attend. They meet at Detroit to have a good time, and your petitioner sincerely hopes all who attend will enjoy themselves. A great many thousand persons will go to Detroit at the time the encampment is held. These visitors will spend a vast amount of money in Detroit. It will thus be of great pecuniary benefit to Detroit citizens. To help this jollification meeting, and to lighten the burdens that would fall on wealthy Detroit citizens for entertaining the visitors, and for decorating the streets, buildings, etc., your honorable body has been asked to tax the people of this State, who are not in the least benefited by the celebration, the sum of $50,000.

Now, if your honorable body can lawfully grant the request for paying a part of the G. A. R. celebration expenses, then your honorable body can grant certain sums to aid other society celebrations. One society has just as much right to a share of the public funds as another, and if the G. A. R. organization is rightfully entitled to public aid in assisting to make their celebration a success, then any other society in Michigan has the same right to have a part of the public funds for like pleasure purposes.

Your petitioner, therefore, asks your honorable body to grant the sum of $10,000 to aid in making the National Convention of Bicyclists, which assemblies at Detroit this year, a grand success. It is certain that several thousand wheelmen will be present, and the parading of so many wheelmen will be an interesting sight.

If the State of Michigan can donate money to help the G. A. R., then it can also donate money to assist the Bicycle National Convention. Both are gatherings for pleasure. Both societies meet to have an enjoyable time. Their chief purpose is enjoyment, recreation, pleasure and jollification, and it is hoped by your petitioner that each society will succeed in their laudable undertakings.

Your petitioner also respectfully asks that your honorable body will make an appropriation to aid in the celebration of the next 4th of July. This is a most worthy and patriotic object. It will not only furnish a day of pleasure to all the people of Michigan, but it will also admirably serve to keep alive the sacred fires of patriotism. For this noble purpose your honorable body is asked to appropriate the sum of $1,000 to each county in the State for every 1,000 inhabitants in each county.

If your honorable body is going into the amusement business, you might as well do it justly and impartially by serving all societies alike, and not be partial to any one society. Besides, if the great and glorious State of Michigan desires to encourage amusements, she should do so in a manner worthy of so wealthy a State, and a paltry $50,000 is too insignificant a sum for the great State of Michigan to properly celebrate as becomes her rank among the bright gems of Columbia.

If Michigan is going to have a jollification, let her have a grand one, and let it be so arranged that all her people can have a good time, and when the historian comes to write her history for this year, he can truly term 1891 as the Michigan year of jollification.

Let us whoop it up all along the line, from one end of the State to the other. Let us have a year of jubilee and enjoyment, even if the sheriffs have to sell the State at foreclosure sale to pay the expenses.

Yours respectfully,

WM. BOULTON.

On demand of Mr. Baker,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

Madison Township, March 11, 1891.

To the Hon. L. C. Baker, Lansing, Mich.:

DEAR SIR—At a meeting of the township board of this township held this day the following resolutions were unanimously passed:

WHEREAS, A bill has been introduced in the House of Representatives to amend the charter of the city of Adrian and containing a clause detaching certain territory from this township and annexing the same to the city of Adrian; therefore be it

Resolved, That we earnestly protest against the passage of the bill so far as it relates to said clause, for the following reasons:

First, The growth of the city does not warrant an extension of territory.

Second, A majority of the resident taxpayers of said territory are opposed to the annexation, having with but two exceptions (and their total assessed valuation being but $700), signed a remonstrance against said annexation, which accompanies these resolutions;

Third, The property in said territory being owned by the widow and laboring man who deem that the advantages derived from annexation will not offset the increased taxation, which in said territory last year was 92 cents on $100, while in the city it was over $2, or more than double;

Fourth, The signers to the petition presented to the common council of the city of Adrian were composed largely of non-residents of said territory and non-taxpayers;

Fifth, The common council so manipulated matters that a certain piece of land owned jointly by the present mayor of the city and an ex-mayor, and which was included in the original petition to that body, was left out and in order to do so and keep the boundary straight the line had to be drawn through the center of the lands of four different parties, leaving their lands partly in this township and partly in the city;

Sixth, If it is an injustice to place the lands of the mayor and an ex-mayor (men having good incomes from their professions) in the city thereby more than doubling their taxes, it is certainly an injustice to compel the widow and the laboring man to pay sa lands in the city;

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions

No. 819. By Mr. Buell: Protest of Ovid Alliance, Branch county, in reference to the appropriation of $50,000 to aid in defraying the expenses of the national G. A. R. encampment to be held at Detroit.

On demand of Mr. Buell,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

Protest of the committee of Ovid Alliance No. 7, of Branch county, against the expression that that alliance is opposed to an appropriation for the national encampment G. A. R. at Detroit:

At a regular meeting of Ovid Alliance No. 7 in the township of Ovid March 5, 1891, a committee of three was appointed to draft an article for publication to counteract the impression caused by the publication of an item in the Coldwater Sun bearing date Feb. 12, 1891, in regard to the position of the Farmer's Alliance upon the appropriation of fifty thousand dollars for the G. A. R. encampment to be held at Detroit in August, 1891. The article referred to reads as follows: "A remonstrance against appropriating $50,000 of the people's money to defray Detroit's expenses in entertaining the G. A. R. at their coming encampment was also placed on record." Ovid Alliance No. 7 most heartily condemns the manner in which such resolution was sprung upon the delegates of said convention,

WHEREAS, The Societé St. Jean Baptiste of this city, having a membership of 100, feel that it is incumbent upon us as citizens of the iron region of the upper peninsula to take action on the proposed legislation at Lansing to increase the tax on iron ore; therefore be it Resolved, That the Societé St. Jean Baptiste of this city do respectfully protest against the passage of any of the bills now pending at Lansing to increase the tax on iron ore, and that we ask our representatives there to do all in their power to prevent the passage of any such acts, as we believe they will be suicidal to our vital interests.

Resolved, That we believe that the iron companies now pay an excess of the taxes that should be partly apportioned to them, and we not only believe, but know, that if any increase in tax on the production of iron mines should take place it would be detrimental to our best interests, be disastrous to this portion of the peninsula and the eventual suffering of many of the laboring men in our midst, on account of the consequent reduction of wages that must ensue should such acts pass.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be at once forwarded to our representatives at Lansing.

On demand of Mr. Bullock,

The petition was read at length and spread at large on the Journal as follows:

To the Honorable House of Representatives of the State of Michigan:

Your petitioners would most respectfully represent that they are thresher men and farmers. And we see by the press of the State, that a bill has passed the Senate, requiring inspection and examination of all steam engines. We, your petitioners, believing such a law would cause unnecessary expense and add no safety thereto, therefore we most respectfully protest against the passage of said bill by your honorable body.

REPORTS OF SELECT COMMITTEES.

By the special committee on the Detroit House of Correction:

On February 24, 1891, a communication was received by the Speaker of this House requesting that a committee of five be appointed to visit the Detroit House of Correction and examine the workings of that institution to the end that this honorable body might be fully informed on questions relative to the mode and management of all penal institutions in this State, and thereby be better able to deal with questions of prison labor and management that might come before you.

In pursuance of this request a resolution was adopted that the request be granted and a special committee of five was appointed and we therefore beg leave to report the result of our investigation in pursuance of said request and resolution.

On March 6, 1891, your committee visited the Detroit House of Correction and made a thorough investigation into all the workings, management and details of the same. We found the institution was being conducted on sound business principles (without any unnecessary red tape) which could be easily understood and investigated by any one. Every part of the institution was conducted with a system and method which was perfect in its working.

By an examination of the books we found that every penny received or disbursed by the institution appeared on said books, setting forth the source from which it came or for what disbursed, and that the institution was self sustaining, having turned over to the city treasurer of Detroit $20,000 during the year 1890, notwithstanding, as it appeared to your committee, everything was being done that could be done to improve its reformatory methods and better the lives of its inmates. The library is well filled with standard works and an opportunity offered all those who desire to improve themselves in education. Religious exercises are conducted in a large and commodious chapel every Sabbath by the several ministers of the city of Detroit. Every facility is offered for spiritual, mental and moral improvement for those who desire to improve and reform in their conduct.

We found the most perfect cleanliness in every part of the institution, its hospitals for the sick well ventilated and with excellent sanitary arrangements, its dietary well prepared, the most wholesome food, neat and clean. We found the institution well equipped in every department and most heartily commend its management. The high standing and character of Superintendent Nicholson, his matronly wife, and the interest manifested by them in this institution, need no comment from your committee, and especially to those who have known anything of the history of this institution for the past few years, and their efforts to improve and reform the unfortunate ones who from time to time have been confined in this prison, are entitled to the highest praise.

In conclusion, we respectfully submit the foregoing report for the use and benefit of this House and ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the matter.
